MRS. EDGAR P. HAY RECEIVES TREASURY CITATION from F. W. Denio, State chairman, War Finance Committee. Left to right, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, chairman Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co.; Mr. Denio, Mrs. Hay, Mrs. K. C. Atticks, chairman of the bond booth at the Newton Centre office of the bank.

An afternoon tea was given by the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Edgar P. Hay. Mrs. Hay is Chairman of the Women's Division, Newton War Finance Committee. Attending the event were representatives of the War Finance Committee of the Newton villages and volunteer workers who regularly staff the War Bond Booth at the Newton Centre office of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co. Representing the bank were Seward W. Jones, president; Frank L. Richardson, executive vice president and Miss Ruth Burns, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, chairman of the Advisory Committee remarked briefly on the excellent work Mrs. Hay has been doing for the past 3 years. She introduced Mr. Seward Jones who expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Hay and to the Women's Division for the valuable assistance and cooperation they had given Mrs. Hay.

Mr. Jones recalled that he and Mr. Richardson and the Newton Trust Company had been active in the sale of Liberty Bonds in 1918. He said that during World War I the amount of Liberty

How Increased Gasoline Will Be Distributed

The recently announced increase in gasoline for civilians will mean about 10 per cent more gas in the pumps at filling stations. This is a long way from all the gasoline the public would like to buy. "A" coupons will be good for six gallons instead of four, and more gas will be given to certain motorists eligible for "B" coupons. But Boards will still have to say no to many car owners. Gasoline must continue to be rationed strictly. Sunday driving isn't back.

Program Changes

Basically, this increase in gasoline supply permits three specific changes in the gasoline rationing.

1. Increase the value of the "A" coupons—This will be done simply by increasing the value of the "A-16" coupon which becomes valid on June 22 to six gallons. This will permit an average of 180 miles of driving per month on the basic "A" ration, a 50 per cent increase as previously indicated.

2. Raise the "B" ceiling nationwide to 650 miles per month—This change, which becomes effective June 11, will equalize the "B" ceiling in all parts of the country. Although not all "B" ration holders will be affected by the raise

Birthday Of Old Glory

Next Thursday is Flag Day, the birthday of Old Glory. Many communities have completed plans for the observance of the anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes on June 14, 1777, as the emblem of the United States. With that date began the history of our flag as a symbol of our nationality.

On this Flag Day of 1945, it is not enough that Americans shall appreciate the meaning of the flag for them and for the world; they must also measure their own conduct by the flag, and all for which it stands. The duty of the man in the armed forces is hard and clear; those who stand behind the fighting front have the easier part and, for that very reason, must not fail at any point.

Intrinsically beautiful, symbolically something more than beautiful, the Stars and Stripes should fly from every staff every day in these times. By so doing we are expressing allegiance to our flag and giving evidence that we truly value our citizenship.

Japs Buy War Bonds Too

More than 80,000,000 Japs live with one determination—to crush the United States in this war.

Japanese on their home front are willing to work long hours to supply weapons for their armies. They have stripped living conditions to bare essentials to furnish their government money with which to pay for the war. Trained to believe they must win or face destruction, every Jap is prepared to sacrifice his home, his money, his family and himself.

To beat the Japs, Americans must match and better their efforts. Our armed forces must have more of all war materials than has the enemy.

Americans must therefore exceed the Japanese in raising money to buy the weapons of war. The Seventh War Loan quota of $238,000,000 for individuals in Massachusetts must be subscribed. Early success of this great money raising venture will prove our determination to win the Pacific war, will show our determination to be just as great as that of the Japs.

Politics With Color

Local CIO's

A Boston paper started something a week ago, possibly without knowing it. The following statement appeared in a political article written by a shrewd commentator. "For example, there is in Brookline what is known as the Brookline Citizens Public Affairs Committee, headed by Prof. Harrison L. Harley. This is a PAC, but instead of political action is becomes public affairs; but it is still difficult to distinguish from the old PAC and its membership is largely from the same group. Similar units are functioning in Cambridge and Fall River and in probably as many as 25 others Massachusetts communities. These local committees propose to become just as actively engaged in undertaking to run their local governments as Sidney Hillman and his associates are in directing the Congress and the White House."

Well, that started me off on a bit of research. I located this Prof. Harley on the phone and had quite a chat with him. He was most disturbed over the article just mentioned and made it clear that he was displeased with it. He has written a letter to the editor of the paper which published it and advised him that the facts are NOT as stated. The chief point he made was that the Brookline Committee is very definitely NOT a branch of the CIO and never has been. The Brookline organization was formed about December, 1942, a full year and a half before the PAC of the CIO made its bow to the public. It takes no orders from the CIO and does not propose to.

Now, what has this Brookline unit done in the recent past? Last fall it endorsed the late President Roosevelt and also the present Governor Tobin. It did not endorse either of the two candidates for Congress from that district. It gave some quiet support to ur present Congressman, Hon. Christian A. Herter and did the same thing for United States Senator Leverett Saltonstall. Locally, it did NOT participate in the Brookline Town election in March, 1945. No reason was given me, but I can make a very shrewd guess, if anybody cares to inquire.

There was an interesting sequel to my chat with Prof. Harley, who, incidentally, had indicated that his organization had found some difficulty in obtaining much publicity in Brookline. A member of their publicity committee phoned me less than twenty-four hours after I had written a long column in a Brookline paper, devoted almost entirely to this so-called CIO unit. She assured me that there HAD been publicity about the committee and she asked me to assist her in getting a story published this week about President Truman's policy. Needless to state, I offered to co-operate.

The reason why I have gone into all this detail is simple. I am curious to know if any similar organization exists in Newton. If there is such a committee, is our committee tied up with the CIO or is it, as in Brookline, a completely independent, tho' similar outfit?

The Boston Democrats

There is a great deal of political excitement brewing in Boston. Gov. Tobin is not on speaking terms with Mayor Kerrigan, due, apparently, to the latter's fishy business trip earlier this year, when he suddenly disappeared and could not be located for several days. Most of the well-informed politicians believe they know the answer, but it is hardly flattering to Mayor Kerrigan. The latter has just bounced out of office several appointees of Gov. Tobin. Among these is Joe Dever, brother of Paul Dever, who came so close to defeating Leverett Sitonstall for Governor a few short years ago. Accordingly, the many friends of Paul Dever are extremely sore.

Now, go a step farther and consider what will happen when Paul Dever is discharged from the U. S. Navy in the coming months. His friends were reported to have done little if anything for Mr. Tobin last fall. Mr. Tobin represented a serious threat to a Dever come-back in the political arena. Will these two Democrat stalwarts face each other in the primaries next fall, when a nominee for Governor is to be selected? Or will one of the two run for U. S. Senator? After all, Senator Walsh is getting along in years and cannot be expected to stay in office indefinitely. However, if Senator Walsh decides to run again, either Gov. Tobin or Paul Dever will be out of luck. They cannot both win the gubernatorial nomination.

Where does all this leave Mayor Kerrigan? He has incurred the enmity of Gov. Tobin and Paul Dever and, of course, of the redoubtable James M. Curley, who also proposes to be the next Mayor of Boston. How does he expect to be elected Mayor? Curiously enough, there are many Boston Republicans who are planning to vote for Kerrigan. The reason for this is not entirely clear to me. However, that bloc of votes plus a big bloc of city employees plus Kerrigan's normal support may pull him through. He is very definitely not a big man, but he is to be preferred to Curley any day.

Race Discrimination Bill

I will hazard a guess that our Legislature will NOT pass the Curtis bill or any other bill this year. Be on the look-out for a harmless resolve, expressing sympathy with the aims of the bill.

TEEN-AGE

by MARV. GOULD and LEE TYLER

(This is to be the last issue of Teen Age until next September as many Teen Agers will be away during vacation and not many Teen Age activities will be in progress. Mary and Lee.)

We understand that the summer vocations of the members of Newton High School's Coaching Staff are as listed below. The following are going to camp: Coaches Connors, Walters, Simmons, Sanborn, Boyle, Harris, and Gallagher. Coach Warren Huston will be playing baseball for Columbus of the American Association. Coach "Jeff" Jones will be scouting for the Braves in addition to directing the Braves Morning Training School. Coach Considine will be connected with the hotel business. . . . 708 inmates of N. H. S. will leave their cells in Buildings I and III tomorrow and will receive their release in the form of parchment which is often referred to as a Diploma. Good luck graduates and the best of wishes to all of you. We being Juniors are just jealous. . . . Just think, two more actual days of school at N. H. S. and then nothing but peace and quiet just like 127 is after 2:15. The Newton Student Canteen is holding an entertainment, the proceeds of which are to go towards buying jackets for our State Championship Track Team. . . . Dick Finn wanted to see his name in print just once so we are obliging. . . . This year's Newtonian won't be out until September 7. . . . The members of The Canteen have elected their officers for next year. . . . Eugenie Tappan went to the circus with three boys (two of them were a little under age). . . . Quite a few Sophomore and Junior boys are to work at Camp Frank A. Day this summer. . . . Bob Fowler must have taken plenty of vitamin pills in preparation for the long hours he spent taking four aptitude tests. . . . All the girls are wondering what happened to the great Steve Harrington who's been missing at the Totem Pole lately. (Have you been drafted, Stevie?) . . . Hope the weather man sends sunshine Saturday for Graduation. . . . Bob Thomas, former Co-Captain of the Cheerleading Squad, has entered the Army. . . . Newton High's ace hockey player, well known due to his being the man to have the most penalties in schoolboy hockey series, Anthony Sonsini, is scheduled to leave for the Armed Forces June 21st after receiving his diploma. Tony also played for the football team. . . . We will be writing for you again next September. See all of you then.

Bonds sold was equal to $700 for every man, woman and child in Newton.

Mr. Jones introduced F. W. Denio, State Chairman of the War Finance Committee.

Mr. Denio remarked on the outstanding job Newton has done in the seven war loans. He complimented Mr. Jones on his leadership in the 1918 loan drives. He said that the state committee never worried about what Newton had to do, the results were always gratifying. He paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Hay's energy and ability. "One thing about Newton," said Mr. Denio, "it doesn't particularly concern itself with the credit due it, its only purpose is to see that the war ends quickly." He then presented Mrs. Hay with a Treasury Citation signed by Henry Morganthau, in recognition of her patriotic services in connection with the War Finance Committee. He also presented Mrs. Hay with a War Stamp Corsage on behalf of the State War Finance Committee.

Mrs. Hay thanked the Bank's Advisory Committee for the enjoyable tea, and mentioned the courteous treatment extended to every member of her committee by the bank and its employees. In acknowledging the honor conferred upon her by the U. S. Treasury Department, Mrs. Hay said, "I accept this citation with pleasure in the name of the volunteers who have staffed the Bank Booths and schools, throughout the city for the past 3 years. Between 400 and 500 women are serving on our committees. They represent the various Women's Clubs of the city under the sponsorship of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs."

Mrs. Hay stated that the booth at the Newton Centre branch of the bank, staffed 10 months of the year, had sold over $735,000. in E, F and G Bonds since March 1942. The total sale for all bank booths, regular and during drives, was over four million dollars. Newton schools during the same period have sold nearly a million dollars in war bonds and stamps.

Mrs. Hay concluded her remarks by saying "You have been serving your country and have assisted the banks in serving the country. I had planned to resign as chairman at the end of the 'Mighty Seventh' campaign. However, I feel that the country needs our services now, more than ever before and that it is my duty to continue in the work we are doing. I sincerely hope that you all feel the same way about it."

Mrs. Albert Hutchinson, former chairman of the Bank's Women's Advisory Committee, was in charge of the affair.

Rotary Club

—o—

At the Rotary Club meeting last Friday Howard Selby introduced the speaker, the Reverend Darley Downs, a missionary and long time resident of Japan. Mr. Downs described his experiences as an internee in the various internment camps in the Phillipines. Due to his knowledge of the Japanese language he was the official interpreter of of the camp, so that he had daily contacts with the Japanese officials. Mr. Downs was reluctant to venture any guesses as to the prospects of a short or long war against Japan. He felt, however, that the present Emperor of Japan was quite unhappy, being dominated by military cliques, and that once Tokio had been invaded he might well serve as a symbol and rallying point for those elements of the Japanese people who were opposed to the war-like aims and brutal policies of the present ruling class.

June Musicale

—o—

The pupils of Ethel Dewey held their June musicale at her home on Fairmont avenue, Sunday afternoon at five o'clock. Those playing were Leslie Phinney, Patty Trundle, Martha Stickney, Janet Levekelian, Lynn Van Wyngardan, Carolyn Bedell and Robert Levekelian of Newton. Rose Rowley, Faith Weden, Charles Collins and Russell Winslow of Auburndale.

Gasoline—

in the ceiling, it is estimated that about 3½ million applicants out of approximately 8 million will be entitled to increases. Inasmuch as many "B" ration holders now are granted sufficient gasoline to meet their occupational needs, as in the case of home to work travel, their supplementary rations will not be raised.

Those entitled to increases in their "B" rations will be able to get them by applying to their local Boards after June 11.

An applicant having a ration issued at the old "B" ceiling for his area, upon proving his additional need to the Board may receive a ration up to a ceiling of 650 miles per months. He will be granted an additional number of coupons, representing the difference between his current ration and the amount he is entitled to receive at his new ceiling for the remaining period of his current ration. If the earliest renewal date comes within 30 days of the date of application, the Board will at the same time issue him a regular renewal for three months from the earliest renewal date of the current ration. This is done in order to avoid having the applicant file twice within a period of a month.

3. Elimination of windshield stickers (A, B, C and T)—This action is being taken at this time for several reasons. With an increase in the "B" ceiling, many persons who in the past have been issued "C" rations will now be issued "B." There will be too many cases of this kind to warrant adding to the present workload of Boards and Mailing Centers the tremendous task of supplying new stickers, particularly since the higher "B" ceiling will make the difference from the "C" ration less meaningful and since the ration folder identifies the vehicle and the class of ration issued for it.

Reason for Changes

Obviously, the two groups that have been most severely curtailed during the war are (1) "A" book holders, and (2) persons who must use cars for driving within the limits of the "B" ceiling. The present changes will still not grant these groups all they want but do grant all that is available to them under current supply conditions. Persons whose services are considered wholly essential to the prosecution of the war, the public health and public safety will continue to get unlimited "C" mileage.

Gasoline Still Goes to War

Military demands will continue to be great. Although it may be difficult to realize, all evidence shows that combined oil and gasoline requirements for the war against the Japanese will be almost as great as they were for the two front war before V-E Day. More widespread Naval activity and the longer hauls necessitated by the war in the Pacific, as well as the tremendous aerial warfare being planned, will keep military needs at a high point.

There have been rumors to the effect that storage tanks are overflowing in various parts of the country. In some instances this may be true, but this is far from the general case. Sudden withdrawals can change situations of this kind overnight. There is no forward storage in the Pacific to compare with the many millions of barrels of tankage in England. As a result, whatever storage there is must be in this country and the pipelines to the front are the hundreds of tankers carrying petroleum products.

Continuing Need for Careful Rationing

This increase in supply does not mean that the "lid is off" on gasoline rationing. There remains a greater need today for careful rationing than at almost any time during the war.

Auburndale Man Mentioned In Sat. Eve. Post Story

—o—

Lt. Col. Edgar A. Jett, of Auburndale, is mentioned in the June 9 issue of The Saturday Evening Post as being a highly successful administrator in the military governing of the state of Luxemburg since its recapture. The part he played is described by Collie Small in his article "Gingerbread Kingdom."

NEWTON In The Past

Newton Graphic, June 6, 1890

The two old elms on Washington street, Newton, now being cut down by order of the City Fathers, to widen the entrance of Bellevue street, having given their shade and beauty to Newton for nearly a century, deserve a parting notice. They are two of a row of fine large elms which used to shade Washington street, standing on the North side, from Church to Crafts streets, making a charming drive or walk through the summer in the old times when this part of Newton was but a country village called Angier's Corner. They were planted by Major Timothy Jackson of Revolutionary fame in 1793, and held in their places while being planted by his oldest son, William Jackson, then a boy 10 years old, well remembered by the older residents of the city as one of Newton's benefactors. All but three of these fine elms have now given place to the march of improvements in the city. E. D. J.

It probably has not yet dawned upon the minds of our people what a noble institution the Cottage Hospital is becoming. To say but little of the fact that it has already treated nearly 500 cases since it was opened, and that it has gained a reputation far and wide for skilful care of its patients by physicians and nurses, it is now on the eve of additions that will make it still better equipped for good work. Contracts are shortly to be made for three new wards for contagious cases.

A communication was received by the board from Daniel A. White announcing his retirement from the office of comptroller of accounts as of May 31, as he has reached the retirement age of 70. On motion of Alderman Theodore Lockwood, President Joseph Jamieson appointed Aldermen Lockwood, Albert P. Everts and John E. Barwise as a committee to recommend a candidate for the office of Comptroller. In presenting the motion Alderman Lockwood declared that the retirement of Comptroller White was a matter of great regret. Comptroller White has offered to remain on the job until his successor becomes familiarized with the work.

An order for the closing of City Hall on Saturdays for the period from June 16 to September 1, inclusive, was passed by the board giving the mayor authority to rescind the order at any time without notice.

An ordinance extending sick leave regulations to include city laborers, workmen and mechanics was adopted by the board.

The board appropriated the sum of $1000 to finance the summer session at the Newton High School for veterans of World War II.

An appropriation was made of $680.40 for the pension of Albert R. Foley who is retiring from the employ of the Street Department.

Action was deferred on a recommendation of the mayor that $830 be appropriated for improvement of the drainage condition at the fire station on Beacon street, Newton Lower Falls.

A petition for the repeal of the one-way traffic regulation on Sumner street, Newton Centre and for prohibiting parking on the east side of the street between Willow and Beacon streets, was rejected by the board, who also voted "no action necessary" on a proposal that parking of autos be prohibited on the east side of Centre street opposite Centre avenue.

A recommendation by Sgt. William H. Dowling, head of the Police Traffic Bureau, that a regulation requiring traffic to stop on Ward street before entering Manet road, Chestnut Hill be enacted, was adopted by the board.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Bill—Pass me the sugar will you, Junior?

Junior—Here, Dad—oh, wait a minute, I want some for my cereal!

Jane—Say, the way you two use sugar! No wonder I have so little for baking.

Junior—Oh gee, Mum—can't a fella have some on his cereal?

Jane—Sure thing. But look, I cooked some raisins in the cereal this morning to make it sweet. If you had tasted it, you would have found you could have used a lot less. I'm going to do this right along now; I think I'll also try prunes and dates in the cereal.

Junior—Hmmm—it is good. O.K. I'll save on the sugar tomorrow morning.

Bill—Are we getting low on the sugar supply, Jane?

Jane—Yes, and the new sugar coupon Stamp 36 is going to have to last us four months instead of three. That means a little more than 1 lb. or about 3 cups per person per month.

Bill—Well, I'm not very heavy on sugar.

Jane—Oh Bill, how can you talk that way?

Junior—You're in for it too, Dad.

Jane—Yes, Bill, you always put two heaping tablespoons in your coffee. Then the worst part of it is, that some of it never gets dissolved and I find it in the bottom of the cup when I wash the dishes.

Bill—Well, I suppose I am careless. If you think you can make us a cake once in a while, if we check this waste, I'll do my part.

Junior—Me too, Mum.

Townships section of Quebec, where the "horse and buggy days" still continue, and where one can relax in the beautiful scenery and the old-fashioned, rural ways of life of that region. If we live on and circumstances permit, we plan to resume these enjoyable vacations.

—o—

In the "Boston Sunday Post" on May 13 was a map showing a plan for New England Postwar Airports as presented to Congress by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. One of the proposed airports was shown to be located in Newton. Nearly 20 years ago the then Building Commissioner of this city, on his own authority, granted a permit for the erection of large structures to screen gravel on land off Wiswall Lane, Oak Hill, near the West Roxbury line. Such a permit lasted for only one year, and its renewal application had to be acted on by the Board of Aldermen. The writer happened to be a member of the Public Works committee of the Aldermen at that time, and when the owner of the gravel company which had started at Oak Hill, came before the committee, instead of applying for a one year renewal, as had been the custom in similar cases, he applied for a 5 years renewal. As we had already listened to protests from officials fo the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, due to the noise of trucks to and from the gravel pits, we opposed the 5 years extension of the permit and had it limited to the customary 1 year term..

At that time the owner of the gravel pit property told the committee, in answer to a question, that there were about 1,000,000 tons of sand and gravel on the property to be excavated, and it would take about 5 years to do so. The permit was renewed from year to year during the ensuing 5 years, and then when further applications were made, Ex-Alderman John Temperly protested, backing up protests of his Ward 5 constituents in the Oak Hill section. He informed the Board of Aldermen that the gravel company had dug the sand and gravel out of the land it owned, and had then extended its operations onto the Wiswall farm adjoining. Later the excavating was extended onto another large farm property nearby, until eventually a huge area was denuded of soil and changed to unsightly gravel pits.

A couple of then members of the Aldermen espoused the efforts of the gravel pit owner to have his permit continued — and they succeeded for a few years. In the meantime protests from Oak Hill residents had been growing, and eventually the Aldermen refused to renew the permit. Then the gravel pit owner resorted to litigation against the city and obtained an injunction forbidding the city to interfere with the operations there. A master was appointed to obtain the evidence in the case and many, many months passed before he made a decision. Later the Aldermen passed a traffic ordinance forbidding heavy truck traffic on the Oak Hill streets, but the gravel pit owner countered by obtaining another injunction against that ordinance, and the removal of gravel from the extensive area continued for years.

Several years ago, before the war, we noticed an item in a Boston newspaper which stated that Congress planned to appropriate some money to purchase the gravel-pit area at Oak Hill as a site for an airport. We gave publicity to this fact in the "Graphic" and subsequently the Oak Hill improvement Association held a public meeting of protest.

It was then revealed that a committee had been officially appointed to consider the use of this land as an airport, and one Alderman who was present at the meeting of the Improvement Association, quite frankly stated that the objections of the residents of that district to such as airport would not cause him to oppose it.

So, from the information published in the "Sunday Post" map two weeks ago, those who are planning to establish an airport at Oak Hill, are still busy with Congress. If residents of Oak Hill, Center don't want airplanes (including probably the new and noisy type rocket type) flying to and from an airport at Oak Hill in future years, they too, had better get busy, and quickly so.

The Metropolitan District Planning Board has under consideration plans for big changes in the park area along the Charles between Newton and Faneuil, and along the Watertown side. "Parking" areas for many motor-boats, bath houses, and attractively shrubbed areas are proposed.

This area certainly has changed during the past half century. When the writer was a boy, the Charles to the Watertown dam was tidal. The river was deep when the tide was high, and foul-smelling mud flats when the tide was low. We youngsters of those days could only swim in the river between Newton and Faneuil when the tide was up. And then we were apt to get covered with tar which floated down from the gas works at Watertown, and plenty of gore floated upstream from the nearby Brighton abbatoir.

The hero of the young swimmers in those long-passed years was John Leavitt of Newton, who died recently. He was then the professional swimmer of the country, and later became a good mile and half-mile runner. When Jack was in training, he would swim at Bullough's Pond when the tide was low in the Charles, and then hike with his small admirers 3 miles toward Faneuil to resume his swimming in the larger area afforded by the wide river basin.

be putting that great moment on history's front pages one of these not too distant days. That's certain and then you'll come home. Time then, as always, will march on, but your marching, fighting, the hardships and all the rest of war's tough grind, will be yours only as you travel down memory lane.

What's Cookin' in Newton, too, will be only a memory in the years to come. A memory that everyone connected with its publication hopes will be pleasant and enduring. The brain chlid of Roy Edwards, who put the idea of a hometown newspaper for Newton's servicemen and women before the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, it was accepted enthusiastically by both organizations.

Benjamin Louis, succeeded, later, by Walter Hood, was its first general chairman. It was Ben who obtained the majority of your overseas addresses. Sixty per cent of them, incidentally, were obtained from the churches you attend. Philip Ahlin, Editor of the Graphic, is also editor of What's Cokin,' and Bill Sullivan, manager of Hod's Bemis plant, does the sports. Members of both Rotary and KiKwanis contribute news articles and Roy Edwards acts as advisor to the board. Ruth Aldrich, the board's secretary, takes care of the enormous job of keeping your addresses straight.

That's the history of What's Cookin' and the manner in which it is operated. The general idea is to put it together in a style that will please, entertain and inform a warrior, far from home, of the hometown's doings. Its been a pleasure riding the Merry-Go-Round each issue and if you have derived even a fractional part of the same, we're all even.

NEWTON CENTRE IMPROVEMENTS DISCUSSED AT "TOWN MEETING"

Crystal Lake and adequate parking facilities for Newton Square were major topics of debate at the "town meeting" of Newton Centre Improvement Association in the Newton Centre Woman's club on May 28.

With Otis D. Fellows, Association president, acting as Moderator, nearly 250 Newton Centre residents, Mayor Paul M. Goddard, aldermen and city officials debated plans for future improvement in the Centre.

A proposal to stock Crystal Lake and open it for fishing to Newton residents brought a divergence of opinion. On the motion to approve stocking the lake the membership was equally divided and no action was taken.

Paul H. Pierce aroused considerable interest in his report as chairman of the Association's planning committee. He had a large amp in colors, showing the various business, industrial and residential areas and pointed out the sections where a motion picture theatre might be constructed in the Centre.

Herbert J. Kellaway opened considerable discussion in the matter of having the ice house property on Center Street purchased by the city for the purpose of adding it to the Crystal Lake park system. The meeting went on record as favoring the purchase.

The following officers were re-elected: Otis D. Fellows, president; Melville D. Liming, vice president; Raymond C. Baker, secretary, and Lucius C. Chandler, treasurer. Directors for three years were as follows: Walter I. Muldoon, Paul H. Pierce and William H. Rice.

MISS WALTHER ASSUMES NEW DUTIES

On May 31, the resignation of Miss Esther Walther, executive secretary of the Newton Community Council became effective and she assumed her new duties as executive secretary of the American Epilepsy League, Inc., with headquarters in Boston.

As a child, Miss Walther lived in Newton and attended the public schools. Later she went to Brentwood Hall, and then on to Mount St. Mary's Academy in New Hampshire. After her graduation from Perry Normal Kindergarten School, she did volunteer settlement work in Boston for two years. During her school holidays she traveled quite extensively in France with her family.

It was in 1937 that she became a member of the Newton Community Chest, then under the executive leadership of Liscomb Bruce. Her tireless energy kept her forever loking for more things to do and earned for her, in 1942, the appointment as executive secretary of the Newton Community Council. In her eight years in Newton, Miss Walther has contributed tremendously to the civic and social welfare of the City.

To wish her all success in her new work, an informal reception was held at the Newton Community Council headquarters on Thursday afternoon, May 1st.

WORLD WAR II VETERAN NEW MEMBER OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Arthur M. McCarthy, Jr., of 104 Warwick road, Newton, has been assigned to duty on the Newton Fire Department. He is the first veteran of World War II to be given permanent assignment as a member of the department under Civil Service.

McCarthy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. McCarthy of 4 Henshaw place, West Newton, received an honorable medical discharge from the Army after serving with Company F, 206th Infantry Battalion at Camp Blanding, Fla. Before entering the Army, he served as acting sergeant for 15 months with the 110th Cavalry of the Massachusetts National Guard.

A graduate of Newton High School, he is married to the former Claire McDonald. They have a son, Arthur R. III.

A Prayer

from "The Sanctuary"

O God, in times of stress and strain, when the whole structure of our world seems to be falling in pieces about us, when we are baffled by confusion and futility, teach us, we pray Thee, the patience which comes from trust. Help us to believe at such times that all things work together for good. Amen.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT FLAG RAISING CEREMONY

A new flag pole and flag were presented to the Charles River Country Club on Memorial Day by its members who had children in the Armed Forces. Lt. Col. George A. Morin who was chairman of the Committee made the presentation which was received on behalf of Charles River Country Club by its president Harry H. Kay. The principal speaker was Mayor Paul M. Goddard who is a member of the Club. The singing of the Star Spangled Banner was led by Miss Ruth Perkins and two members of the Air Scouts raised the flag at the ceremony.

EQUIPMENT OF ARP GOES TO SCHOOL DEPT.

Liquidation of the "assets" of the Newton Department of Municipal Defense has given the School Department two valuable pieces of equipment for use as teaching aids.

The "retiring" department has turned over to the schools a motion picture sound projector and a record player turntable, which had been used in civilian defense activities. The equipment has been delivered to the Library of Teaching Aids, where any of the schools of the city may borrow it when needed. The Newton High School, the Weeks Junior High and the Warren Junior High are equipped with motion picture projectors, but about 25 other schools in the city do not have such equipment.

Newton Merry-Go-Round

By Edw. Powers, Guest Operator

Discharged service men are gradually returning to Newton and many more will come back to the "home town" during the next several months. With few exceptions all of these veterans will be glad to get back to the "Garden City" again, to see the old, familiar sights, to live their normal lives, to enjoy the companioship of relatives and friends... Most of the young men and youths who have been in the armed forces of the U.S.A. have seen much more of this world than they ever expected to see before this war started. They have viewed some beautiful sections of this planet, and they have had to endure some very unattractive portions of this earth. And they have learned to realize that few places can equal Newton as a good place in which to live. They will agree with John Howard Payne — who a century ago wrote "Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."... Newton is not so attractive as it was a generation and more ago when many large estates with beautiful lawns and gardens made this city outstanding, but it still is exceptional as a high-class residential community. One of the principle reasons for Newton being less pleasing to the eyes of residents and visitors than it was 25 and more years ago, has been the failure of the city governments for the past score of years to keep the grass and weeds cut along the borders of sidewalks and other city owned places. This function was abandoned by the city, and unless abuttors kept the grass (and weeds) cut in front of their estates, unkempt sidewalk borders have been in sorry contrast with well kept lawns. Smaller and less wealthy towns and cities than Newton keep their street and sidewalks neat at comparatively small expense. Newton should resume this municipal duty when the war is over.

The appointment by Mayor Goddard of Captain Nicholas Veduccio as Chief of the Newton Police Department gave the writer much pleasure. "Nick" has been one of our closest friends for many years and we have found him to be honest, forthright and kind-hearted. In former years he and the writer, together with our mutual, little friend, Eddie Murphy, and John (Buck) Shorton, now on duty with the Coast Guard overseas, journeyed at least once and sometimes twice each year up to the Eastern

Kiwanis Club

Expressing the view that all service clubs are much alike in that their aims of service to the nations, community and to their fellowmen coincide, Mr. Orville Clapper, president of the oRtary Club, speaking at the Newton Kiwanis Club's noon meeting, last Wednesday, at the Y.M.C.A. quoted the old biblical phrase, "Do Unto Others . . .," as a fitting example of procedure for all such organizations.

Discussing past and present activities of both clubs, Mr. Clapper declared it was his opinion that the uniting of both Kiwanis and Rotary, so as to accomplish greater results in projects which might overtax the resources of a club undertaking the job alone, would allow for additional community service. "What's Cookin' In Newton," the newspaper financed, compiled and edited by members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and mailed to all of Newton's servicemen and women overseas, was an example, he added, of the success such unity obtains.

In conclusion, Mr. Clapper stated that the clubs are doing much in making the community a happier and friendlier one, and growing larger, they'll accomplish more as time goes on. Walter Hood reported the Club's Sunday paper collection a success.

Members of Newton Kiwanis will attend the Wellesley Club's meeting next week.

Harold Pillsbury inducted Alphonse X. Chesley to membership in the Newton Club.

Father Eric McKenzie, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, will be next week's speaker.

Junior Achievement Program Teaches American Business System

15,000,000 boys and girls — 2,000,000 or more a year are stepping into the world of business and industry — stepping into the world of -isms and -ologies, into a confusing welter of new ideas and systems which have to be evaluated.

These youngsters are the adults of tomorrow — the laborers, the voters, the executives, and leaders. They will help to build postwar America.

They will form political and social concepts and they will evaluate our business system. What understanding have they of the actual working of democracy and free enterprise to guide them?

It is essential to the nation's future that these young people understand what makes the American system the vital world force that it is today.

A plan is now in operation that gives young people a practical introduction to free enterprise. It provides them with a working knowledge of our economic system . . . and a living experience that will give them a start in the world of business and industry.

This plan is called Junior Achievement.

It is sponsored and supported by many of the nation's leaders in business, and endorsed by outstanding educators.

It should be supported by every individual and organization that wants a hand in shaping the future.

Junior Achievement companies are patterned after a simplified corporate procedure. Boys and girls age 15 and over form miniature business organizations with a membership of 8 to 15 in number. They meet once a week with adult advisers from business and industry at Junior Achievement business centers.

At a meeting of the Newton Junior Achievement group last Tuesday at Braeburn, Mr. Douglas Sloane, chairman announced that a dozen Newton firms had each agreed to sponsor one or more J. A. companies.

The young people elect their own officers, select a suitable name in conformity with the product or service which they plan to offer to the public, sell stock at 50c a share, and apply for a charter renewable each year. They pay themselves an hourly wage or fee from profits accrued.

Each member of a Junior Achievement company must own at least one share of stock in his company so that he may become a member of the Board of Directors. This Board makes all decisions as to company policies, changes of product, wage scale, etc.

Each year open stockholders' meetings are held at which time past accomplishments and future plans of the company are presented, as well as the profit and loss statement for the ensuing year. If the company has been sufficiently prosperous, it will then declare a dividend as voted by the Directors at a previous meeting.

This procedure teaches the young people how business clicks and instills a feeling of responsibility as well as an appreciation for American incentive system. They also come to understand the value of invested capital, wise management and honest labor.

D. A. V. Elects Convention Delegates

At the meeting of Chaplain Farrell Chapter, D.A.V. held at the War Memorial Building, Newton Centre on Monday night, the following delegates were elected to attend the Department Convention to be held in Boston in August: Past Commanders J. Edward Therrioult, Farrington and Harold W. Trefrey; Commander Raymond Grieve and Judge Advocate Edward Edmunds. Alternates will be Past Comamnder Kempton; Junior Vice-Commander W. Mark Noble, Thomas Schiavone, Anthony Mantecca and Ronald McDonald.

It was reported that an Auxiliary is soon to be organized with Mrs. Harold W. Trafrey in charge of the committee.

Plans were made to conduct a carnival in West Newton on June 25-30, under the direction of Past Commander Fred Farrington.

Past Commander George H. Kempton was appointed graves registration officer for the rest of the year.

Newton Lions Club

Roger Taylor, a member of the Newton Lions Club spoke a week ago to the members of the Club on the subject of "Tea," so from now on it is expected that coffee will be a thing of the past, as far as Club members are concerned.

At the last meeting, the speaker was Mr. T. H. Dunton of the U.S. Rubber Co. whose topic was "Materials of War." Mr. Dunton showed an educational and interesting film depicting the various uses of rubber and the ways in which both crude and synthetic rubber are converted into the essential articles, so vital to modern war-fare.

President Dick Fennelly presided and spoke on the subject of volunteers to aid in work at the Hospital. In urging all members to participate, he told of the tremendous task with which the Hospital is faced in trying to carry on during these difficult times. All Lions who were not present at the meeting are asked to contact President Fennelly at once.

FIFTY YEAR REUNION, CLASS OF "95" NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

The reunion of some 1000 members of the N. H. S. Class of "95" is to be held on June 8th at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. A dinner will be followed by brief talks and the reading of letters from some absent members. Among the guests will be Principal Raymond Green from N. H. S. and Miss "Aunt" Emma Johnson, a former teacher at High School.

As 47 of this class are still in the Newtons a large attendance is expected.

This class has produced many prominent in their profession. A college president, a State Senator, a mayor, an actress, lawyers, teachers and others in publishing and literary lines.

A committee of sixteen with Clarence V. Moore as chairman and Mabel Meecher, secretary, are competing plans.

SENATOR SALTONSTALL SPEAKER AT MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE

With United States Senator Leverett Saltonstall as Chief of Staff and Mayor Paul M. Goddard as Chief Marshal, the annual Memorial Day parade started from the fire station at Newton Corner proceeding along the regular route up Washington street to Newtonville Square and thence along Walnut street to the Newton Cemetery, where exercises were held at the Soldier's Monument.

Serving as honorary escort to the chief marshal were Norman I. Paterson, past commander of the American Legion; Thomas Hurley, past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Loretto Bianchi, past commander of the Disabled American Veterans; Frank Aurelio, past commander of the United Spanish War Veterans; Morris Rosenberg, past commander of the Jewish War Veterans.

Fred Farrington, Jr., chairman of the Veteran's Council, who served as adjutant general on the chief marshal's staff, was master of ceremonies.

As the parade approached the grounds of Newton City Hall it halted at the World War II Honor Roll where red, white and blue wreaths were placed by Mayor Goddard for the civic government; Fred Farrington for the Veterans Council and Roy S. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen. The Newton High School band under direction of William L. Winston played "Abide With Me."

At the Soldiers' Monument in the Newton Cemetery, wreaths were placed by the veterans' and civic organizations and Senator Saltonstall addressing the gathering spoke of the recent tour he had made of Nazi concentration camps as a member of the Congressional investigating committee, citing the evidence of the German atrocities as proof that the 201 Newton men who have given their lives in the present conflict had not died in vain. Among these 201 heroes was Senator Saltonstall's own son, Marine Sgt. Peter B. Saltonstall, who was killed in action on Guam last summer.

Following the exercises at the cemetery which were held in memory of the city's hero dead of all wars, the marchers retraced their steps along Walnut street to the Newton City Hall where the Chief Marshal reviewed the parade and it then moved along Homer street to Commonwealth avenue where it was disbanded, after passing the War Memorial Building.

MAYOR NAMES VEDUCCIO CHIEF OF POLICE

The appointment of Capt. Nicholas Veduccio as Chief of the Newton Police Department was made by Mayor Paul M. Goddard and was submitted to the Board of Alder men. In accordance with the rule it was laid on the table until their meeting, June 4, when it received a vote of confirmation.

Since the death of the late Chief Michael T. Hughes, last September, Capt. Veduccio had been serving as Acting Chief. He has been a member of the Police Department for 30 years. On March 1, 1915, he was appointed a patrolman, became a sergeant in August, 1925, lieutenant on September 6, 1930, and captain September 24, 1933.

He is married and has seven sons and three daughters. The family home is at 30 Riverdale avenue, Newton. One of his daughters, Cpl. Dorothy M. Veducelo, a surgical technician in the WAC, is stationed at the Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, Long Island, New York. One of his sons, William R., electrician's mate third class, USN, is a gyrocompass specialist in the Pacific. Another son, Patrolman George H. Veducelo, has been a member of the Newton police force for the past four years.

Chief Veducelo is a member of the International Police Association, the New England Police Association, the Massachusetts Police Association, the Newton Police Benefit and Memorial Associations and is Esteemed Leading Knight of Newton Lodge of Elks.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL COUNCIL HOLD FIRST MEETING

The newly formed Cardinal O'Connell Council, Knights of Columbus conducted their first meeting and held installation ceremonies of their elected officers, June 3, at the Philomatheia Club, Chestnut Hill, Newton, it was announced by Paul J. McMackin, grand knight.

The Cardinal O'Connell Council has been granted charter, 2912, and will hold their meetings at the club each month. Many Boston College students have signified their intention of joining, though the Council is not directly connected with the college itself.

Officers of the new council installed were: Chaplain, Rev. Walter Friary, S.J.; grand knight, Paul J. MacMackin of Brighton; deputy grand knight, Cletus Gallagher of Newton; financial secretary, Joseph Santosuosso of Brighton; chancellor, William Ormsby of Chestnut Hill; recorder, John McKakin of Cambridge; treasurer, Anthony Comerford of Brighton; advocate, William F. Marcellino of Brighton; warden, Patrick J. Lally of Brighton; inside guard, Phillip McCann of Waban; outside guard, Edward Lloyd Jr. of Newton; trustees, Adam Gage of Brighton, Stephen Lyons of Brookline, William L. McMorrow of Dorchester.

7-YEAR-OLD SELLS MAYOR FIRST POPPY

Seven-year-old Thomas L. McDonald, whose brother, Pvt. Paul V. McDonald lost his life in Germany in this war, and whose uncle, Thomas L. McDonald, was killed in France in World War I, inaugurated the "Poppy" drive in Newton by selling the first flower to Mayor Paul M. Goddard. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McDonald of 26 Kensington avenue, West Newton.

The "Poppy" campaign was conducted in Newton by the Sgt. Daley Post, V.F.W., and Auxiliary, under the direction of Commander Charles H. Pollock.

TENNIS BUTTON IN MAIL SINCE 1933

Believe it or not!

A tennis button mailed by the Newton Recreation Department in 1933 has just been returned to the department at City Hall by the Boston Post Office.

Where the button, which entitles the bearer to play on the city tennis courts, had been for the past 12 years, was not disclosed. At any rate, it never reached the addressee. Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson assumes that it had slipped from its envelope and had remained in the Post Office until it was discovered recently.

Sports in a Nutshell

By Bill Sullivan

Time rolls along, now it is June and "What's Cookin'" gives you again what is doing in the Sports Field.

The New York Giants are leading the National League, having won 27, lost 14; Pittsburgh jumped into second place, won 22, lost 16. The champion Cards, 23-18, Brookline 21-19, Chicago 19-18, Cincinnati Reds 1818, Boston Braves won 15, lost 21 and Philadelphia won 10 and lost 31.

Ott is leading batter with 379, Holmes of Boston and Kurowski of St. Louis are tied with 378. Lombardi of the iGants has 13 home runs. Wentworth of the Giants and Vince DiMaggio of the Phillies have 8 home runs. Lombardi has 39 runs batted in, Elliott of the Pirates and Kurowski of the Cards have 34 runs batted in. Pittsburgh was the class of the league in the past two weeks, winning 10 and losing 2, with most of the games won by slugging winning games 9-8, 16-4, 11-5, 6-5, 7-6, 76, losing 11-9, 14-10.

Cincinnatti with Eddie Miller back at short are winning again. The Braves have secured Mort Cooper the ace pitcher of the St. Louis Cards for Charlie Red Barrett and some cash, they also signed Joe Heving and Joe won his first game by excellent relief pitching, beating the Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings. Phil Masi drove in the winning run and Tommy Holmes hit a home run with Chuck Workman on base. Logan beat the Cubs 2-1 in the first game Sunday but the Cubs came right back to beat the Braves 3-1, Passeau held Boston to 2 hits, with Tobin the losing pitcher.

In the American League New York is leading, having won 24 and lost 15, Detroit won 20, lost 15, St. Louis 18-17, Chicago 19-18, Red Sox won 19, lost 20, Cleveland 16-19, Washington 17-21, and Philadelphia won 15 and lost 23. Tony Cuccinello of the White Sox is leading batter with 355, Case of the Senators 331, and Etter of the Yankees 321. Stephens of St. Louis has 8 home runs, Bob Johnson of Boston 6 home runs and Frank Hayes of Cleveland has 5 home runs. Etter of the Yanks has 27 runs batted in. Bob Johnson of the Sox 26, and Stephens of St. Louis and Schalk of the White Sox each have 24 runs batted in.

The Yanks lead all teams in their league in the past two weeks, winning 11 and losing 4. The Red Sox sure came fast winning 10 and losing 5, Cleveland won 7 lost 5, Detroit won 7 lost 6, Washington won 5 lost 7, St. Louis and Phil. won 5 lost 8 with Chicago White Sox winnig 4 and losing 11.

Dave Ferriss won 3 games for the Red Sox in their present home game. Wednesday, May 23, he beat St. Louis 4-1, holding the Browns to 5 hits with Mike Krevich banging out 3 of these and St. Louis finally scoring in the seventh; on Sunday, May 27, Ferriss pitched the first game and shut the Chicago White Sox out 7-0, with Cincinello getting the only hit off Dave and this one Bob Johnson just couldn't hold. Ferriss gave 1 base on balls and both runners were taken off on double plays, only 28 men faced him, one getting on when a Sox player fumbled, this made his sixth straight win.

Emmett ONerl won the second game 2-1, holding the White Sox to 2 hits, one coming in the ninth so the fans had a great day. Ferris turned Cleveland back 6-2, Friday, June 1, for his seventh straight win and holding Cleveland to 5 hits. Mitkovich hit a home run scoring Garback. O'Neil beat the Tigers 6-4, slamming a home run with 2 mates on base, Clem Hausmann turned back the tigers 5-1 and but for an erro would have shut them out. Wilson kept it right up and beat Detroit 4-3, holding the Tigers to 6 hits, Detroit won the final game 4-3. Ferris, O'Neil, Wilson, Woods, Hausman made up a first clas pitching force with Terry and Johnson ready to help and the firemen Mike Ryba and Red Barrett, always waiting for the the call to relieve. Joe Bowman has gone to Cincinnati, Tom Judd to the Phillies, Red Cecil to Louisville and Driswaard has taken his physical for the Service. Frank Hayes was sold by Connie Mack to Cleveland for Buddy Rosar.

Newton High defeated Brookline 37-3 at Braves Field Wednesday, May 30. Newton scored 10 runs in the third, 6 in the fourth, 16 runs in the fifth and 5 runs in the sixth. Bryson was at bat 6 times, he made 6 hits, scored 6 runs, and drove in 5 runs. Newton made 27 hits, received 15 bases on balls, with Brookline making 8 errors.

The horses are running again at Naragansett Park. They received the go sign after the European Victory.

STATE MEET: Newton came through to win the Class A annual outdoor State Meet at Dickinson Stadium May 27, scoring 33 1-2 points with Boston English and Rindge Tech tied for second place with 18 points. Bob Garrity won the 100 yard dash and Fred DeAngelis finished 2nd making it 1, 2, for Newton. George Cahill finished second in the 440 yard run. Paul Gibson won the 12 pound shot put for Newton, distance 43 feet 1-4 in. Paul Angus finished second for Newton in the Running Broad Jump, distance 20 ft. Burton Barker of Newton finished third. Paul Buswell and Russell Houston tied for second place with 5ft 7 in. Cahil, Barker, Kiley and DiBlasio finished second in the relay race. Boston English won with Rindge third. Lt. Don MacKinnon, former Newton track captain and holder of the Class A hurdle record watched Newton pile up the points, Lt. Don recently returned home from a German Prison camp.

BOXING: Harry Jeffra of Baltimore won the decision over Sammy Garcia of Jersey in the feature 10 round bout of the Goodwin A. C. in the Arena Friday night. Jeffra had it all his own way for the first five rounds, but Garcia kept right in there in the last five rounds and had Jeffra hanging on the ropes in the eighth. The judges gave Jeffra the decision with the Referee voting for Garcia. Sexton and Casey go to it next week for the heavyweight wrestling championship.

TWO-ALARM FIRE AT NEWTON CORNER

A fire which broke out about 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon, May 22, in the Tip-Top Cleaners and Tailors establishment at 427 Centre street, Newton, resulted in damage of several thousand dollars to the cleansing establishment, a neighboring drug store and the Newton Lodge of Elks headquarters located on the top floor of the building.

On arrival at the scene of the fire Chief John L. Keating ordered a second alarm which brought out most of the apparatus on the north side of the city and some from the south side, and from Watertown.

Traffic on Centre street and Centre avenue was tied up and several hose lines were laid. The fire department succeeded in keeping the blaze confined to the cleansing establishment which suffered the most seriously from the blaze. The Hubbard Drug Co. and the upper floor of the building, however, suffered damage from smoke and water.

Mease is general secretary.

H. S. PLANS SUMMER COURSES FOR RETURNING VETERANS

Besides voting to conduct the Newton High School summer session for the third successive year, the Newton School Committee made plans for conducting a summer session for returning war veterans, with both academic and trade courses, under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Newton takes the lead in the State in planning such courses. They will be conducted from June 25 to August 17, to enable veterans to qualify for high school diplomas or for college, the courses to cover any subject required. The courses are to be free to Newton residents, and a fee of $30 will be charged non-residents. Non-residents veterans, however, will be reimbursed by the Federal government for this fee under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Daily sessions will be held in the Technical High School building from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Co-operation for this movement has been enlisted from Newton's Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans.

Applications for these courses may be made to Director Charles H. Mergendahl, Room 314, Newton High School Administration Building.

Steps were also taken to make trade courses available for returning veterans during the regular school year by authorizing Director James Forbes of the Newton Trade School and principal of the Newton Evening School to sign contracts for reimbursement by the Veterans' Administration.

DEER AGAIN RAIDS NEWTON GARDEN

A deer which was reported seen in Newtonville recently has made another brief appearance on Carmello Gringeri's farm at 45 Farwell street, Newtonville.

Children saw the deer grazing in the woods near the farm and frightened the animal, which sped off across the farm in huge jumps. It destroyed a number of cabbage and spinach plants and bent irrigation pipes on the farm before plunging into the Charles River and swimming to the Watertown side.

WOOSTER HEADS STATE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Harold A. Wooster, librarian of the Newton Free Library, was elected president of the Massachusetts Library Association at the executive board meeting held recently.

100 TONS OF SCRAP PAPER COLLECTED IN CITYWIDE DRIVE

More than 100 tons of scrap paper were collected June 3 in the citywide drive conducted in Newton under the chairman of Street Commissioner John D. Haughey.

Thirty Street Department trucks were manned by 90 volunteers. Mrs. Ernest McClure was in charge of the Newton Red Cross Canteen which served sandwiches to the volunteers.

The sandwiches were made by Miss Mary Furlong, Mrs. G. R. Strandberg, and Mrs. Alice Walen. The canteen was set up at the Eliot City Stables in Newton Upper Falls. Serving were Mrs. Enoch Ferguson, Mrs. Frank Sandford, Mrs. Donald Flonchbaugh, Miss Madeline Sears, Miss Alice Jones, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Miss Hope Mudge, and Mrs. C. Roy Rook.

Sidney Cohen Executive Director Essoc. Jewish Philanthorpies

Sidney S. Cohen of Waban has been appointed executive director of the Assocated Jewish Philanthropies, Judge Jacob J. Kaplan, president of the Associated, announced today. Mr. Cohen succeeds Dr. B. M. Selekman, newly-appointed Louis E. Kirstein Professor of Labor Relations at Harvard Business School. Dr. Selekman will continue to serve the AJP as consultant.

SIDNEY S. COHEN

A member of the administrative staff of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies for the past 15 years, Mr. Cohen is a well-known figure in Jewish social service and federation circles of the country. Before coming to Boston he served with the New York Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and the Brooklyn Federation of Jewish Charities, two of the largest agencies in the field. He has also worked for the United Palestine Appeal and the Joint Distribution Committee.

Mr. Cohen, known to thousands of campaign volunteers, contributors, agency executives and staffs, has inaugurated numerous programs which have made Boston's Associated Jewish Philanthropies a model for other Jewish communities throughout America. Besides stream-lining the fund-raising and public relations structure of the Associated, Mr. Cohen organized the Business Men's Council in 1931, and later helped in the development of the Combined Jewish Appeal.

Having served for a number of years as BMC executive secretary, as director of fund raising, as assistant director of the AJP and, for the past year as associate director, Mr. Cohen has become thoroughly familiar with every aspect of the AJP's local program, and with the national and overseas activities of the Combined Jewish Appeal.

The new AJP executive director has written numerous articles related to social service, organization, and Federation financing. He has contributed papers to Notes and News, official publication of the National Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds. He is a former chairman of the Public Relations Division of the Boston Community Council, formerly the Boston Council of Social Agencies, and is a member of the advisory board of its Bulletin.

Mr. Cohen is also secretary of the New England Region of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds; a member of the National Jewish Conference of Social Work, and a member of the Executive Committe of the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work.

A native of Syracuse, N. Y., Mr. Cohen was education at Syracuse University where he attained many honors before being graduated in 1923. Following his graduation, he had a varied career as a newspaperman in Watertown, N. Y., as a public relations specialist, and as a publisher. He published the Brooklyn Jewish Chronicle and later organized and directed his own public relations and fund raising firm.

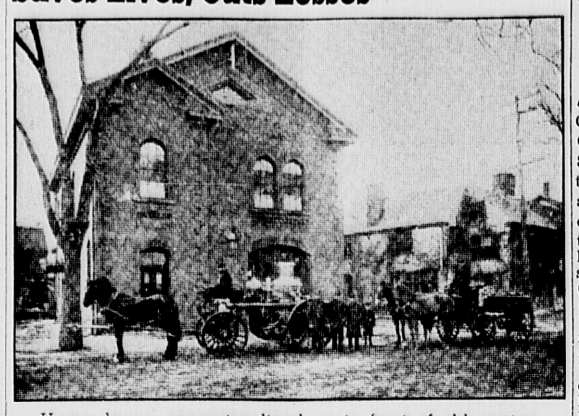
our community planning program," Mr. Gores stated, "and we look forward to a year of accomplishment with her assistance."

Miss Rourke, a graduate of Simmons College, has recently spent several years at M. I. T. where she was associated with Dr. Vanevar Bush and Prof. C. Fayette Taylor. Miss Rourke was assistant and confidential secretary to Prof. R. H. Smith in charge of the Navy V-5 program and worked closely with more than 500 prospective Navy and Army fliers.

Modern Fire Fighting Equipment Saves Lives, Cuts Losses



Horse drawn apparatus lined up in front of old engine house at Newton Corner, in the 90's.

By Paul Considine

In olden days, occasionally referred to as the 'Good Ol' Days,' the slow, measured ominous tolling of the midnight fire alarm, brought fear and dread in it's deep toned, resonant notes, as vibrating over the sleeping countryside, it awakened the community to the rampaging presence of man's arch-enemy—fire!

It was a matter of self preservation, as well as a duty in those times, to get up-and out, so's to help fight the menace and keep it at bay. Every male, ablebodied or otherwise, was a firefighter then, and although the burning structure of the moment was usually doomed, the fight went on in an all out attempt to protect adjoining property.

Without equipment or experience, and with little to offer other than enthusiasm, the efforts of the amatuer firemen very often went for naught. Entire villages were frequently wiped out, too, and with them, the lives of villagers, trapped by the flames.

The fight went on, however, the years bringing new apparatus, improved water supply, modern fire alarm systems and, most important of all, scientific firefighters. Today, in this city, the midnight fire alarm is heard only in fire stations. Modern apparatus travels to the scene speedily and quietly, in less than one minute on many occasions, and with experienced, trained veterans, frequently extinguishes a threatening blaze while the neighborhood slumbers, unaware of the department's vigilance and protection

Such a fire occurred one blustering freezing midnight, last winter, when an overheated furnace in the cellar of a two family wooden house on Carleton street, Newton Corner, overloaded with coal and losing its efficiency, as so many creations of man have been doing these last few years, sent sheets of flame shooting up through the walls of the sleeping household.

The occupants, several of them children, reached the street safely as the apparatus, without the sound of a bell or a siren, arrived from every direction. Two alarms were sounded for that one and two firemen were hurt fighting it. Nevertheless, but five families in the thickly settled neighborhood were aware at the time, that a house was burning. The firemen, efficiently and quietly, put out a fire that night, which, twenty years ago, might well have burned down a half dozen houses, or more, in the vicinity.

Today, while science has come to the aid of the firefighter, his job is still a very dangerous one. Riding the hurricane deck of swaying, speeding apparatus in every kind of weather, is perhaps, the easiest task, as he prepares for whatever awaits him at the end of his journey. High tension wires, collapsing walls, poisonous fumes and fire are only a few of the dangers to be faced and conquered in the eternal fight against the common enemy.

CHIEF JOHN L. KEATING

Casualties are high, too. The number of men injured and temporarily out of service, averages about ten percent of the force each year. Ninety percent of the men suffer cuts and bruises during a like period. According to Chief John L. Keating, Newton's fire loss, with regard to population, was the lowest in Massachusetts during 1944.

Rated in the "A" class, Newton's fire protection is second to none in Massachusetts. The cost to property owners is low—lower than in most cities. The following is based on a property owner's assessment in 1943:

A home owner assessed for $10,000, paid a tax bill of $270.00. The proportion of this sum which was used to cover cost of Fire Department operation was as follows:

Fire Department salaries	$13.26
Wire Division salaries	.41
Care of buildings	.54
Maint. of city lines	.20
Maint. of apparatus	.34
Office exp telephones and all other misc. expenses	.01
	$14.76

Firemen's memorial Sunday will be observed at Fire Headquarters, Newton Centre, Sunday, at 2:30 p.m.

Big Penny Sale Attracting Wide Interest Here

The mammoth Penny Sale to be conducted by Our Lady, Help of Christians Parish on the Parish Grounds, Thursday, June 14th, at 8:00 p. m. is attracting wide attention. A few of the valuable and attractive prizes have been placed on display at the following locations: a display of Kenwood blankets, silk puff, towels, luncheon sets, glassware, etc., at Grover Cronin's in Waltham; a three piece mahogany bedroom set at Kane's Furniture Store in Waltham; a five piece Dina Cook maple kitchen set at Gray's Furniture Co., Waltham; a desk-type solid walnut electric sewing machine at George Bryson, 271 Washington street, Newton; a washing machine at DeSimone Brothers, 311 Watertown street, Newton; an electric ironer, lamps, toasters, electric irons, smoking stands at Walnut Drug Co., 833 Washington street, Newtonville; an eight tube Philco console radio at Ye Old Towne Bakery, 315 Walnut street, Newtonville; a hope chest at Vitti Construction Co., 402 Watertown street, Newton; chairs, bleached mahogtny kitchen set at Burrow's Furniture Co., corner of Chapel and Watertown strets, Newton; and an electrolux vacuum cleaner, tables, lamps, toasters, etc., at Piccolo's Drum Store, 2 Watertown street, Watertown; lamps, automatic toasters, electric irons, smokers, etc., at Dell's Drug, 303 Washington street, Newton; and many others. Hundreds of other beautiful and desirable prizes have been obtained by the enthusiastice ommittee which is under the personal direction of Reverend Michael E. Doherty, Pastor, assisted by his four energetic curates, Reverend John H. Quinlan, Reverend Arthur I. Norton, Reverend Daniel J. Taglino, and Reverend Bernard T. Rattigan. The fact that these grand prizes will be given away for a penny each, that the admission is absolutely free, and that an attendance prize of $100.00 is being offered has attracted great interest. In order that all prizes may be awarded within the alloted time, between 8:000 p. m. and 11:00 p. m., they wil be offered in groups. The average cost of one penny for each article wil be maintained, however. Due to the attractiveness of the program it is confidently expected that a capacity attendance will be on hand to take advantage of this generous program. For this reason children are requested not to attend unless accompanied by their parents.

Capt. Charles C. Stuart and Mrs. Stuart are parents of a son, born June 4 in the Hartford Memorial Hospital, Havre de Grace, Md. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Stuart, 21 Harrington street, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lewis, Reading. Capt. Stuart is stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

These men can tell you why the 7TH WAR LOAN is the BIGGEST yet!

YOU ARE being asked to lend more money than ever before—in the 7th War Loan.

These men can tell you why.

They can tell you of giant ships ready to slide down the ways this year.

They can tell you of a whole new air force in the building—huge new bombers and fast new jet-propelled planes coming off the lines by thousands.

They could show you why it is cheaper and quicker to give our Pacific Forces entirely new equipment sometimes—instead of shipping tanks and guns from Europe.

They can, in short, show you 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

Will you tell these men "I can't afford to buy my share"?

THE GENERALS and admirals can show us why our money is needed—more money than before.

But other men can show us something, too.

They're the men with twisted, crippled limbs... with clever iron hooks instead of hands. The blind men... the men with scarred, seamed faces. And perhaps worst of all, the men with blasted, darkened minds.

They can show us, clearly, how small is any sacrifice we make in lending money.

If you have an income, whether from work, land, or capital, you have a quota in the 7th War Loan. Find out what that quota is—and make it!

Entitled

Christian Science: The Fulfillment of Prophecy and Promise

Richard J. Davis, C. S. B. of San Jose, California

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Before a large audience in First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Richard J. Davis, C.S.B. of San Jose, California, delivered a timely lecture Friday evening, June 1. Mr. Davis was introduced by Edmands P. Lingham, First Reader, who said:

"Friends: Seventy years ago, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, gave to the world the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." No book outside the Bible has made so great an impress upon mankind.

"The teachings of Christian Science are based entirely on the Bible — on the truths Christ Jesus taught and demonstrated. Untold thousands have been healed of "every ill that flesh is heir to" through the application of its teachings, many by simply reading the book. This fact is attested by the testimonies of healing published in the "Christian Science Journal," and the "Christian Science Sentinel," voiced in our Wednesday evening meetings, and witnessed in the lives of Christian Scientists.

"It has been my privilege for over 20 years to be a student of Christian Science. During this time I have applied it to the healing of physical, personal, and business problems, and have never found it wanting.

"I am happy indeed, in behalf of this church, to welcome you to this lecture, and I take pleasure in introducing Mr. Richard J. Davis, of San Jose, California, a mmeber of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, who will address us on the subject, "Christian Science: The Fulfillment of Prophecy and Promise."

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

I think we all realize that one of the main reasons why religion has a place in the thought of mankind is the hope that it may be able to bring some measure of comfort and release from suffering and distress. It is their sorrows and difficulties which impel human beings to turn for relief to something outside of themselves. Religion, if it is to fulfill its function today, must very definitely present an adequate and completely satisfying solution to distraught humanity. If God is to have real meaning for us, then His omnipotence and omnipresence must be recognized as practically available, right where human beings seem to be. If religion is to fulfill its purpose, it is evident that it must present a God and an understanding of divinity that is reasonable and altogether satisfactory. That understanding of God must be able to touch and help you and me right where we seem at present to be.

There is a familiar hymn, the words of which so tenderly express the compassionate appeal of Christian Science:

"Come, ye disconsolate, where'er ye languish,
Here health and peace are found,
Life, Truth, and Love;
Here bring your wounded hearts, here tell your anguish;
Earth has no sorrow but Love can remove.

"Joy of the desolate, light of the straying,
Hope of the penitent, fadeless and pure;
Here speaks the Comforter, tenderly saying,
Earth has no sorrow that Love cannot cure."

For many years, the teaching and practice of Christian Science have been bringing healing and consolation to thousands of sick and unhappy people. Every person who today is enjoying a better sense of health, happiness, and spiritual freedom because of Christian Science will tell you that he owes these benefits to the consecrated and devoted life of one woman, Mary Baker Eddy. I would not myself be here today were it not for the healing power and operation of divine law as revealed in Christian Science.

In the fifteenth chapter of Luke, Jesus, dwelling upon the paramount necessity of finding the kingdom of heaven or understanding of God, tells us of a woman who, having lost a valuable piece of silver, lit a candle, swept her house, and sought diligently until she found it. After which, she called in her friends and neighbors to rejoice with her in the recovery of that which had been lost. It was in this same manner that Mary Baker Eddy, realizing that the spirit and practical understanding of Jesus' life and works had for centuries been lost, lit her candle, devoted herself to a spiritual study of the Scriptures, swept her consciousness clean of outgrown and faulty theological concepts, and through spiritual inspiration discovered that precious thing, the lost element of spiritual healing.

The Comforter or Christ

Mrs. Eddy's study of the Bible confirmed her conclusion that Jesus' life and works, exemplified in his healings, were not miraculous nor supernatural, but that they indicated and revealed the existence of an operative divine Principle, active and appearing in all ages, practically available today in meeting the pressing needs of humanity. She perceived the tremendous significance to you and me of Jesus' promise when he said: "I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you."

She recognized that the promised Comforter was Divine Science, the Science of Christ, the divine idea of God, and that the Christ, when understood and demonstrated, would lead all mankind into a knowledge of the truth. She recalled, too, how Jesus had said that the Christ or Comforter, appearing impersonally as the spiritual idea of God, would instruct, teach, and also spiritually explain —"bring to remembrance"—what he had said when on earth. It is interesting to note that Jesus also said, "It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you." In this statement, the Master was clearly explaining that the human, corporeal concept of the saving Christ must disappear before the Comforter could appear or be revealed.

This discovery and understanding of the ever-present Christ, or Comforter, Mrs. Eddy named Christian Science, and she set forth the laws and rules of its application in her textbook, which she titled "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

Christian Science reveals God as the one self-existent, intelligent Cause, supreme Being or Mind. All true Science, therefore, must have its origin in that one infinite Mind. It should be noted, however, that Christian Science is the absolute truth of being, brought to bear upon the belief of human existence. It always touches humanity. The object of Christian Science is to prove the power and presence of God in human affairs. That is its purpose; that is why it was revealed.

Through her revelation and study of the Scriptures, Mrs. Eddy saw that Jesus demonstrated, in his life and character, the correlation that exists between God and man, that inseparable unity indicated in his statement, "I and my Father are one." To those who could not understand, his healings and his mighty works were inexplicable and mysterious, but they nevertheless indicated that he possessed a scientific and spiritual knowledge of God, available to every man here and now.

Divine Science Is Absolute

On page 274, lines 23 to 25, of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy writes, "Divine Science is absolute, and permits no half-way position in learning its Principle and rule—establishing it by demonstration." In numerous places in her writings, Mrs. Eddy refers to Christian Science as an absolute Science, and the teaching of Christian Science particularly lays its emphasis on the wholeness of Deity, one absolute God. Mrs. Eddy was extremely careful in her choice of words. When she says that Christian Science is absolute, she does not mean that it is transcendental in a philosophic sense. In fact, it is quite the contrary. The word "absolute" is not always clearly understood. It is often regarded as that which has no relation whatever to the human sense of things. When speaking of the absolute, people have thought of something more or less intangible and impractical, but this is not so.

As used in Christian Science, the word "absolute" conforms to the best dictionary definitions, and so, when referring to God as absolute, we mean that God is perfect, whole, complete, actual, real, pure, with no limits or restrictions, free from imperfection, free from error or variability. Christian Science, or the Science of Truth, could never be anything less than absolute, nor can God, in His infinite oneness and all-inclusive being, be other than perfect, supreme, without limitation, as the Scripture says, "with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

In her textbook, page 353, line 16, Mrs. Eddy declares that "perfection underlies reality." It, therefore, follows that only thinking or knowing from the basis of absolute perfection can be real or actual. Absolute knowing in Christian Science, then, is not an intellectual process; it is not humanly philosophic or abstract. It is spiritual. It is, indeed, the expression or unfoldment of spiritual ideas that have their origin in the one infinite Mind, which Christian Scientists reverently understand to be God. And what is most important of all, these spiritual ideas, unfolding and appearing to you and me, may be intelligently and practically applied to any and every human situation that needs healing and correction.

True ideas are always Christ-ideas that come, as Mrs. Eddy says in her definition of "Christ" (Science and Health, p. 583), "to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." When Christian Scientists say that they are endeavoring to maintain an absolute point of view in their thinking, it means that they are maintaining and establishing spiritually and mentally that which is real and actual as opposed to the relative, material, and unreal sense of things. In other words, they are endeavoring to think correctly, in line with that which alone is true. Absolute thinking or knowing, then, as understood in Christian Science, simply means knowing that is free from error or imperfection, unconditional and unqualified knowing of the truth. It follows, then, that knowing that which is true, naturally operates to make the knower free from error or false belief of any kind. And Christian Science declares that consistent and unwavering knowing of the truth, the truth about God and man's relationship to Him, is what frees us from the afflictive beliefs of disease and sin.

Divine and Human Coincidence

A correct understanding of Christian Science never permits one to ignore the human problem. The absolute truth about God and His creation, man, must always be intelligently applied to the relative, the mortal or material condition, where human beings seem to be having difficulties. If divine power could not reach us here, the situation for mankind would indeed be hopeless. But Christian Science never loses sight of the human equation. No matter how absolute the spiritual fact, that truth may and must be applied or related to whatever appears as the error or erroneous belief in human consciousness. It is in this practical application that the Christ, or Saviour, becomes available in human experience. Herein we find the coincidence of the divine with the human. And yet it should be pointed out that while the divine and human seem to coincide, this does not concede nor imply permanent or actual reality to the human experience, but enables us, in effect, to know and to prove, as our textbook states (Science and Health, p. 17), "as in heaven, so on earth,—God is omnipotent, supreme."

Before the supremacy, omnipotence, and omnipresence of Spirit, the afflictive human sense of things eventually must and will disappear. Referring to this, Mrs. Eddy says in her Preface to Science and Health (p. xi): "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally and as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation."

Divine Facts of Being

What are some of the divine facts of being that Mrs. Eddy perceived through spiritual inspiration and revelation? First of all, she saw that causation is mental, that all true causation is traceable to one self-existent Mind. Through reason, too, she perceived that what is termed creation must fundamentally be mental and spiritual, the intelligent effect of an intelligent cause. She recognized that since we are conscious even humanly that there must be an infinite universe, this universe, in reality, must be the illimitable manifestation of illimitable Mind. Further elucidating and defining God, she declared Him to be the one incorporeal, divine Spirit, infinite Life, Truth, and Love, Soul, the divine Principle of all being. All these terms are synonymous. Taken together, they express the full nature and wholeness of God, or Divine Being.

Coexistence of God and Man

Divine Mind is not a metaphysical abstraction, and should not be so considered. We cannot have Mind without ideas, nor ideas without Mind. The two are inseparable, cause and effect; and effect is just as essential as cause. Christian Science declares that God and man coexist, that they exist forever as divine Mind and its infinite idea. Describing man, Mrs. Eddy says in her textbook (p. 475): "Man is idea, the image, of Love; he is not physique. He is the compound idea of God, including all right ideas; the generic term for all that reflects God's image and likeness; the conscious identity of being as found in Science, in which man is the reflection of God, or Mind, and therefore is eternal; that which has no separate mind from God; that which has not a single quality underived from Deity; that which possesses no life, intelligence, nor creative power of his own, but reflects spiritually all that belongs to his Maker."

My friends, in any erroneous situation that may confront you humanly, the difficulty is always separation, the belief that God and man are separated. Men believe that they are separated from happiness, separated from health, separated from supply, separated from love. The remedy is oneness, the forever oneness of God and man. Just think what it means, then, to coexist with God! Christian Science explains the eternal coexistence, or oneness, of God and man. Christ Jesus demonstrated in every act that God and man coexist, that they exist, or have being, eternally together, as the word implies. The textbook says (p. 202), "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done." That is it—the life-practice of unity with God—therein lies the key to scientific demonstration!

Many people are willing to admit the perfection of God, but they are not so willing to admit the perfection of man; and yet the two are inseparable and logically related. If God is perfect, so must be His expression or manifestation, man; otherwise, one is brought to the illogical conclusion that God, although infinitely perfect, is the author of an imperfect creation. Ask yourself, "Am I the divine effect of a divine cause, or am I the material effect of a material cause?" There cannot be two infinite, self-existent causes. If there were two causes, what would that mean? Duality—two gods, one good and the other evil.

Spiritual Thinking Is Practical

Generally speaking, the world has regarded a spiritual point of view as more or less visionary and impractical. As a matter of fact, the only really practical viewpoint is the spiritual. What has material thinking done to prove itself useful and commendable? One only needs to look out upon the world today to behold everywhere the unhappy results of material thinking. Are the present world conditions which we are facing the result of spiritual thinking? Obviously not. Does that not sufficiently convince one that there is something radically wrong with human thought? If a materialistic point of view were right, it would bring right results.

The teaching of Christian Science shows us that we shall never be really practical, nor shall we be able to arrive at correct and successful conclusions, until we learn how to think from a divine basis. One does not depart from practicality by becoming spiritually-minded. We learn to understand in Christian Science that the power, presence, and love of God are not theoretical, but truly practical. The allness of God is not a merely beautiful theory. To be of value, it must be understood not only as an absolute but a usable fact. Neither the understanding of God nor the fundamental teaching of Christian Science is to be accepted from a relative point of view, nor can they be successfully applied from the point of view of partial or comparative truth. Mrs. Eddy writes on page 345 of the textbook, "When the omnipotence of God is preached and His absoluteness is set forth, Christian sermons will heal the sick." It should be noted, however, that this absoluteness must be declared and applied in destroying the specific illusions of the human or mortal mind.

In his epistle to the Romans Paul tells us: "I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." Now, in order to successfully apply the rules of Christian Science, we must be persuaded, we must have spiritual conviction and certainty, based on scientific understanding, as to just why "things present," or "things to come," or any belief of evil, cannot "separate us from the love of God."

Discernment of Man's True Selfhood

Through study we find that there are three steps essential to clear, scientific thinking and demonstration. First, the discernment of our real, spiritual selfhood, or identity, as God's reflection, or idea; second, our claiming it in the face of every argument or suggestion of error to the contrary; and third, the habitual maintenance of our spiritual being and the denial of anything unlike that being.

For your comfort and encouragement may I say that in demonstrating and proving the great truths of Christian Science we need to have both perseverance and patience. We need to be patient with ourselves and with others. The kingdom of heaven is not to be taken by storm. The demonstration of perfection is gradual. Having habitually thought of ourselves as material and as possessing material bodies which claim to be the source of both pleasure and pain, we do not immediately get rid of these wrong thoughts. Mrs. Eddy says in Science and Health (p. 242), "Denial of the claims of matter is a great step towards the joys of Spirit, towards human freedom and the final triumph over the body."

And so we come to understand that two important midway steps in healing involve a recognition of the erroneous belief that we have been, perhaps unconsciously, entertaining, and then its denial. No doubt many of you are aware how tenaciously an afflictive belief seems to hold on. We are even sometimes reluctant to give it up, and yet the way of deliverance lies in our willingness and readiness to reverse the argument of error. For example: if error argues, "I am discouraged," or "I am feeling ill," this aggressive suggestion of evil must be denied and reversed. "I am not discouraged, and I am not ill, because I know my true being as God's reflection."

It is obvious that no satisfactory demonstration of spiritual freedom is possible if we continue to think and act from the false and erroneous assumption that we are material. Centuries ago, Paul declared in effect the same thing when he said, "Henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more." We do not ignore the human problem and the apparent necessity of a step-by-step growth Spiritward, but the premise must be correct. As long as we continue to think that we live in matter that in itself is a basic admission that we are material and therefore subject to every belief of matter, with its train of disease, sin, and death. We cannot too positively and continuously claim our present true being. Referring to this very point, Mrs. Eddy says on page 554 of the textbook, "There is no such thing as mortality, nor are there properly any mortal beings, because being is immortal, like Deity,—or, rather, being and Deity are inseparable."

Since this is true, we have got to stop thinking of ourselves and others as material, and let our divine nature as God's image gradually appear and express itself. As a matter of fact, how can a material sense of being become spiritual? Perceiving man's true selfhood as idea, we refuse to identify ourselves with matter, with a matter body or a sinful and diseased concept of being. Man does not progress from the imperfect to the perfect. He exists at the standpoint of perfection. Perfection underlies the whole of being. Christian Science shows us that the only reason we suffer, is because we fail to measure up to the understanding of true being, and demonstrate it. Thinking of oneself as material puts one in the realm of personal sense and suffering. Learning to think of man as idea, as individual consciousness of good, will achieve just the opposite result.

At this point, someone may naturally question, "In claiming our true selfhood as God's image and expression, do we not take cognizance of the claims of sense, of evil propensities and disposition?" Yes. The claims of sense, of erroneous thinking, must be uncovered and recognized before they can be destroyed, or better still, eliminated from consciousness; but having been seen and denied, we learn to detach these false beliefs from our consciousness of both God and man. We see that they have no identification or reality, and are in no way associated with the perfection of God and His expression, man.

What Jesus Demonstrated

Christ Jesus illustrated, by his entire life, the coincidence of the divine with the human. He appeared as a human being, but his knowledge of divine facts, that which constituted his Christ-selfhood, existed entirely apart from the sense of a material body, even while he went about doing the ordinary things of life. He was able to heal the sick, raise the dead, and save the sinner, and in all of this he did not associate himself with the belief of matter. It was his absolute acknowledgment of the perfection of being that brought forth the evidence of healing and physical harmony. Referring to this, Mrs. Eddy says in "No and Yes" (p. 36): "Jesus' true and conscious being never left heaven for earth. It abode forever above, even while mortals believed it was here. . . . The real Christ was unconscious of matter, of sin, disease, and death, and was conscious only of God, of good, of eternal Life, and harmony. Hence the human Jesus had a resort to his higher self and relation to the Father, and there could find rest from unreal trials in the conscious reality and royalty of his being,—holding the mortal as unreal, and the divine as real."

Now, if Jesus evidenced the divine and human coincidence, may we not as well? Has your incorporeal, divine selfhood ever left heaven for earth? No. Just as did the Master, you and I can maintain and hold to our perfection of being, and at the same time apply that understanding to the multitudinous forms of erroneous belief that come before us to be denied and destroyed. On page 332 of Science and Health we read: "Into the real and ideal man the fleshly element cannot enter. Thus it is that Christ illustrates the coincidence, or spiritual agreement, between God and man in His image."

How and Why Jesus Healed

In the fifth chapter of John we have a striking illustration of how Jesus dealt scientifically with the beliefs of sin and heredity. Meeting on the road a man blind from birth, his disciples questioned the Master, apparently thinking that the man was being punished with blindness, because of sin, perhaps committed by his parents. In explanation, Jesus answered, "Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him." Holding to the eternal and unfallen perfection of man as the reflection of God, he set aside as false and untrue the cruel belief of heredity and sinful transmission. He denied the belief of heredity. He refused to accept the false theological beliefs of suffering and penalty. He saw clearly that neither this man nor his parents were, in their true being, sinners. He forgave the belief of sin by detaching it from man and recognizing it only as an evil imposition of mortal mind. The so-called evidences of blindness, of sin and heredity, were alike unreal to him. Perfection alone was the fact, to Jesus, and on that basis he healed the blind man.

Again, let us consider the example of correct and affirmative knowing, as illustrated in the raising of Lazarus. Standing at the tomb of a man who, they said, had been dead for three days, he said, "Lazarus, come forth." And he came forth. Jesus spoke with authority. He walked the earth with dominion, but it was not a personal dominion nor an assumed authority. He said, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." It was the dominion and authority of God which he reflected. He saw man as never born and never dying, unfallen, spiritual, and free—unfettered from every belief of the flesh. His realization of perfection set aside and annulled every belief or so-called law of birth, maturity, and decay, every mortal suggestion that man is conceived in sin, that he must sin, and therefore be punished with death. He saw the eternal and present perfection of man as the spiritual idea of Mind, the inseparability of man from God, who is his Life and the Life of all being.

Referring specifically to this striking evidence of the coincidence of the divine and human made practically available, Mrs. Eddy says in Science and Health (p. 75): "Jesus restored Lazarus by the understanding that Lazarus had never died, not by an admission that his body had died and then lived again. Had Jesus believed that Lazarus had lived or died in his body, the Master would have stood on the same plane of belief as those who buried the body, and he could not have resuscitated it." Is it not clear, then, that if we continue to go on, as the world has done for centuries, believing that we are living, dying, and sinning in a material body, we shall postpone indefinitely our realization and acceptance of the spiritual fact which our Master so positively demonstrated, the present and eternal immortality of man?

Understanding and Demonstration of Substance

Faulty economic theories and inequitable distribution are generally regarded as contributing causes to the present tragic upheaval of nations. In the light of Christian Science, however, we see that the answer to humanity's sore need is the understanding of God as infinite substance, as the substance of all being. We need to ponder and meditate more deeply on the meaning of that great word "infinite," to appreciate more intelligently its significance. Is it not evident that the reason why human beings, the world over, are having so much difficulty regarding supply and the "making of a living," is that everything is viewed from the standpoint of finity, rather than infinity? Lack, poverty, and starvation are the inevitable products of finite thinking. The human or mortal mind is in its very nature limited. All of its concepts are limited and finite. Christian Science declares that God being infinite, man, His embodiment or expression, reflects God's infinite nature. It declares that man is conscious of illimitable, substantial ideas.

As we grow in understanding of God as infinite substance, we learn to look away from matter. We refuse to accept the picture or argument of limitation and lack, no matter how aggressive or extensive it may appear. We learn to think from the standpoint of infinity. Science shows us that substance, being inexhaustible Mind, is never static, never stagnant, never accumulated, but is ever unfolding, revealing itself in immeasurable, beneficent ideas. Divine substance is not something that starts and stops, that begins and ends. It is ever appearing, ever unfolding from an inexhaustible source. Then, is it not comforting and reassuring to realize that nothing can or will stop divine supply from unfolding?

The very fact that God is Love means that the substance of Love has eternal continuity. Does this sound to you like beautiful but impractical theory? It is not. It is the fact of being, and we are concerned solely with divine facts and their demonstrable proof. Infinite substance is the fact; lack is the fiction. Like disease lack, poverty, or limitation of any kind is wholly a false mental presentation, and can be met in just the same way—by seeing its unreality. Lack is wholly a state of self and mass mesmerism. Everyone who accepts it is self-mesmerized. He is believing in material sense testimony, instead of knowing and abiding in the divine facts of omnipresent and infinite abundance.

We have such an excellent example of the divine and human coincidence, the knowing of divine facts, applied to the problem of lack, in Jesus' feeding of the five thousand. Here was a great multitude of hungry people to be fed. Jesus, questioning the disciples as to the amount of food on hand, received the reply, "Five loaves, and two fishes." They were accepting the testimony of the human senses; they were thinking finitely, from a material and limited point of view. If the Master had accepted their word, there would have been no feeding of that vast throng. But Jesus was knowing the truth; he was thinking from the standpoint of God, of infinite substance, and in so doing established and maintained so clearly the infinity of ideas as supply that to human sense there were basketsful left over—concrete evidence, humanly expressed, of the immeasurable, inexhaustible nature of true substance.

Meeting the Belief of Lack

In order to help others, as well as ourselves, we need to understand how intense and universal the belief of poverty and lack claims to be. We must have that loving compassion and breadth of vision that will lift the curse of poverty for all mankind. Fear and ignorance of God's infinite abundance are back of the animal instincts asserting themselves today in war and the predatory attacks of one nation upon another. Christian Science shows us that we must take cognizance of the world miasma of fear, and refuse to take in its contagion. It is the privilege of those who know the infinity of Love to save mankind from its fears. So, when a suggestion comes to you from a newspaper, a magazine, or the radio, that there is not enough, not enough rubber, not enough oil, not enough of any necessary thing, do not take it in. Refuse to be mesmerized. Say to yourself, at once: "I refuse to accept this as true. This is not my fear, nor anyone's fear of lack; it is the impersonal error of false belief. No one is afraid, and there is absolutely no basis for fear."

Christian Science develops, in the thought of those who are endeavoring to live it, a sincere desire to bring about the establishment of the brotherhood of man, and not to take that sublime idea as a beautiful but impractical theory. We recognize that it is self-interest, greed, avarice, and other forms of selfishness that express themselves in the maldistribution of an abundance that, even humanly, is able to supply everyone on this earth. Thinking from the standpoint of Love's infinity, is there such a thing as a "have-not"? No! As the children of God, we are all "have's," because we all have the infinity of Love's substance. And not only that, but we want everyone to have. Infinite Mind knows no law of partiality, and there is no such law, even if belief claims it to be so.

HOW DOES CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HEAL?

The disappearance of organic and functional disease, as well as of trouble in other forms, is continually recorded among those who have turned to Christian Science for help.

The method of such overcoming of difficulty is prayer —a spiritually scientific manner of thinking based on the teaching of Christ Jesus.

What this prayer is and how anyone can understand it and use it effectually in accordance with his need are fully explained in the Christian Science textbook,

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist

—o—

Lasting world peace has its roots in the permanency of divine laws and cannot be expected to rise from the foundations of selfish desires and aims, The Christian Science Board of Directors told the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, today.

Commending the efforts of the California peace conference to evolve a practical basis upon which nations might outlaw war for all time, the Directors pointed out that these efforts would be successful insofar as they reflect the operation of God's government in human affairs.

The Directors' message featured the fourth annual gathering of Christian Scientists to be held under the restrictions of wartime travel. The audience reflected the desire of the Directors that Mother Church members living beyond the 50-mile area of Boston should abide by the requests of the Office of Defense Transportation and remain at home this year.

Highlighting the meeting was the election of Mrs. Myrtle Holm Smith of Waban, Massachusetts, as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Paul Stark Seeley, and the re-election of Roy Garrett Watson, Treasurer, and Mary G. Ewing, Clerk.

Christian Scientists heartily concur in the purpose of peace conference representatives in California to find ways and means to prevent war, the Directors stated. They saw these efforts as making practical the Sermon on the Mount.

"The manifestation of God's law can never fail to quiet the turbulent waters, but we must assiduously strive to rule out of our thoughts any qualities which would work against, rather than for the peace of the individual, and therefore of the world." In this way, the Directors indicated that world peace stems from the individual overcoming of human faults.

"In order to keep one's spiritual understanding clear there must be deep consecration in thought and deed to the government of divine Principle. There can be no lasting peace where selfishness reigns. Therefore, it is by those who base their thoughts upon God's laws that the present global problems can be solved and a lasting peace attained."

The Directors stated that membership in The Mother Church was now four times greater than it was 35 years ago. There is a growing awareness, they said, of the need for unselfish service to God and His law. Without frankness and honesty in the world, they added, "we have a whirlpool in which there is no steadiness and no rest."

In tribute to the courageous struggle of Great Britain against the rising tide of Naziism, at and after the time when she stood alone in her armed resistance, and to those who held on in other lands, the Directors stated: "Their consecrated prayers and unceasing efforts have been rewarded with a glorious victory."

The Directors also paid tribute to the faithful chaplains and wartime ministers who are "bringing comfort, healing, and spiritual strength" to thousands of men and women in the armed forces.

Stating that the greatest catastrophe to overtake the human race was the loss of the true import of Jesus' life and teaching, the incoming President attributed that loss to Jesus' followers reverting to their old way of thinking and living, or "trying to graft the new onto the old." She cautioned against the human race losing its spiritual gains of more recent years for the same reasons.

The assurance of the defeat of godless evil seeking world domination has made 1945 one of the most outstanding in human history, the retiring President said. While a great deal has been accomplished, he insisted, there was plenty still to be done. He impressed upon his audience, however, that the assured way of accomplishment lies within the leaven of spiritual truth implanted in human consciousness by Christ Jesus nineteen centuries ago.

"Let us rise," he said, "to the opportunities before us. Let us be eager to help solve the political, racial, and economic problems confronting the human race. Let us not fear change, but confidently expect change. Let us resolve to express more of the limitless range of thought natural to man."

That the religious rights of individuals are beginning to be recognized by those outside Christian Science was revealed by the Committee on Publication which pointed out that recently in California Christian Scientists were exempted voluntarily from proposed health insurance legislation sponsored by Governor Earl Warren and the C. I. O.

Radio activities of The Mother Church have been extended, the Committee reported, as the result of a weekly program launched over 148 stations, consisting of electrical transcriptions recorded from the auditorium of the church. These are broadcast throughout the United States and in Canada, Hawaii, and the Canal Zone.

Demands for Christian Science literature continue to increase, according to the Trustees Under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy. Mrs. Eddy's writings, for instance, were figured to have risen in sale 23 per cent from 1941 to 1942, 57 per cent in 1943, and 78 per cent in 1944. The total sales for last year were said to be more than twice those of the last full pre-war year, 1940.

The Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society reported the most active year in the Society's history, measured in terms of circulation, advertising, and total business volume. The Christian Science Monitor, and other publications of the Society, all reached new highs in circulation, they said. The Monitor's Paris branch has been reopened and overseas activities "will be resumed as rapidly as we are privileged to do so."

More than 1,000,000 lines of new advertising were added to the Monitor's columns, with both the number of advertisers and linage attaining new high volumes, it was stated. The Trustees indicated that many important developments were in store for the Monitor in the postwar era, and to this end orders have been placed for new presses and other printing equipment of the finest quality.

Graduates From Wilbraham Academy

During commencement exercises at Wilbraham Academy on June 3, diplomas were awarded to Thomas D. Keery, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Russell Keery, 63 Fairlee road, Waban; and Richard S. Cawley, son of Mrs. Harold R. Bonnyman, 75 Clinton Place, Newton Centre.

One of the highlights of the graduation was the Senior Oratorical contest first prize for which was awarded to Richard S. Cawley by Scholastic Advisor Howe S. Newel. Cawley's topic was "The American Heritage." Second prize went to E. Randolph Harrison of Hartford, whose subject was "Primary Safeguards of World Peace." Other competitors were C. Receives Honors at Emerson College

—o—

Miss Phyllis Winterbottom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Winterbottom, 79 Howland road, West Newton, received highest honors at the Emerson College Commencement on Sunday, June 3. This means that she maintained an average of A— throughout her four year course.

She received the President's Prize, which is awarded to a student in the graduating class who in character, personality, and achievement, in both the Liberal Arts and Dramatic curriculum, serves as an example of the Emerson Ideal.

Miss Winterbottom was the Emerson May Queen in 1944 and this year played the lead in the Commencement play, "Lady Windermere's Fan" by Oscar Wilde. In January, 1945, Miss Winterbottom won the Greater Boston finals of the George Sand Memorial Contest which was sponsored by Columbia Pictures, Inc.

In The Service

Clinton Charles Brown, Jr., 22, coxswain, USN, of 14 Eliot Memorial road, Newton, has reported for duty aboard a destroyer of the Atlantic Fleet. He has seen service on two other destroyers of the Atlantic Fleet, and at an advanced Mediterranean base.

He wears the American Theater and Europen-African-Middle Eastern Theater ribbons, with four stars on the latter. He participated in the invasions of Sicily and Salerno, and was commended for his part in the sinking of a German U-boat in the Mediterranean.

Brown is the son of Mrs. Clinton C. Brown. He graduated from Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., in 1939.

—V—

ABOARD A U. S. BATTLESHIP IN THE PACIFIC (Delayed)—Salvatore Mancuso, coxswain, son of Domenic Mancuso, 17 William street, West Newton, fought at Okinawa aboard this venerable battleship, which, through 88 action-packed years, has never been hit by enemy shells.

The Okinawa action was her fifth major engagement of World War II and one of the most dramatic in her long career.

For more than a month her main and secondary batteries blasted at pin-point targets on the island. It was not a one-sided batle. At one time she won a duel with a shore battery that was hurling shells precariously close. At another an enemy bomber made a run on the ship, going down with a terrific explosion as the Navy guns found their mark. The ship saw action in Europe and also took part in the Iwo Jima bombardment.

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER STATION, ENGLAND—Sgt. John J. McDonald, son of Samuel L. McDonald, 377 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, has been awarded the good conduct medal while on duty as an airplane mechanic in the 359th fighter group.

He was cited for "having demonstrated fidelity through faithful and exact performance of duty, and efficiency through capacity to produce results."

Sgt. McDonald, a graduate of Our Lady's High school, Newton, entered the service May 11, 1942.

—V—

PRATT, KANSAS — Edward F. Gurnett, Jr., of 86 Withington road, Newtonville, is now stationed at Pratt Army Air Field where he is a member of a B-29 Bombardment Group that is slated to see action overseas in the near future.

Cpl. Gurnett, an expert specialized gunner, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Gurnett, Sr., also of Newtonville.

"Eddie" as he is known to his friends, is a graduate of St. John's High school, Worcester, and before entering the service was employed as an aircraft machinist by the Meisel Press Mfg. Co.

—o—

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England — First Lieutenant Horace S. Palmer, 21, of Newton Highlands, pilot on a B-17 Flying Fortress of the 95th Bombardment Group, is one of the many Eighth Air Force combat crewmen who have participated in heavy bombing assaults against the Nazis which helped bring the war in Europe to a successful conclusion. They have recently been flying "mercy missions" on which tons of food supplies have been dropped to starving populations of formerly enslaved nations, and have also been engaged in bringing back by air thousands of our own prisoner-of-war soldiers from Germany.

Lt. Palmer is a member of the Fortress group, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Robert H. Stuart of San Jose, Calif., which has been awarded two Distinguished Unit Citations. One for leading the first American bombing attack on targets in Berlin in March, 1944; the other for its outstanding bombing of railroad marshalling yards at Munster, Germany, in October, 1943.

Lt. Palmer is the son of Mrs. Helen G. Palmer of 335 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, Mass. Prior to entering the service he attended the University of Maine, Orono, Me.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created." This passage from the Bible, Revelation 4:11, comprises the Golden Text to be used in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, June 10.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God the Only Cause and Creator," and included in the Bible selections is "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of host; I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God" (Isaiah 44:6).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included in the Lesson-Sermon, "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (p. 502).

T-Sgt. Burns Will Be Home Soon Cables Family

A cablegram was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Burns of 73 Lombard street, Newton from their son, Tech. Sgt. William S. Burns, who was taken a prisoner by the Germans when his Flying Fortress was downed in January 1944. Since that time he has been at Stalag 17B in Austria. The cablegram stated that he was well and safe and hoped to see them soon.

The morning following the receipt of the cablegram their youngest son, Joseph V. Burns, 18, left Newton City Hall for induction. Their other sons in the service are First Lieut. Robert Jr., Jr., 26, with the Sixth Armored Division in Germany; Pfc. Leo, 21, in Italy, and Tech. Sgt. Thomas H. who has completed 26 missions as a member of a bomber crew and is now at Langley Field, Virginia.

Newton Man's Ship First To Enter Okinawa Waters

Lt. (j.g.) Gerard J. Callanan, USNR, 23, son of J. Edward Callanan, 197 Tremont street, Newton, was aboard the first warship to enter Okinawa waters.

He was there a week before the invasion of the island, at his battle station aboard a destroyer-minesweeper as it cleared a path toward the beach for other units of the Pacific Fleet.

During the week before the landings, the squadrons of "sweepers" came within range of enemy shore batteries, sailed through waters, some uncharted, where the chance of underwater explosions was high, and braved the hazards of Jap suicide pilots.

Even after the waters were swept clear, the job of the minesweepers was not finished. They were on the job screening larger units, escorting merchantmen, and patrolling against submarines and motor torpedo boats.

Lt. Callanan was graduated from Newton High School in 1939 and Harvard College in 1943. He was a baseball star both in high school and college.

Before going to the Pacific, Lt. Callanan participated in four major engagements in the European theatres of operations.

Elissa Landi At Cambridge Summer Theatre

ELISSA LANDI

When the Cambridge Summer Theatre opens its doors on Monday evening, June 11th for its sixth season it will be a summer theatre occasion of unusual brilliance for not only will the first Cambridge Summer Theatre production of this season be Noel Coward's sparkling comedy "Blithe Spirit" but it will also star lovely Elissa Landi in what is reported to be the only summer theatre appearance that she will make this summer.

The last time Miss Landi was in Cambridge was the summer of 1943 at which time she scored a brilliant hit in John van Druten's comedy of manners "The Damask Cheek." Other Cambridge Summer Theatre productions in which Elissa Landi will be happily remembered are "The Lady Has a Heart" and "Theatre."

Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" in which Miss Landi will play the title role is probably one of the funniest and most unusual comedies ever produced by the Cambridge Summer Theatre. The action of the play revolves around the comical embarrassment of a young husband who is visited by the ghost of his first wife who has been quietly deceased for some time. Merry confusion is the order of the evening as the ghost of the first wife taunts the bewildered husband in front of his second wife, and the well intentioned finistrations of a comical spiritualistic medium throws the upset household into even greater confusion and chaos.

Fortunate theatre goers who have already seen this Noel Coward comedy are already looking forward to seeing it again and those who have not seen it have a rare theatre experience in store for them. The supporting company will include Kay Strozzi, Roderich Winchell and Marjorie Peggs. The production will be staged by Neil McFee Skinner and the co-managers will be Louise Falk and John Huntington.

Due to the heavy advance interest in the comedy it is suggested that reservations be made now at the box office of The Cambridge Summer Theatre at Brattle Hall in Harvard Square, Cambridge or by telephoning Trowbridge 1465 where telephone reservations will be filled.

Comm. Hunt Cited For Skill and Devotion

Commander Emerson W. Hunt, USNR, has received a citation from Admiral Harold S. Stark, commander, U. S. Naval Forces in Europe.

Commander Hunt is the son of Mrs. Lana Cattelle Hunt, 16 Churchill terrace, Newtonville, and resides at Little's Point, Swampscott.

He received the citation for "outstanding professional skill and devotion to duty."

The citation reads as follows: "Your performance to duty as senior assistant to the force liaison officer for naval commander Western Task Force during the planning for the assault on France, and later from April to July, 1944, in charge of the London echelon of the force liaison section, has been brought to my attention. By your outstanding professional skill and tireless devotion to duty, you co-ordinated and supervised the activities of this section in a most outstanding manner. For your efficiency and assiduity you are hereby commended."

Capt. Pescosolido Home on Furlough

Capt. Amato Pescosolido, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Amato Pescosolido of 14 Melville avenue, Newtonville, who has seen action with the First, Third, Seventh and Ninth Divisions in Europe, has returned home on a 30-day furlough.

Capt. Pescosolido served with the famed 35th Infantry Division and in the 14 months he was overseas, was in battle 11 months. He came up through the ranks from a private and has been awarded the Bronze Star and Oak Leaf Cluster; the Purple Heart; three battle stars and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

He attended Newton High School where he was prominent in baseball and football. He was inducted into the Army on March 9, 1942 and on Dec. 2, 1942 was graduated from the Officers' Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga. His brother, Ernest J. Pescosolido, is a boatswain mate, first class, in the Coast Guard.

The new officers will be installed on June 15, at the War Memorial Building, Newton Centre.

Leads 4 Children to Safety In 2 Alarm Fire

A blaze which started in a garage at the rear of the house at 371 Austin street, West Newton on Saturday forenoon spread along the rear wall of the house to the attic, causing damage estimated at $8,500.

The house is owned by H. Winchester Hardy. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Hardy who telephoned the fire department and then led her four children to safety. A box alarm was sounded at 10:46 and Chief John L. Keating ordered a second alarm at 10:51, bringing aid from Waltham and Watertown, as well as apparatus from other parts of the city.

When the fire department arrived the rear of the house was a mass of flames. Under the direction of Chief John L. Keating and Deputy Chief John E. Corcoran the blaze was quickly brought under control.

Fire Interrupts Firemen's Dinner Honoring Fr. Taglino

A dinner in honor of Rev. Daniel J. Taglino of Our Lady's Church, newly appointed chaplain of the Newton Fire Department, was held Tuesday evening, June 5, at the Newton Corner Fire Station.

The speakers were Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Fire Chief John L. Keating, Assistant Chiefs John E. Corcoran and Francis J. Linnehan, Harold F. Young, Rev. Henry O'Connell of St. John's Seminary, chaplain of the Boston Fire Department; Rev. Daniel F. Riordan, former chaplain of the Newton Fire Department, now of Jamaica Plain, and Alderman John E. Barwise.

Fr. Tablino, who came to Newton from Revere, was appointed Catholic chaplain of the Fire Department by Chief Keating, with the approval of Mayor Goddard and Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

While the dinner was in progress a fire was discovered in the Bowers Block at Newtonville which necessitated the sounding of a second alarm. However, when the blaze was extinguished Chief John L. Keating and other officers and members of the department who were called out to the fire, returned to the banquet.

Sgt. Guise Killed in Action

Word that their son, Sgt. George W. Guise, 29, was killed in action in Czechoslavakia on May 9, the day after V-E Day, has been received from the War Department by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Guise of 170 Jackson street, Newton Centre.

Sgt. Guise was graduated from the Newton High School, and attended Boston University, the Vesper George School of Art and the Wentworth Institute. He had been employed by the R. H. Stearns Co. of Boston and later by the General Electric Company in Lynn.

He entered the Army in March 1941 and went overseas last August with the 26th Division. He served with the Yankee Division attached to the Third Army as an ammunition sergeant, had passed the examination for warrant officer and was due for promotion.

Sgt. Kirby Reported Missing, Liberated

Sgt. John J. Kirby, 25, husband of Mrs. Marie L. Kirby of 44 Hunnewell avenue, Newton, who had been listed as missing in action for five months, has been liberated from a German prison camp and is on his way home, according to word received by his wife.

At the time of the Nazi breakthrough, Sgt. Kirby was in a rest area in Luxembourg on Dec. 19 when German soldiers attired in American Army uniforms and riding in American tanks arrived and Kirby and his companions, who were without weapons of any kind, were taken prisoner. Three of the Americans escaped capture by hiding in a barn for four days. They finally made their way through enemy lines to their own forces. One of them wrote to Mrs. Kirby telling of the German raid, but stated that he had been unable to learn the fate of her husband.

A member of a tank battalion, Sgt. Kirby has been in service three years and overseas since January, 1944. He is the son of Judge James T. Kirby of Whitman and has a borther, James, and a sister, Marion. His wife and son, J. Kirby, Jr., reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Prout. He attended Boston College for two years and was a second year student at Boston University Law School when he entered the Army.

Aldermen Grant Petition To Raytheon for Use of Land

A new petition of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co., for a permit to use land on Bridge street, Newton, as a recreation area was granted by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night, after a technical change had been made in the proposed measure.

The petition was granted on condition that no activities be carried on there betwen 9 p. m. and 8 a. m.

The original petition, calling for the use of the land as an open air club and recreation center, had previously been adopted by the board, but was subsequently vetoed by Mayor Goddard because of his desire to uphold the zoning ordinances, and the veto was sustained by the board at the second meeting in May.

The new petition, granted by the board Monday night, called for the "change of non-conforming use from a contractor's storage yard to outdoor luncheon and exercise area, for employees of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co., only, on the lot at the rear of 50 and 54 Bridge street, Ward 2, in a private residence district."

The fact that the petition was granted as a change on "non-conforming use" rather than as an outright exception to the zoning regulations is believed to meet the mayor's ppproval).

All-City School Orchestra To Give Concert, June 8

The third annual concert of the All-City Grade School Orchestra of the Newton Public Schools will be presented in the High School Auditorium on the evening of June 8, at 8 o'clock. Admission is free.

Each grade school in Newton has its own orchestra of pupils from grades three to six who play for their assemblies, Parent Teachers Association programs and other school affairs. Some children began work on their instrument last fall, others have played two or three years. Some take private lessons outside of school. Many are taught during school time by school instructors. The All-City Orchestra is a combination of all of the individual school groups. Groups such as these serve a need in their own particular schools and assure seasoned players in the junior and senior high chools.

The movement, started three years ago, has had a steady, healthy growth under the instruction of Alan D. Parker and Vincent J. Marotto, supervised by James H. Remley. Pupils own their instruments for the most part. Some of the instruments are furnished by the schools, such as, three-quarter size violins, trombones, and melophones. Class instruction during the school day is free of charge. Groups are reorganized by the principal of the school each fall to include newcomers and beginners.

The program on the eighth of June will include selections by the orchestra and advanced work on various instruments by ensembles and pupil-soloists.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

LAND COURT

Case No. 8843, Misc. In Equity

Middlesex, ss.

To Phyllis Eldon, of Bronxville, in the State of New York; Mildred T. Spalding, of Cambridge, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; any and all other heirs, legatees and devisees there may be of Ida M. Taylor, late of Newton, in said County of Middlesex:

GREETING:

Whereas a suit in equity has been begun in our Land Court by Mary Elizabeth St. George, of said Newton, representing that she is the owner of a parcel of land on Elmhurst Road in said Newton conveyed to her by deed of Ida M. Taylor dated May 5, 1926, recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds in Book 4966, Page 414, and that as a part of the purchase price of said land, the said plaintiff executed and delivered to said Taylor a mortgage note dated May 5, 1926 for $6000.-00, duly recorded with said Deeds in Book 4966, Page 415; that said note has been paid but no discharge was ever executed, and praying that said mortgage be declared to be a cloud on her title:

WE COMMAND YOU, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of August next, which Monday is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said Court at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiff that some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that the plaintiff give further notice of this suit by publishing a true and attested copy of this order in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication to be one month at least before the first Monday in August next.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of our Land Court, the eighteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-five.

Robert E. French, Recorder.

A true copy, Attest:

THE LAMENT OF THE LITTLE PERSIAN RUG

I pray you listen, mortals, to the story of my life
For I am weak and threadbare, worn and torn by stress and strife.
When you walk upon my patterns, and track dirt all through my hair,
Do you forget, dear masters, that I die for lack of care?
In the far-off Persian city where I first saw sunny day,
A loving weaver made me—I was handsome, young and gay.
Then alas, he had to sell me—for I journeyed to come here,
Where unwashed and all uncared for, I still try my best to cheer.
Now I learn (and how my heart leaps!) that there's come to town at last,
From my distant home a mortal, like my weaver of the past.
I have heard from many cousins, large and small, both young and old,
That this man is our good angel, knowing all our needs untold,
He can match our strange, warm colors—tie our complicated knots
He can give us back our patterns and remove unsightly spots,
So for love of allah, masters, hear my pleading ere I rave,
Let GREGORIAN renew me—let him see my plight, and save!

Organize Mercantile Division Of War Fund Campaign

Mrs. John E. Peakes Appointed Chairman for 1946

Mrs. John E. Peakes of Newton Highlands has been appointed Chairman of the Mercantile Division in the 1946 Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign for Newton, which will open on September 27th, and Lincoln Alvord, also of Newton Highlands, will serve as Co-Chairman in this division.

Mrs. Peakes was Newton Highlands Chairman of the Mercantile Division during the past three campaigns and is particularly qualified to succeed Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne, who headed the division so successfully in the 1945 Campaign. As Assistant Chairman in charges of store and business solicitation in the villages, Chest Agencies, and Clubs and Societies, Mrs. Peakes has appointed Mrs. John C. Campbell of West Newton, who has been Chairman of West Newton Mercantile during the past two campaigns.

In Auburndale Mrs. Everett H. Potter will serve as Village Chairman; in Newton Mrs. George W. Strandberg will be Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs; in Newton Centre Mrs. Kenneth Fortune will act as Chairman and will have as her assistant Mrs. Charles Naselli; in Newton Highlands Mrs. David D. Bloom has been appointed Chairman and will have as her assistant Mrs. Elliott Abbott; in Newtonville Mrs. Wallace M. Ross will act as Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Albert P. Everts; in Waban Mrs. Arthur W. Davis has been appointed Chairman; and in West Newton Mrs. Walter L. Maclachlan will be Village Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Clyde B. Rycroft. Chest Agencies solicitation will be under the direction of Mrs. William B. Plumer of Waban, and Clubs and Societies will be handled by Mrs. John M. Powell, also of Waban, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Garvin of Newton.

Lincoln Alvord has served the Chest in many capacities since the 1936 Campaign, was a member of the Special Accounts team in the 1944 Campaign, and Chairman of that group in the 1945 Campaign. Due to his long association in Newton business, he is a natural successor to Frank Hackett, who was Co-Chairman of the Mercantile Division in 1945.

Mr. Alvord is responsible for the Special Sections committees in Newton business and has appointed as his section chairmen: George W. Bryson in charge of Special Accounts, John J. Cahill in charge of automotive concerns, William M. Cahill in charge of banks, Donald P. Frail in charge of bank employees, William J. Duffy in charge of beverage stores, and Frederick J. Fessenden Jr. in charge of private schools.

The Mercantile Division has shown a rapid growth during the last four years. In the 1942 Campaign this Division raised $9,963; in the 1943 Campaign $11,102; in the 1944 Campaign $16,897; and in the 1945 Campaign $19,078, a percentage increase in three years of over 90 percent.

With the same loyal support to the Chest and War Fund shown by the merchants of the city in the past few years, Mrs. Peakes and Mr. Alvord are confident that last year's goal will be surpassed.

Lieut. Caruso, Liberated, Expected Home Soon

Lt. Santo F. Caruso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caruso of 318 River street, West Newton, who was a prisoner of the Germans has been released and is expected home soon.

Lt. Caruso went overseas last July and had been in combat 20 days as bombardier of a heavy bomber based in England when the plane was shot down over enemy territory, and he was taken prisoner.

He is a graduate of the Newton High School and the Bentley School of Accounting. Before entering the service he had been an accountant in Boston.

Wins Bronze Star Medal

CAPT. ALBERT H. WALKER

Captain Albert H. Walker 47 Washington Park, Newtonville, has recently been awarded the Bronze Star Medal "for meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy of the United States in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany." A member of the 334th Field Artillery, 87th Division in Gen. Patton's Third Army, Capt. Walker participated in the Battle of the Bulge, Siegfried Line capture of Coblenz, Rhine crossing and the dash across Germany in four week's time. On May 12th his battalion held a memorial service for their fallen buddies in a beautiful 16th century church commandeered for the purpose in central Germany, at which Capt. Walker officiated at the organ.

Auto Use Stamps On Sale Saturday

Denis W. Delaney, Collector of Internal Revenue, announced today that the new $5.00 Automobile Use Tax Stamp will be placed on sale in all post offices and offices of collectors of internal revenue on Saturday, June 9, 1945. The law required the owner of every motor vehicle which is used upon the highways to buy this stamp and to display it on the vehicle beginning July 1, 1945.

The law provides both cash and jail penalties for failure to pay this tax. To protect themselves against unnecessary penalties, Collector Delaney advised owners of motor vehicles not to be misled by false rumors alleging that this tax has been repealed.

The stamps will be sold over the counter at all post offices and offices of internal revenue colectors. In addition, collectors of internal revenue will fill mail orders when accompanied by cash, money orders or certified checks. Personal checks cannot be accepted for the purchase of revenue stamps.

The law required that the stamp be prominently displayed on the motor vehicle on and after July 1, 1945. Where possible, the stamp should be placed on the windshield as recommended by the proper officials of each state.

Motorists wil find that the stamps usually will stick better if they dampen the windshield instead of the stamp. They should avoid repeated dampening of the stamp. Motorists who desire to do so may reinforce the stamp with adhesive tape or similar aids.

To protect themselves against loss or theft, Collector Delaney advised motorists to kep a separate record of the serial number which appears on each stamp. Motorists also are asked to write on the back of the stamp the make, model, serial number and State license number of the vehicle.

N. H. Junior Woman's Club Elects Officers

The Newton Highlands Junior Woman's Club brought the year to a close by electing new officers for the coming season. The new president, following Constance Wheeler, is Gertrude Nightingale. The other officers are Dorothy Hunter, vice president; Leone Searway, secretary; Virginia Vaughan, treasurer, and the senior advisors are to be Mrs. Allston T. Budgell and Mrs. Ralph Tailby.

Miss Nightingale, Mrs. Budgell and Mrs. Tailby recently attended a tea held at the Hotel Statler by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs in honor of the new junior presidents and senior advisors. The sixty junior woman's clubs from all over the state were represented.

Saturday, June 2, the members of the Newton Highlands club went to Cushing General Hospital, with the Newtonville juniors, to visit with wounded soldiers.

The club will not hold monthly meetings during the summer months, but will resume functioning in September with a Get-Acquainted Tea for the new and old members.

Few Vacancies Available At Camp Day

Furniture for the living quarters of several members of the camp staff at Camp Frank A. Day is urgently needed, it was announced yesterday by Frank M. Simmons, Camp Director. Included in the needs are beds, bureaus, chairs, tables, and lamps.

Only ten places remain at camp for boys for the first three-week period. One hundred and forty-one boys have already made their reservations and every indication points to the largest camp season in recent years. There are still a few vacancies for the last six weeks, but applications are coming in daily and these places will be filled within the next two weeks.

The program at Camp has been well planned by the camp staff who have been meeting during the past several weeks. Business Manager Ralph Fellersen has assured the Camp Committee that sufficient food supplies will be available to give the campers an excellent daily menu.

Bill Filed for Abolition of The Presidential Primary

For the past several years, immediately following the presidential primaries the newspapers in the Commonwealth have made numerous comments, and the city and town clerks' associations and former governors have commented publicly on the futility of holding presidential primaries. Editorial comment and statements made by election officials in various communities have placed the cost of the vote cast at the presidential primaries as high as $7.80 per vote. The legislative committee on election laws fully cognizant of the almost total lack of public interest in the presidential primaries and realizing the importance of cre-

VOLUNTEERING VACATION DAYS to help in summer playtime programs, Miss Barbara Tomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Tomb of 167 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, checks the countless opportunities to assist with playgrounds, picnics, hikes, games, craft and block parties. A student at Smith College, Barbara is one of the first Newton girls to sign up for the summer. An urgent need for summer volunteers from 15 to 45 is stressed by the Newton Community Council, 93 Union street, Newton Centre, LAS. 5121, where applications will be welcomed.

GOOD BUSINESS

by Edgar A. Guest

If I possessed a shop or store, I'd drive the grouches off my floor! I'd never let some gloomy guy offend the folks who come to buy; I'd never keep a boy or clerk . . . with mental toothache at his work, nor let a man who draws my pay drive customers of mine away. I'd treat the man who takes my time . . . and spends a nickel or a dime with courtesy, and make him feel that I was pleased to close the deal. Because tomorrow, who can tell? He may want stuff I have to sell. And in that case, then glad he'll be to spend his dollars all with me. The reason people pass one door . . . to patronize another store, is not because the busier place . . . has better silks, or gloves, or lace, or special prices, but it lies . . . in pleasant words and smiling eyes; the only difference, I believe, is in the treatment folks receive!

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policy of this newspaper—Editor's Note).

Governor Tobin

Governor Tobin has been having a difficult time with our State Legislature. First and foremost, our legislative body has seen fit to ignore all the recommendations made by the Governor for increasing the state's revenue. These included upping the tax on liquor, cigarettes, business income and horse and dog-tracks. Another vital recommendation was the abolition of the state tax of $6,800,000. This latter was for the purpose of relieving the excessive burden on real estate throughout the commonwealth. The Governor's most recent rebuff was when the Legislature decided to freeze salaries of state employees during the legislative recess. The appointment of any new permanent state employees during this period would also be prohibited.

Time will tell whether or not the Legislature has acted wisely. Democratic partisans, of course, have indicated that all these rebuffs were largely political, due to the majority of Republicans in the Legislature. I am inclined to doubt that, despite the fact that one or two of his ideas seemed to me to have merit.

Democratic Gossip

It is being rumored that Senator David I. Walsh will retire next year and that Gov. Tobin will be given the honor of following in his foot-steps, provided, of course, that the latter can defeat the G.O.P. candidate. If this happens, Paul Dever will run for Governor against Lt. Governor Robert F. Bradford. That would prove quite a contest, especially if Dever should reveal a substantial war record by the time he returns to civil life.

Now, if the Governor emerges from his battle with the Legislature a less popular figure than he was on election day, it is quite possible that Henry Cabot Lodge may decide that his old Senate seat looks more interesting than a gambling shot at the Governorship. Then we would have a battle royal between two handsome, dashing men—Tobin and Lodge. Both are excellent speakers and both have tremendous appeal to the ladies. Col. Lodge should have a slight edge, due to his very fine war record, which Gov. Tobin, of course, is not in a position to duplicate.

I realize, incidentally, that gossip has it that the late President Roosevelt insisted that Tobin should carry on as Mayor of Boston and then run for Governor, in order to strengthen the New Deal forces in the 1944 election. That makes sense and is quite possibly true. However, it is also true that Gov. Tobin may have been more benefited by the Roosevelt candidacy than Mr. Roosevelt was by the Tobin candidacy.

Congressional Salaries

Congress appears to have started something when it gave its members increased expense accounts in lieu of a salary increase. You will read that the Senate stood on its dignity and declined to intervene or to do the same thing for its own members. Soon afterwards, President Truman indicated that Congressmen should be paid at least $15,000 per year and possibly even $25,000. The White House has now discovered that this might not be such a wise move AT THIS TIME, owing to the desire to hold the Little Steel wage-line. Also, there were a number of salary increase bills before Congress, including the very worthy raise for Postal Employees. This latter has long been overdue. How could Congress refuse ANY wage raises at the very time when it was giving itself a Christmas present, The net result has been that the word has gone out that Congress should be satisfied with a raise to $15,000, only and that even that might well be deferred until the present emergency is over. 'Nuf ced.

New Police Chief

Congratulations to our new Police Chief, Nicholas Veduccio, who has been serving as Acting Chief ever since the unfortunate death of Chief Hughes last September. He has had a very rich experience and is highly regarded by all who know him. It is too bad that the matter had to drag along for so many months. However, that very delay has given the new Chief an opportunity to show his wares to the public, which seems to be quite satisfied with the appointment.

Our Vice President

For a few weeks I propose to try an experiment and pose one question at the end of this column. These will NOT be trick questions, but will refer to people or organizations or events with which most of us should be familiar.

The first question is a tough one. It may start some heated arguments. However, there is but one correct answer.

WHO is our Vice President of these United States?

P.W.C.

Newton Boy Liberated From German Prison Camp

Lt. Ralph Hinckley, a prisoner in a German camp since the summer of 1944, is now in Paris and enjoying his first taste of liberty in many a month. He will soon be on his way home and, in the meantime, has been in direct touch with his mother, Mrs. Mercer Hinckley of Page road, Newtonville.

In a letter written from Paris on June 2, he writes this about the Red Cross, "The Red Cross is still taking the lead in making things easier for us. Honestly, Mom, they have done and are doing one of the biggest and best jobs of all in this war. No matter where a guy may be—from a prison camp in Germany to a rest leave in England or the continent, that bright red cross is there lending a strong right arm when needed in the pinches or when things are all O.K. A big cheery smile and 'Are you having a good time?' and 'May we help you?' Believe me, if ever there is a 'home away from home' a Red Cross Club or Hotel in the E.T.O. is it."

Exhibition and Tea by Pupils Of Studio School of Art

Several Newton girls are among the Junior Class of the Studio School of Art, who are showing their paintings, drawings and art work at a private tea and the fourth annual exhibition to be held at the school, Studio No. 307, Fenway Studios, 30 Ipswich street, Boston, on next Sunday, June 17, 1945. Audrey Brooks, Rita Colantuono, and Shirley Shields of Newton, and Jane Lynch of Auburndale, the advanced group of Juniors, who have been busy every Saturday morning during the past year, will exhibit oils, charcoal work, and pastels, as well as linoleum black-prints. Ethel Shovelier, Patricia Fay, Carol Bryant, Betty Morse, Janet Rodgers, Barbara Glazier and Joan Pedulla of Belmont, and Sheila Malone of Cambridge will also show charcoal and pencil drawings, water colors, pastels, linoleum block-prints, and museum study work. Some adult work is also included in the show. The Juniors will serve as hostesses at the private showing. The exhibition will be open to visitors from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. from July 18 through July 20. The director of the Studio school, Miss Elizabeth J. Moynahan, B.S.E. of Belmont, is a well-known portrait painter and teacher in the Boston been exhibited frequently in Boston galleries.

its will be a Booby Trap exhibit especially built by the famous Navy Seabees which will show many of the devices used by the enemy to delay the advance of our troops. These devices will be demonstrated by a crew of Seabees.

Major Alex Smith is in charge of the Cavalcade whose personnel will include a 1st Lieutenant, a Seabee Chief, seven soldiers and two Seabee Gunners. In addition, the group will be accompanied by two veteran heroes recently returned from the front, who will speak at the Bond Rally.

Plans for the Cavalcade's visit are in charge of the Newton Savings Bank, West Newton Savings Bank and Newton Centre Savings Bank, assisted by George W. Sweet, Chairman of the War Finance Committee. The public is invited to attend the special bond rally and it is hoped that they will come prepared to buy those extra War Bonds which are necessary to the success of the campaign.

The Cavalcade is being sent through the state by the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts as a part of their contribution to the 7th War Loan Drive.

At the Bond Rally members of the staff of the Savings Banks will sell bonds from a booth erected on one of the Cavalcade trucks.

Services—

Lichtliter, D.D., will be the summer minister for the third consecutive season.

Dr. Lichliter was minister of Central Church from 1919 to 1924 and then, for eighteen years, served the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio. In 1942, after forty-two years of service, Dr. Lichliter retired from the parish ministry and came to Boston as one of the executives of the Supreme Council 33 degree of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, specializing in ritual research and editorial work. He is an affiliated member of the American Unitarian Association and a lecturer in Homiletics in Boston University School of Theology.

Because of a necessary absence on August 5th and 12th, his place will be taken by his son, the Rev. James M. Lichliter, rector of Emmanuel Church, Webster Groves, St. Louis.

The summer ministers will be available for pastoral service in emergencies for which our regular ministers are not needed or cannot be reached. Telephone numbers: Asp. 5550 and Han. 9195. Residenct, 1080 Beacon street, Brookline. Office: 1117 Statler Building, Boston.

During July these services will be held in The Second Church of Newton, West Newton, and through August and the first Sunday in September in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, and the hour of service will be 11 o'clock.

The cooperating church and ministers are: Central Congregational Church of Newton, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill; The Church of the New Jerusalem, Rev. Horace W. Briggs; The Newtonville Methodist Church, Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford; The First Unitarian Society in Newton, Rev. Herbert Hitchen; Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Rev. William E. Blake; The Second Church in Newton, Rev. R. Clyde Yarbrough.

The sermon topics during July will be as follows: July 1, America Speaks to the World; July 8, The Non-Futility of the Individual; July 15, The Primacy of the Individual; July 22, The Accent of Assurance; Jul 29, Re-Vitalizing Tradition.

William P. Helms will direct the music with Eleanor Vaughn Smith as organist; soprano, Esther J. Kendall, Marion Green; contralto, Ruth Perkins, Barbara Ziegler; tenor, William P. Helms, Thomas C. Cooper; bass, Paul C. Scarborough, Carl E. Erlanson.

onto the wall above, and back of the tellers windows. By means of an ingenious mechanism in the projector, the hands of the clock are shown only on the margin of the circle and show the correct time every minute of the day. The entire center of the clock image displays War Bond slogans which are changed every few seconds. Some of these slogans—both illustrated and plain are:

"You insure your future when you buy war bonds."

"Keep your War Bonds in the fight; Bonds cashed in Don't help to win."

"Buy the extra War Bonds here."

"When you buy War Bonds, you're saving, not giving."

Bank officials believe that this unusual method of reminding customers of the Seventh War Bond Drive has resulted in many purchases.

The Western Union Telegraph Co., has an instrument in operation at the Upper Falls station, thanks to the petitioners of a while ago. Now all that is needed is a new depot.

Prayers for those at sea and Thanksgiving for safe returns are very often heard in the services in Grace Church, Newton, these days.

—o—

Subscribers to the telephone service have complained considerably that when they asked for a number, as, for instance, 190-3, the operator failed to repeat it back to them, and so they did not know whether they had been understood or not. The officers of the company say to subscribers: When that happens hang up your telephone and ring sharply again. The result of this course is that the full force of the ring will then go into the operator's ear (subscribers know how it feels) and a few prescriptions of this sort will effect a cure.

The Free Library has made another new departure and will circulate the current numbers of the magazines, the same as books. This is a popular move, as the demand is already greater than the supply. The shelves of new books, placed for public inspection, are very liberally patronized, and few popular books remain there long.

Forest Grove is now open to the public and will doubtless receive generous patronage from the Newton Villages the present season. Manager H. P. Bartlett has erected a mammoth pavillion for dancing and also has a famous "Merry-go-round" which is a delight to the children and their elders as well.

The Hopewell Railroad Company has moved to Highlandville. It has been recently occupying the building formerly occupied by the U. S. Fireworks Co. Upper Falls item.

Now that the thermometer is once more getting ambitious to rise in the world a good many young men are asking themselves why our city fathers do not make an appropriation for a bath house on the shores of Crystal lake. Other cities have long since discovered the benefit to be derived from such institutions. May be the ladies who believe in woman's rights would want one too. But any way, lets have a bath house and have it quickly.

which gets under way at 10 a.m. and continues until 10.30 p.m., and includes events for children from a few months old to djraft age.

"The Board of Directors were of the opinion that the athletic and other events formerly held on the Fourth should not have been permitted to lapse," Mr. Baker said. "The directors felt this should be an important annual function of the Association and that no better time than now could be chosen to revive the event. Many children will not be able to go away this year, either because their fathers are with the armed services or because their parents are active in war work. Therefore, it becomes a duty for Newton Centre adults to see that the children enjoy this important day."

The "old-fashioned Fourth" will open at the Newton Centre playground with doll and baby carriage parades, a pet show (all varieties) and novelty races. A two-hour swimming meet will be held at Crystal Lake, with more athletic events back at the playground for older boys and girls, followed by a twilight baseball game by two Newton Centre teams. There will be several prizes for each event, which will be awarded in the evening. Also plenty of ice cream and cookies will be available for the children.

Mayor Paul A. Goddard has been asked to speak briefly in the evening. There will be a songfest of old-fashioned numbers and patriotic tunes. After dark there will be a two-hour motion picture show, including a full-length, up-to-the-minute Western. Everyone is invited.

Co-chairmen of the Committee are Paul H. Pierce, 37 Crystal street, Edmund H. Flanagan, 18 Pine Crest road, and Scott H. Wells, 24 Pine Crest road.

ating and building up a lively and aggressive interest in the selection of candidates for all elections to the end that the two party system of government in this State may be a strong and virile force have made a revision of the existing law based on petitions pending before it, which eliminates the presidential primaries and sets up an entirely new system for the selection of ward and town committees, members of the state committees and delegates to the National Conventions. At the hearings held before the committee on Election Laws on the original bill, there was no opposition and the proponents of the bill were supported by the leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties and such changes as occurred in the revised bills have been heartily endorsed by them. The revised bill as filed in the House is the unanimous report of the committee on Election Laws.

The proposed bill, filed by Representative George E. Rawson of Newton, chairman of the Election Laws Committee, provides for the election of ward and town committees at caucuses of the political parties to be held in each ward and town in the state. The same caucuses which elect the ward and town committees will also elect delegates to a convention to be held in each senatorial district, which convention would elect the man and the woman members of the state committee to which that senatorial district is entitled. In a year in which a President of the United States is to be elected, the same caucuses would elect delegates to a convention to be held in each congressional district at which the district delegates to the National Conventions of the political parties would be elected.

The committee on Election Laws has spent a great deal of time in drawing this legislation so that it will meet the needs and demands of the voters of this Commonwealth by giving the powers (and the responsibility) of election of important political committees to the people. The committee sincerely feels that passage of this bill will produce more interest by the voters, which in turn will give better government to the Commonwealth at a minimum of expense.

Not to take effect until 1948. Member of political committees elected in 1944 to hold over until 1948.

Officer O'Donnell Returns to Police Force

Lawrence A. O'Donnell who recently received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Navy after nearly three years of service as a chief petty officer, has returned to duty on the Newton Police force, and has been assigned to duty as operator at the signal desk at police headquarters.

Before being granted military leave, he was for many years a motorcycle officer and also served as an inspector of the staff of the traffic bureau.

Following his enlistment in the Navy in 1942 he served at a base in Newfoundland, later being assigned to duty on a patrol ship in the Iceland area and more recently served in Cuba as an instructor in aerial gunnery.

Patrolman O'Donnell, who resides on California street, Newtonville, is married and has one daughter. He was appointed a member of the police force April 19, 1924.

Burglar Surprised, Caught After Chase

A youthful burglar surprised in the act of robbing the house at 32 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, on Friday afternoon, by Officer Matthew Phillips of the Newton police, fled from the scene and ran down the railroad tracks to Websters Woods where he was captured about an hour later following a hunt by the Newton, Brookline and Metropolitan police.

The attention of Patrolman Phillips was attracted by the sound of hammering in the house which had formerly been occupied by Ex-Alderman Richard Harte, now in Virginia. On entering the premises he found the youth had broken open a cabinet with a wrench, and as he ran from the house followed by the officer he threw away the wrench and radio equipment which he had taken. When he lost sight of him, Patrolman Phillips notified headquarters and a radio alarm was sounded. Inspector Joseph B. Lyons saw the lad emerge from the woods on Hammond Pond Parkway and then run back as he caught sight of the police. He was hiding behind a tree when a shot was fired by Patrolman Charles H. Marden that startled him and he dove into the underbrush about 25 feet away from Motorcycle Officer Halloran who quickly reached the spot and arrested him at the point of his service revolver.

The youth, a 16-year-old Newton Highlands boy, was taken to Newton police headquarters where he was charged with breaking and entering and larceny and held for arraignment in the Juvenile Court.

Wounded, Home on Leave

C.M. 2-c Albert J. Bartolomucci, 22, son of Mrs. Mary Bartolomucci of 86 Dalby street, Newton, has arrived home on leave after recovering from wounds received in the explosion which preceded the sinking of the Destroyer USS Halligan, off Okinawa, on March 26.

Bartolomucci was on the upper deck when the blast occurred that blew up the forward part of the ship. He was knocked unconscious and was later taken from the sinking ship by a rescue party from another ship and placed aboard a hospital ship. He was taken to Saipan where he recovered from his wounds.

Bartolomucci has been in eleven invasions in the Mediterranean and Pacific. He has served in the Navy for four years, the past 18 months of which he has been in the Pacific.

File Fuel Oil Applications Now

The public is urgently requested by the Newton Rationing Board, to file their applications for fuel oil promptly. Every householder who was issued fuel oil coupons last season, will receive by mail a simple form to fill out. Thousands have already been mailed, and everyone will have received theirs in a few days.

Because of the enormous job of acting on every application, and in order to relieve storage facilities by filling individual tanks now, it is imperative that applications be returned promptly.

The 22 piece orchestra will be under the direction of Mario Mantini. Vocalists will be Margaret Janis, Wesley Cobblestone and Steve Harrington.

The Sunday School teacher had made a convincing talk on the triumph of good over beauty. As she ended the talk she turned to a ten-year-old pupil and asked, "Now, Alice, which would you rather be—beautiful or good?"

"Well," replied Alice, "I'd rather be beautiful—and repent."—Reader's Scope.

He can't ask you now!

• • • He's an American hero. After fighting bloody battles in the Pacific, he was home on leave two years ago.

• • • You may remember seeing his picture. His name is John Basilone, Marine Gunnery Sergeant. He traveled all over America, urging every American to buy more bonds.

• • • He said: "You don't know—you can't know—how much it means to the boys out there when they hear the folks back home have just put another War Bond Drive over the top."

• • • They gave him the Congressional Medal of Honor and offered him a commission. He didn't want it. "I'm a plain soldier," he said. "I want to stay one."

• • • Well, he stayed a plain marine—like Joe and Bill and the fellows down the street. He can't ask you to buy bigger bonds during the Seventh. He was killed a few weeks ago on Iwo, just after he had led his assault team to the edge of an airfield we needed desperately.

• • • We can't let him and all our other fighting heroes down. Remember, last year we had two War Loan Drives by this time. The Seventh is our personal call to arms—two drives in one. That's why our quota is large.

• • • We must meet it—we will meet it—for the hero of Iwo—for Victory—for pride in America.

Newton Centre Ice Houses Burn, Wars Follow

Pumping water at ice house fire, Crystal Leke, 1914

by PAUL CONSIDINE

The superstitious brethern, who frequently invest good coin of the realm in various and sundry charms, good luck pieces and assorted gadgets that are fondly hoped to guarantee or, maybe, forcast the future, attach, as do probably the majority of those who purchase racing forms and the like, a bit of supernatural significance to the fact that two of Newton's general alarm fires occurred in the same place, Newton Centre. That both of them were in ice-houses and that each of the huge structures burst into flame and was destroyed, at just about the time Germany put the torch to Europe, thus starting it's twin marches to destruction in World Wars One and Two, is but another 'sign' when you listen to them tell it.

Whether coincidence or an omen, both fires taxed the facilities of the city's fire fighting resources and fire apparatus of another generation did race to the first ice-house conflagration behind the gallopping hooves of fire horses, at just about the time the Kaiser's goosestepping, iron helmetted invaders set Europe aflame in World War One.

Dep. Fire Chief John E. Corcoran

Then, twenty years after Newton Centre's first ice house fire, and of Germany's initial attempt at world domination — on a freezing cold Sunday in March, 1934 — when Adolph Hitler had begun the forging of history's greatest war machine, another of the same, the Metropolitan Ice House, in Newton Centre, burst out in flames.

The fire, assumed to be of incendiary origin, is still considered to be one of the most difficult in the Department's history. Discovered in the height of a heavy snowstorm, three alarms were sounded in quick succession by the late Chief Randlett. Nine hours later, during which time firemen suffered many injuries, the 'all out' was sounded and the Department returned home to lick it's wounds...

That's what the world is doing, too, according to the superstitious brethern... and even as the ice houses have been destroyed... so has Germany, they say.

Ashley - Uhlenhaut

Easter lilies and snapdragon decorated the Leslie Lindsey Chapel of Emmanuel Church on June 9th, for the marriage of Miss Nancy Uhlenhaut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindley A. Bond of Boston and Ensign Donn Langdon Ashley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Ashley of 284 Woodward street, Waban. The three o'clock ceremony, performed by the Rev. Dr. Eason Cross assisted by the Rev. Arthur S. Payzant, was followed by a reception at the Junior League.

The bride's gown was of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and had a full skirt with a long train with which she wore her mother's veil of illusion with a headdress of heirloom lace and orange blossoms. She carried a prayerbook on a cushion of lace wth two white orchids, with stephanotis on each end of the lace bookmarkers. The attendants in delphinium blue chiffon with a cascaded ruffle back forming a short train, wore headdresses which matched the large faus of pink gladioli and light blue delphinium edged with white starched lace. They were Miss Jean Uhlenhaut, of Boston, as maid of honor; Miss Doris Engels of New York; Miss Jacqueline Hope and Miss Frances Harris, both of Waban; Miss Norma Jean Edgehill and Miss Nancy Ericson both of Wellesley, and Mrs. Robert P. Ashley, of Newton, as bridesmaids.

Lt. (j.g.) Brooks Heath of Newton, just back from the South Pacific was the best man. Ushering were Ensign Jack B. Coulter of Roanoke, Va.; Ensign Neil Frazier of Erie, Pa.; Ensign Charles Sueur of Long Island, N. Y.; Ensign Robert Clifton Duncan of Xenia, O.; Ensign Louis Aronson, 2d, of Orange, N. J., and Ensign Kittredge F. Fisher of Newton. All were classmates of the bridegroom at Annapolis from which he graduated earlier this month.

Mrs. Ashley graduated from Dana Hall and the Garland School. Ensign Ashley attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology before entering the U.S. Naval Academy.

Kiwanis Club

—o—

The Reverend Eric MacKenzie, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, attending the Kiwanis Club's noon meeting at the YMCA Wednesday, told Kiwanians that, although a new comer to the city, he was greatly impressed by Newton's "good and friendly spirit of cooperation."

"Our immediate problem," Father MacKenzie said, "is to prepare for needs of returning servicemen." Expressing the opinion that while the veterans will expect to come home to an unchanged community, there will be changes in the returning warriors. He was convinced he added, that the youngsters who went to war will return as grown men.

War's responsibilities, trials and the personal initiative required in action, will have matured them beyond their years, he declared. All of which, he predicated, will qualify them for a place with their elders in the city's civic and business affairs.

A new Newton will be the result, Father MacKenzie concluded, and with mutual understanding and tolerance friction will be avoided, he said.

The Kiwanis Clubs in the New England District will hold their annual convention at the Ocean House, Swampscott, September 27, 28 and 29.

Edward Friery became a member of the Club at this meeting.

James Riggs, accompanied by several members will attend the Somerville Kiwanis Club's meeting Thursday.

Leo Noel, of the Waltham Club, a former member of Newton Kiwanis, Kiwanian G. C. Spooner, Joplin, Mo., and Sergeant Dave Simpson, were guests of the club.

H. C. Baldwin of Babson's will be next week's speaker.

Rotary Club

—o—

A four-point program for dealing with the problem in India was outlined by Harrish C. Bijawat of India, a graduate student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the ODAR ARA Country Club.

Introduced by the Rev. Ray A. Eusden, D.D., Mr. Bijawat spoke on "India After the War." He unsolved until the following things occur: Widespread use of modern agricultural machinery and artificial fertilizer; more even distribution of wealth and income; a reduction of the 92 per cent illiteracy rate, and a national constitutional party under native leadership comes in control.

A guest was Dr. Stanley Livingstone of Honolulu, Hawaii, who told about the Honolulu Rotary Club. It was announced that the annual Ladies' Night will be on Friday at 7 o'clock in the Charles River Country Club, Newton Centre. Axel Gravem, a former member of the U. S. diplomatic corps, who was a classmate of Anthony Eden at Oxford, will be the speaker.

The National Safety Council reports that most of the serious cases of infection start from small wounds. Get immediate first aid treatment for a cut or scratch.

Nearly three-fourths of all street car fatalities—not involving a motor vehicle—are persons over 45 years of age, according to the National Safety Council.

DISTRIBUTING telephones on a bargain counter basis (everyone for himself) would be a quick way for us to dispose of available facilities. But would it be best for all concerned? For example, shouldn't those whose work is important to the war effort or to the safety and health of the community have preference?

Communications are very close to the public welfare, especially in wartime. That is why we distribute telephones only in strict conformity to Government regulations set up for that purpose.

People agree that this system is fair. Under it, no one can get a telephone out of turn.

As each new application for service comes in, we check it in the light of these regulations and existing facilities. The waiting applications are reviewed periodically . . . none is overlooked. And applicants are asked to keep us informed of any change in their circumstances which would alter their application status.

So, because available facilities are distributed according to a well-considered plan, there is no opportunity to get service except under rules which people tell us they think are fair rules, fairly administered.

Newton Children Go To Dental Clinic

—o—

The Newton Nutrition Center and the Red Cross are two of our Community Services Agencies which work with the Health Department at the Dental Clinic Thursday afternoons and Thursday and Friday mornings for the benefit of Newton's children. Six or eight children from various school districts in Newton arrive on these mornings at the Dental Clinic to have their teeth cared for by Dr. Martin and Miss Palmer, a dentist and his assistant, both of whom understand children. The Clinic is housed at City Hall in an attractive suite of rooms decorated by murals painted by children of the junior high schools. Four Red Cross workers, trained by one of Newton's nutritionists, Mrs. Eastman, take turns teaching the children about the importance of eating the right food. The children are taught in a group as they sit around a table waiting their turn for the dentist. They learn that: healthful sweets are oranges, dates, figs, prunes, and molasses, and a better buy for a nickel than most candy bars; proteins help us to grow; carbohydrates give us energy; calcium builds sturdy bones and strong teeth.

Science has added to our knowledge of food and how it can build or destroy the important parts of our bodies. Are not we in Newton fortunate? We have our community agencies not only working together to protect the health of our children, but made up of experts who know and use the latest knowledge to help our children grow strong.

Two Newton Men Liberated From Germans

The Office of War Information announced the names of two more Newton soldiers liberated from prison camps in Germany and who are either on the way home or awaiting transportation home.

They are Pfc. Norman L. Enegess, son of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Enegess, 70 Grasmere street, Newton, and Cpl. Carl F. Dau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Knut F. Dau, 161 Sumner street, Newton Centre.

Both were originally reported missing in action on the Western Front and were later reported prisoners of war.

Memorial Services For Departed Firemen

—o—

The annual memorial services for departed members of the Newton Fire Department were held by the Newton Firemen's Relief Association on Sunday afternoon at Fire Department headquarters, Newton Centre. More than 50 members of the Fire Department who were off duty were present as well as many relatives and friends.

The address of welcome was given by Chief John L. Keating and Mayor Paul M. Goddard was the principal speaker. The invocation was given by Rev. Richard P. McClintock of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, and benediction was by Rev. Daniel Tallino of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, both chaplains of the Newton Fire Department.

"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Lead Kindly Light" were played by transcription. "Taps" was sounded by Norman I. Patterson, Jr., followed by a recording of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Deputy Chief John E. Corcoran, chairman, Carl Eschelbach and Arthur McCarthy.

To Check Ceiling Prices On Cotton Clothing

—o—

So that consumers will receive the full benefit of the Office of Price Administration pre-ticketing regulation on adult and children's cotton clothing, volunteer OPA price panel assistants will make a thorough two-week check of all clothing stores in local communities to determine whether or not the stores are complying with the price and marking requirements on cotton garments, the Price panel of the Newton Rationing Board announced today.

The garments to be checked are produced under War Production Board orders and pre-ticketed by the manufacturer with the retail dollar-and-cent ceiling prices. They make up about 65 per cent of the total supply of cotton clothing for civilians.

Violaters of pre-ticketing regulations will be called before OPA price panels, and calculations of overcharges will be made. Where appropriate, refunds or a settlement for damages will be made to customers. Serious cases may be referred to OPA district offices for court action.

The program originated when WPB directed a large volume of cotton fabric into essential garments. Any shopper can tell at a glance what ceiling prices are by looking at the tickets that manufacturers are required to attach to each garment. The ticket should show the OPA retail ceiling price, the WPB order under which the garments were made and the lot number or brand name of the garment.

OPA said that retail stores are also responsible for tagging any garment that manufacturers have neglected to pre-ticket.

Hamilton School Presents Ambulance to Army

—o—

The Hamilton School in Newton Lower Falls is the first of the Newton schools to present a field Ambulance to the Army by their purchasing of $2,174.80 in War Savings Stamps and Bonds for the Mighty 7th War Loan drive.

At a special assembly called for on Thursday, June 7, presentation exercises were held. James Riley presided. The assembly was opened by the late President Roosevelt's prayer and the singing of the national anthem. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Chairman of the Women's Division, Newton War Finance Committee presented the school with a Treasury Citation for having completed a successful campaign to supply the Army with a piece of equipment. Strict Rationing of Sugar Necessary

Sugar supplies have become increasingly tight. U. S. civilian sugar consumption last year was approximately 66,100,000 tons. We ended 1944 with the lowest yearend inventories of the war. Looking ahead to the prospective supplies for 1945, the War Food Administration estimated that about 5,400,000 tons would be available for the year... 700,000 tons less than we used in 1944. With no reserve to fall back on it was absolutely essential that the sugar rationing system be tightened to live within the smaller supply.

On December 27, OPA was forced to take drastic and necessarily unpopular actions to insure fair distribution of the decreased amounts of sugar available. Old and unused sugar if it is used only for home canning. Any diversion of limited home canning sugar supplies into other than home canning uses will inevitably cut supplies of home preserved foods. Any overdraft will inevitably draw sugar from supplies available for the regular home ration and from commercial users.

Ration boards are being given firm quotas. They must stick to these quotas if sugar is not to be taken away from the regular household ration and from thousands of small and large manufacturers who need sugar in their products.

Here is what has been happening:

Ration boards in some areas are being beseiged with record number of applications for sugar. Many women are applying who will not use that sugar for canning. Thus they are taking sugar which rightfully should go to hame cannin. Literally they are engaging in a sugar racket... perhaps not recognizing it themselves.

The local boards face a predicament. They decide who is going to get home canning sugar and how much. They must determine from these thousands of applications which ones are for legitimate home canning and which ones are not. They do not want to deprive the honest applicant nor distribute vital sugar supplies to those not intending to use it for home canning. Ration Boards need the utmost in public honesty and cooperation in this difficult job of equitably distributing a vital accommodity.

New Assistant for Newton Camp and Hospital Council

Mrs. Edward J. Cannon, chairman of Camp and Hospital Council for the Newton Red Cross, has just announced the appointment of Mrs. Raymond Ladoo as her assistant. Mrs. Ladoo will have under her direction for the summer months many of the social functions sponsored by the Chapter at the Cushing General Hospital.

Among the special projects reported by Mrs. Cannon at a recent meeting of the Old Colony Camp and Hospital Council, were 164 books shipped overseas, 73 recreation chests, and two cartons of birthday gifts for hospital ships (with two additional cartons promised). This places the Newton Chapter well in the top group of the 35 Chapters of which the Old Colony Council is comprised.

Uncle Sam must supply new equipment and new training to our soldiers in Europe so they can fight the Japanese with as little loss in men and supplies as possible. War Bonds help supply the needs.

Newton Water Safety Instructors Get Red Cross Training

—o—

Mr. Frank Dowcett, water safety chairman of the Newton Red Cross Chapter, announced today that Miss Claire McCarthy and Miss Carol Curley, who will be in charge of swimming instructing at Crystal Lake and the Auburndale Playground pool, would attend the American Red Cross National Aquatic School at Camp Bonnie Brae, East Otis, Mass.

"We are more than pleased to have these young people represent the Newton Chapter at the Aquatic School," said Mr. Dowcett. "This year, the school will stress the importance of community leadership and Chapter service, and the slogan 'Learn by Doing' is carried out in all courses." He explained further that emphasis is placed on practice, mastering of skills and practice teaching. In addition to courses in first aid and accident prevention, swimming, diving, life saving and the handling of small craft are taught.

Student Council Conducts Classes Weeks Jr. H. S.

So that students of these times could prove that they are capable of self government, the Student School took complete charge of their school on Monday, June 11th. Teachers took a back seat and the students had full authority. Since there were not enough Council members to take the place of all the teachers, members of the Student Patrol assisted.

The experiment was a success in every way and most teachers were very enthusiastic about the results which may mean that students of Junior High Schools may be given more opportunity for self government.

Council Day was a perfect example of democracy in action.

Newton Highlands Leads in War Fund Enrollment

—o—

Newton Highlands has announced the appointment of the following organization in the coming Newton Community Chest Campaign in association with the Greater Boston United War Fund: Arthur A. Vernon, Chairman, Martin L. Barrett, Mark J. Winsor, William J. Paterson, Majors; Austin A. Chute, Arthur L. Hall, Mrs. Robert R. Buchanan, Robert Biel, Edwin D. Smith, Edward L. Raymond, L. Leroy Fitz, Donald W. Whitney, E. Whiteford Hunter, Mrs. Daniel MacKinnon, Prof. Carl F. Mukenhoupt, Captains.

The Highlands is the first village to have reported enrollment in each of its 11 teams with complete personnel signed up for all teams but two or three, and the balance of the workers expected to be enrolled before the end of this week.

Franklin K. Hoyt, Chairman of the Residential Division, has extended to Mr. Vernon his congratulations for the spendid achievement and has further stated:

"I hope that this spendid accomplishment will be an example that will be followed by all the other villages. While we set June 15 as the date we desired complete enrollment in the Residential Division, Newton Highlands set out to get their wark done ahead of time and the enthusiasm that you have shown demonstrates the results that can be obtained."

By vote of the Newton School Committee, diplomas are awarded to:

a. Candidates eligible for graduation who enter the armed services after April 1.
b. Candidates eligible for graduation who enter institutions of collegiate grade after April 1.

Certificates are awarded to:

a. Boys drafted or enlisting in military service during the junior year or prior to April 1 of the senior year.
b. Students who at the end of the junior year, or during the senior year prior to April 1, are accepted for admission by an institution of collegiate grade which previously required graduation from high school as a pre-requisite for admission.

CHESTER C. BUTTS

Funeral services were held at noon on Wednesday in the Waterman Chapel, Commonwealth avenue, Boston, for Chester Chamberlain Butts, 56, of 112 Pinckney street, Boston, formerly of Newton Centre.

Mr. Butts, who was the treasurer of Butts & Ordway Company, died on Sunday, June 10. He was in his 57th year. He was a graduate of Dartmouth College, class of 1911 and had been active in Dartmouth alumni activities. During World War I he served as a lieutenant in the Infantry.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowker Butts, a son, Charles Richard Butts, 2nd, two sisters, Mrs. Walter P. Rayner of Woonsocket, R. I., and Mrs. William K. Jealous of Boston and Southport, Maine, and a brother, F. Marsena Butts of Newton.

RICHARD J. CLANCY

Funeral service for Richard J. Clancy, retired member ofthe the Newton Police Department were held from his home, 60 Webster street, West Newton, on Monday morning. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church by Rev. John J. Crane, S.T.L., pastor, assisted by Rev. Francis P. Sullivan, deacon and Rev. John A. Saunders, sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Saunders.

A detail of members of the police department was led by Sgt. Michael J. Sullivan. Serving as pallbearers were Sgts. Thomas E. Leehan and Andrew Moran, Patrolman Arthur Hanlon, George Kilmain, Lawrence Dungan, and William Condrin. Delegations were present from the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, the Raytheon Company and West Newton Post Office.

Mr. Clancy died on Thursday, June 7. He had served on the police force for 32 years up to the time he retired last year because of ill health. For many years he was stationed in Newton Centre Square and later in West Newton. He was in his 65th year and was born in West Newton, the son of Richard J. and Margaret (Devaney) Clancy. He was a member of the Newton Police Benefit Association and the Newton Police Memorial Association.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katherine (Veno) Clancy, three sons, Frederick J. and Richard J. of West Newton, and M.M. 3-c Joseph P. Clancy, in the Seabees in the Philippines; four daughters, Mrs. James Hardiman and Mrs. Francis Rice of Waltham, Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy and Mrs. William Burke of West Newton; a sister, Mrs. William Stumpf of West Newton, and nine grandchildren.

THE LAMENT OF THE LITTLE PERSIAN RUG

I pray you listen, mortals, to the story of my life
For I am weak and threadbare, worn and torn by stress and strife.
When you walk upon my patterns, and track dirt all through my hair,
Do you forget, dear masters, that I die for lack of care?
In the far-off Persian city where I first saw sunny day,
A loving weaver made me—I was handsome, young and gay.
Then alas, he had to sell me—for I journeyed to come here,
Where unwashed and all uncared for, I still try my best to cheer.
Now I learn (and how my heart leaps!) that there's come to town at last,
From my distant home a mortal, like my weaver of the past.
I have heard from many cousins, large and small, both young and old,
That this man is our good angel, knowing all our needs untold,
He can match our strange, warm colors—tie our complicated knots
He can give us back our patterns and remove unsightly spots,
So for love of allah, masters, hear my pleading ere I rave,
Let GREGORIAN renew me—let him see my plight, and save!

PLANNING BOARD RECOMMENDS ELIMINATION OF TRAFFIC HAZARDS

Davis School Children on Field Trip

Newton School children enjoy a variety of activities to supplement their classroom teaching. Here the cameraman caught a group of children while they were questioning the vegetable man at a local store. Their teacher, Miss Wingate, said "This is a trip we planned at school as part of our work in nutrition. We are combining our vegetable project with our social studies which deals with community helpers and our nearby resources." We overheard some of these questions being asked the grocer: "Where do these vegetables come from?" "How do they get here?" One child pointed to broccoli and said "What is the name of that vegetable?" Another said "I know why we eat cabbage—cause it has lots of vitamin C." Children, left to right: Patricia Murphy, Joan Fraser, Mary Jane Naldi, Paul Johnson, Mary Brock, Russell Stone and Thomas Koller.

Eastman Elected Pres. of Newtonville Group, Boy Scouts

At the Annual Meeting of Newtonville Group, Boy Scouts of America, held at the Newtonville Women's Club the following group officers were elected for the 1945-6 season: President, Frederic B. Eastman; Vice-President, Alan D. Duff; Treasurer, Robert D. Salinger; Secretary, George B. Rowlings.

Highly favorable and interesting reports were presented by the various Group Committee Chairmen, including J. Carleton McCullough of the Leadership and Programs Committee; Carl J. Grip of the Camping Committee; Alan D. Duff, of the Social Committee. Mr. Duff also reported for the committee in charge of this year's highly successful Annual Show, "Aeroquiz."

Unit reports were also presented by Mrs. Gustav Hagen, President of the Mothers' Auxiliary; Earl Schwortz, Chairman of Pack Six, Cubs; Paul R. Whitworth, Chairman of Troop One, Scouts; Martin P. Edman, Chairman of Troop Six, Scouts; John E. Cox, Secretary of Troop Sixteen, Scouts and Scoutmaster of Troop Twenty-five, Explorers, all of these units being sponsored by Newtonville Group.

President Eastman announced that the Group program for the coming season would give special emphasis to Advancements and

Church Vacation School Begins July 2

The Community Vacation Church School of Newtonville will be held at the Newtonville Methodist Church, daily, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 until 11:45 a.m., July 2 through July 27.

A remarkable program of activity has been built around the theme "Neighbors All," and is directed toward a better understanding of different races and nationalities, with emphasis on living together in the community. Among the interesting activities will be art projects, the making and filming of a motion picture, excursions, craft work, nature study, and music. All boys and girls in the community, age 4 through 12 are cordially invited to come and join in the work, projects, and fun. A small tuition fee is charged to cover expenses, except when an organization has taken care of the tuitions from all its representatives.

The school is under the direction of Mrs. Russell Baker, Director of

Girl Scouts' Camp Mary Day Ready For Busy Season

Paintbrushes, hammers, and saws have been kept busy during the past two months at Camp Mary Day, the established camp of the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts Inc., in the preparation of the camp for the 219 Newton Girl Scouts who have registered for the 1945 season. The work has been done and supervised by Dr. Sterling Loveland and Mrs. Loveland who is chairman of the Camp Committee. Holt House, the new director's cabin and the Main House have been painted, the floors in the Main House and the Dining Hall have been oiled and the tables and benches in the Dining Hall have been redecorated. There is still work to be done and parents and friends of 1945 campers are invited to join the Lovelands at camp on the next weekend.

More girls are registered for the 1945 season than heretofore because all campers have been limited to a one month's stay. There is still room for more campers and there is still an opportunity for you to give your daughter a camping experience which she will treasure for years to come. The

Four Projects Are Under Consideration

—o—

The Newton Planning Board in its annual report to Mayor Paul M. Goddard has recommended four projects to eliminate traffic hazards in the city.

Their first recommendation is that the dangerous curve on Commonwealth avenue at Prince strret, West Newton be eliminated, as at this point during the past few years four fatal accidents have occurred and there have been seven cases of personal injuries.

As the resurfacing of Washington street between the railroad bridge at West Newton and Commonwealth avenue has been authorized as the first project to be undertaken by the city under Chapter 90 of the General Laws, and as traffic conditions are such that the widening of the street between these points is imperative, the Planning Board recommends to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen that said section of Washington street be widened to a width of 75 feet in accordance with the plan on file in the office of the City Engineer.

Other recommendations of the Planning Board are that traffic circles be constructed at the intersection of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue and at the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Centre street, in accordance with plans on file in the office of the City Engineer.

Members of the Planning Board who signed the report were Herbert J. Kellaway, ..elson B. Vanderhoof, William A. Sproat, Wendell R. K. Mick, John D. Haughey and Ernest H. Harvey, Clerk.

The Mighty Seventh Cavalcade Here Saturday

—o—

Sponsored by the Savings Banks of Newton, the Mighty Seventh Cavalcade will pay a visit to Newton on Saturday, June 23rd. Preceded by a sound truck the Cavalcade will arrive at Newton Corner at about 11 a.m. and will be stationed at Washington Street and Centre Avenue until 12:30 p.m. It will then proceed to Newton Centre for a stop at the Centre Green from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and is due to arrive in West Newton at the large parking space in the rear of Police Headquarters at 4 o'clock.

As a part of their contribution to the 7th War Loan Drive the Savings Bank Association of Massachusetts has sent this Cavalcade throughout the State. During the Newton visit members of the staff of the Savings Banks of Newton will sell bonds from a booth erected on one of the Cavalcade trucks.

War Service Comm. Discuss '45-'46 Plans

—o—

Combining business and pleasure, members of the War Service Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club met recently for a picnic lunch and a discussion of plans for the year 1945-1946 at the home of Mrs. John Timm.

This is the beginning of the Committee's fourth year of activity. Organized to supplement the work of the Club in opening its clubhouse to the Red Cross every Wednesday since early 1940, the group has responded to an increasing number of appeals on every side. Last year, in order to help finance this work, the Executive Board of the club allotted ten percent of activity earnings to war service work. This money has been expended for the Telephone

Massachusetts Must Not Fail

What has become of the traditional New Englander whose fortitude, patriotism and shrewdness could always be relied upon when trouble threatened the community?

Has that glorious race died out?

We ask because right at this time the community is faced with the task of warding off the worst case of trouble in its history, and to date not enough has been done about it.

Massachusetts has two wars to fight. One is in the Pacific, against the Japanese. The other is at home, against economic disaster. As never before, there is need for courage, patriotism and shrewdness.

On May 14 Massachusetts began a campaign to raise $140,000,000 by sale of E-Bonds to its investors. The campaign ends next week, but the state is woefully short of its goal.

It's our guess that Massachusetts citizens haven't changed in character a great deal. They are shrewd, and will surely accept the opportunity for the good financial return and insurance against disaster E-Bonds offer. They are patriotic, of course, and will go all-out in support of the war in the Pacific. And they have courage enough to put all their available funds into war bonds and to hang on to them until maturity.

All they need, we hope, is a reminder like this to get the job done and to do it now . . . Fill Massachusetts' $140,000,000 E-Bond quota.

Make Provisions for Your Pets When Away

If you plan to move or to go on a vacation, please give fore-thought to whatever arrangement you intend to make for the care of any pet you may have, dog, cat, bird, or other animal.

Animals, cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any disruption of their ordinary routine. They often will leave home or hide and cannot be found when the family is ready to close the house, with the result they are left behind to become strays and a nuisance in the neighborhood. Contrary to the belief held by many persons, domestic animals are not equipped to take care of themselves; they are dependent upon man to whom they look for protection.

If your pet is to be boarded while you are away, be sure arrangements are made well in advance. If he is to be taken with you, keep him in or under control while out-of-doors when it is nearing time for your departure so that he will not be "among the missing" when you come to leave. If he must be disposed of, take or send him to the nearest animal welfare organization.

We are sure that most cases of desertion of animals are unintentional, due principally to delay in making the necessary arrangements. Please make plans far enough in advance this year to assure proper care of your pet.

Robert Straley Initiated In Putnam Commandery

—o—

Robert Straley of Elgin street, owner of the Greetings Shoppe in Newton Center, received his full Initiatory Degree in Putnam Commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross last Friday.

Bob originally came from Minnesota and attended Boston University. At that time he met his wife, Helen, who has been a member of the Order for some time and has already enjoyed many good times there. Bob's first activity following initiation was participation in the fishing party sponsored by the Stag group of the Order at Beverly last Sunday.

Previous to opening the Greeting Shoppe Mr. Straley participated in the war effort at both Boston Navy Yard and Hingham for several years.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policy of this newspaper—Editor's Note).

General Eisenhower

It was like a breath of fresh air on a hot day to have our No. 1 General on the European front, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, come home again for the first time since D Day. I say this with no disparagement to General Patton, General Hodges and General Clark, all fine soldiers with brilliant records.

There is something different, something unique about the tall Kansan. He has a genuine humility, an inborn democracy which endears him to all who are privileged to come in contact with him. When he says that the tremendous tribute given him in this country belongs to the three million men serving under him it is no idle gesture. It comes straight from the heart. And we will do well to ponder his remarks about the vital necessity for establishing a lasting peace throughout this war-torn world. Let us hope that the delegates now laboring so diligently in San San Francisco will likewise ponder his plea.

In this connection it was a bit startling to have a radio commentator say that there is no single voice in the world today which commands so much confidence and respect as that of General Eisenhower. This commentator went even further. He suggested the possibility that we might find this national hero serving as our Secretary of State one of these days. Should that eventuate and should anything happen to whoever was President at that time, we would once again have a soldier for President. Unless, of course, Congress should, in the meantime, change the law of succession. There appears to be an excellent chance that that is precisely what will be done.

General Bradley

One of the smartest moves which President Truman has made to date is his appointment of General Omar Bradley as head of the Veterans Bureau, replacing General Hines, who had obviously outlived his usefulness. Many of us in the American Legion have been wondering for a long, long time just why General Hines has been allowed to stay in power so long, especially in view of the increasingly sharp criticism levelled at him. President Truman acted quickly and wisely when he drafted General Bradley, a veteran of both world wars. This man should have just the right perspective and should be able to restore order and eliminate much of the just criticism of his predecessor. Good-luck to him.

Mayor of Boston

Newton voters have nothing to say about the Boston election for Mayor this fall. However, it is more than an academic matter to us to have a good man placed in office. Thousands of Newtonians work in Boston or own property in the city. Consequently, it is pertinent to keep an eye on developments there.

As this column is being written, nominations have been closed, but it is NOT known how many of the twenty-three entries have been successful in securing enough signatures on their nomination papers to qualify for a place on the ballot.

It is fair to assume, however, that most of the leading candidates for Mayor have qualified. Personally, I would list the leaders as follows; Congressman Curley, Mayor Kerrigan, former Congressman and former Mayor of Cambridge, Richard M. Russell, Senator Chester A. Dolan of Boston, Joseph Lee, Clement Norton of the School Committee, William Arthur Reilly, former Fire Commissioner, Edward M. Sullivan of the District Attorney's office, former Mayor Malcolm Nichols and Joseph C. White, who has been prominent on the School Committee and in the Legislature. Of the remaining candidates, there is a gentleman named Buckley, who doubtless hoped to trade on the fame of the name itself. The bulk of the others are utterly unimportant.

I think I am correct in stating that Nichols is the only Republican in this group. The chances are that he is too old to command very much attention. Furthermore, nobody has ever been able to show me anything which this man has ever done for the G.O.P. Even Alonzo B. Cook, whom I did NOT mention in the group of leaders, has at least served as Auditor of the Commonwealth for a long stretch, despite the fact that the G.O.P. organization and the bulk of the newspapers never gave him even the right time.

Who would the average Republican in Boston be inclined to support? Would not former Congressman Richard M. Russell attract a good many voters? He made an excellent Mayor of Cambridge, serving three straight terms and then going to Congress from our own Ninth district. Watch this man.

Weekly Quiz

The answer to last week's quiz is this; there is NO Vice-President of the United States today. When Vice-President Truman moved up to the Presidency, the duty of presiding over the Senate, which is the ONLY duty devolving upon the Vice-President under our Constitution, passed to Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who had been serving as President pro-tem.

This week's question follows: "The late President Roosevelt had the privilege of appointing seven out of nine Justices of the Supreme Court. Name the two Justices whom he did NOT appoint.

Housing Problems in Newton

Dear Mr. Editor:

Viewing a record of estimated rents of 397 cities over 25,000 population of U.S.A. (from U. S. Census Bur. Sept. 1944) the following figures indicate the evident character of average Newton rentals is in harmony with Newton valuations.

The average for the 397 cities is $30.83 whereas the average for 27 cities in Massachusetts (of the 25,000 or more class) omitting Newton, is $29.84. However, Newton is $67.25, which is 5th highest in the U.S.A. and an average of the dozen highest cities in the country, omitting Newton, is $66.76.

The figures on the 12 highest are:

Miami Beach, Fla.	86.85
Montclair, N. J.	74.74
Cleveland Hts., O.	67.99
New Rochelle, N. Y.	66.60
White Plains, N. Y.	65.58
Evanston, Ill.	65.32
University City, Mo.	59.30
Oak Park, Ill.	55.76
Wauwatosa, Wis.	55.51
Mt. Vernon, N. Y.	54.63
W. Orange, N. J.	53.65

The figures on the 27 Massachusetts Cities are:

Melrose	$44.53
Medford	39.00
Quincy	38.99
Cambridge	36.56
Beverly	35.22
Waltham	33.34
Malden	33.12
Worcester	32.83
Boston	32.74
Salem	32.42
Springfield	32.23
Pittsfield	31.81
Lynn	30.30
Somerville	29.79
Everett	29.62
Revere	28.76
Holyoke	28.51
Chelsea	25.80
Haverhill	25.06
Brockton	24.91
Fitchburg	24.71
Lawrence	24.44
Lowell	23.85
Taunton	23.58
Chicopee	22.54
New Bedford	20.48
Fall River	20.41

It is perfectly obvious that nothing may be done to disturb the general standing of the Newton rental position without altering valuations. While it might be argued that changing an old single dwelling into a 2-family house might improve the valuation of this property considered by itself, the effect on the community will be felt in either lower rentals of single houses, or lower valuations.

There is an approach to the situation which is safe and sound, and that is through studied consideration of up-grading the low value sections of the city. For example, Newton is backward in not having isolated rigidly to a definitely restricted area all junk yards in the city. There are a number of sections in Ward 1 where the presence of junk yards acts as a permanent blight, promotes a disinterest in maintenance and improvement of property, and continues sub-standard housing.

It is my suggestion that situations of this type could be cleared of conditions impeding improvement, and that a committee of bank men from the city could make a special study of what type of new construction could be advanced which would supply a better grade of housing at reasonable rates, and be responsible for assisting in this general problem.

As this situation of housing has continued in discussion now for a number of years there arises two clear aspects to be dealt with. Either the extension of 2-family houses may be considered for single family areas, or real attention must be given to up-grading and development of areas of lower valuations. Undoubtedly general resistance is strong against extension of 2-family houses, and this attitude is soundly based with relation to the general financial operation of the city, built upon present general valuations.

If more consideration is given to such matters as up-grading of sections in which the city has already invested money in all services such as streets, sewer, water, schools, fire and police protection, gradual improvement as to housing will develop without distrubing valuations. Even frank consideration of apartment house construction of selected types and for approved locations should be definitely dealt with, and the problem stayed with until a wise solution is arrived at.

In past years the common practice in municipal operation was to rely upon opening new real estate sections and developments for maintenance of tax income for operation. Today students of municipal problems rate consideration of up-grading and restoring older areas carrying high past investment as a prime consideration in maintenance of all-over valuations. To assist the carrying out of plans for recovery many new state laws have been passed, enabling the taking and disposal of property.

Sincerely yours,
Theodore R. Lockwood.

Letter to the Editor

Welcome indeed is Gen Eisenhower's forthright statement allaying the distrust and suspicion of our great ally, Russia, on whom rests the responsibility of future World-Peace!

Those sinister and unscrupulous individuals who prate about "the next War" and who busy themselves with sowing seeds of hate and division between "the Big Three" should be properly and effectively rebuked by today's statement from the supreme allied commander in Europe.

All men of good-will rejoice that those who would continue to play Hitler's game have received such a flat set-back from the lips of the one man whose word is respected and believed by all good Americans! Its effect on American-Soviet relations and upon the forthcoming "Big-3" conference in Germany is incalculable.

Let us continue to make all who would destroy the existing friendship between America and Soviet Russia by "Devil's talk" of a future war between us, look ridiculous. This is no time to tolerate the foolish vaporings of the enemies of international friendship.

Paul Harris Drake.

Roly Rogers at Moseley's-On-The-Charles, Sat., June 23

—o—

Roly Rogers, talented leader and musician, has definitely unusual ideas about music. The constant desire for a medium to express these ideas inspired him to reorganize his orchestra — this time a fifteen piece organization. The enthusiasm with which his famous "Today's Band of Tomorrow" has been commended by schools and colleges and fellow musicians is a fitting tribute to his musical aptitudes.

Rogers was born in the village of Albany, Vermont, and later moved to Newport, Vermont, where he grew up in the true tradition of a sturdy New England family atmosphere. "I started in the music business by taking piano lessons when I was five and a half", says Roly. His mother promised him that he could choose another instrument after he had taken five years of piano. However, he didn't make this choice until he was thirteen, and what did he choose? — "a used nickel-plated, high-pitch, C Melody Henry Gunckel Saxophone — nothing else like it in the world", he states.

When he was fourteen, he promoted the then unheard of "High School Orchestra". From then on, it was a series of uninterrupted musical events — traveling all over the country and under every conceivable circumstance — Chicago, Quebec, St. Louis and south to Florida. "That did it! The band went broke so I had to wire Dad for money to get home", Roly recalls. "He decided to finance an education rather than United Railway Systems". Consequently, with this parental push he started and played his way through Dean Academy and Tufts College. In the meantime, he played for summer cruises as leader of college orchestras to England, the Continent, Bermuda, Nassau, and South America all of which contributed to his quest for and thorough knowledge of what dancers really like. Since 1937 he has established himself with the uncanny ability of selecting truly outstanding musicians and arrangers. Men who Roly Rogers started in the music business are today the world's finest — Jerry Gray (Glen Miller), Joe Lippman (Jimmy Dorsey), Al Avola (Frankie Carl), Okie O'Connor (Frank Black), Carl Rand (Vaughn Monroe), Jimmie Blake (Bennie Goodman), Hy White (Woody Herman), Ted Steele (Chesterfield Program), Ralph Tilkin (Hal McIntyre) and many, many more.

And now three brand new features are presented, every Friday and Saturday at Moseley's-On-The-Charles, Tony Bari, a new voice with unlimited possibilities, Leo ("The Lip") and his "Horn-A' Plenty" and Henry Aylward, lead trombonist.

In conclusion Roly says that he has turned down numerous commercial accounts in favor of Moseley's - On - The - Charles, "I prefer to play for the 'kids' and I sincerely hope that they are going to prefer us."

Sugar for Canning Limited To Five Pounds Per Person

—o—

Issuance of sugar for home canning in Massachusetts will be limited to a maximum of five pounds per person until further notice, the Newton War Price & Rationing Board announced today.

Eldon C. Shoup, OPA regional administrator, warned that only legitimate home canners should apply to local boards.

"Any diversion of our limited home canning sugar supplies into other than home canning uses will inevitably cut our supplies of home preserved foods," he said. "Any overdraft will inevitably draw sugar from supplies available for the regular home ration and from commercial users.

"The supply picture has not improved. Therefore, all issuances of home canning sugar must be kept within local board quotas, which will be assigned monthly. The situation in Massachusetts makes it necessary to adopt a policy of limiting issuance to a maximum of five pounds per person.

"As our sugar supplies become smaller it becomes even more essential to see that they are equitably distributed to all users and shared with utmost fairness. The five pound limit should keep boards in the Commonwealth within their quotas and help to keep the issuance in balance with available supplies."

The regional administrator warned that in the event issuance at the five pound rate exceeds the quota, more stringent controls will be devised. Under the revised quota system, local boards must report on the 10th, 20th, and last day of each month the number of applications granted and the total number of persons granted sugar for home canning.

"Our ration boards have been given firm quotas. They must stick to these quotas if sugar is not to be taken away from the regular household ration and from thousands of small and large manufacturers who need sugar in their products," Shoup said.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, June 20, 1890

The 17th was as quiet as holidays usually are in this city, and the fine weather sent crowds to the shore, while other crowds enjoyed the beautiful drives of Newton.

The new patrol wagon is a beauty and is now conveniently located in Crockett's stable, with Officer Holmes in charge. It has been inspected by many persons.

The Newton street railway carried over 12,000 people on Monday, including one picnic party of 12 cars from Newton Corner. During the afternoon two cars were run on most of the trips. The opening of Forest Grove is proving of great benefit to the company.

There was an interesting event at the Newton Hospital yesterday afternoon, that of the graduating exercises of the nine nurses from the training school. There was a large attendance of those interested in that important department of hospital educational work.

The Newton Boat Club, Auburndale, has been fortunate in having pleasant and delightful nights on the evenings of their concerts. Saturday evening was no exception and the boathouse looked gay under its decoration of colored lanterns. The music was excellent.

The new boulevard barges seem to be quite liberally patronized, and it makes a very pleasant trip to come out to Chestnut Hill by the electrics, and the rest of the way by barge.—Newton Centre item.

Newton Lions Club

—o—

Lion Fritz Borgman of the Brookline School Department was the speaker at the last meeting of the Newton Lions Club speaking on "Teaching Sub-normal Children". He was particularly well qualified to discuss the topic since for the past fifteen years he has been intimately connected with the problem, being in charge of this work for the Town of Brookline, School Department.

Sub-normal children, he mentioned are capable of becoming useful citizens if the correct methods, care, and study are given in handling them. As an example he cited that in his own group training is given in wood-working, pottery, modeling, printing and other such trades; the classification of work, being made after rigid psychological tests of the individuals have been made.

Fritz is one of the newer members of the Club and his talk was very much enjoyed by his fellow members who wonder if his work and associations at school have anything to do with his feeling so at home at the Lions—could be, but until he gives each a psycho-analysis no one is worrying.

At the previous meeting the following were elected officers and directors for the ensuing year and will be installed on Thursday, June 28: President and King Lion, Asa D. Blakeslee, 1st V. P., Dr. Charles M. Hall; 2nd V. P., Philip J. McHugh; 3rd V. P., Edward J. Day; Secy-Treas., Austin W. Flint; Tail-twister, Edwin R. Tapper. Directors for two years, Charles Monahan and Lewis Tedstone. The nominating committee consisted of Past Presidents George McNeil, Dave Buxbaum and Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti, Chairman.

Cpl. Crabtree Killed in Action

Word that their son, Cpl. Stephen M. Crabtree, was killed in action in Germany on April 10, has been received by Dr. and Mrs. Harvard H. Crabtree of 1029 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

Cpl. Crabtree was serving with the 386th Infantry Regiment. He was graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy in 1942 and was a member of the class of 1946 at Harvard when he entered the service two years ago. He trained at first with the ski troops at Camp Hale, later being assigned to the ASTP at the University of South Dakota. When the ASTP was curtailed he was transferred to the Infantry. He went overseas in February of this year.

Besides his parents he leaves a brother, Lt. Harvard H. Crabtree, Jr., in the Navy and two sisters, Miss Elizabeth N. Crabtree and Mrs. Rodney G. Jones, whose husband is a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy.

or not, there's practically no complaining. Steaks and chops are, as are so many other once familiar standbys, among the missing. Cold cuts are plentiful and so are vegetables. The only gripe natives might have is that they can't obtain their favorite foods as often as they'd like. Cigarettes, of course, are very scarce. Lines of hopefuls form whenever one of the local stores receives a shipment. Likely, as not, the brand on hand is noted for its horrible aroma or fish-glue taste, but they buy 'em anyway. Incidently, there's more dissatisfaction over the ciggie shortage than of anything else. The feeling persists that there's no reason for a shortage and that there wouldn't be one, but for the fact a Mr. Big, somewhere, pushed the middle valve down when he should have blown in here, or something.

Familiar Faces . . .

Several of this departments pals who wrote regularly from their fox holes, overseas, have arrived, right side up, in the ol' town. Colonel Eddie Hickey, from China, and Captain Amato 'Pesky' Pescolido, by way of Germany, are the latest. Pesky is fat and fit, but the old colonel left thirty pounds behind him in the Orient. One hundred and twenty-six engagements in two years over there, was Hickey's contribution in the current effort to teach Hirohito the error of his ways.

Around Town . . .

The prices they're getting for used automobiles around here is really reaching the height of something or other. One of this department's associates, a taxi owner, purchased a used 1942 Plymouth four door sedan the other day, paying sixteen hundred and fifty dollars for the three year old jalopy. That's a lot of money to pay for a car that sold for about nine fifty, when it was brand new, three years ago . . . New cars will be dribbling into the market by July, but if present prices continue, only relatives of the Gotrocks clan will be buying 'em . . . George Benham is in town again, so's to take more photos for 'What's Cookin'. His last were snapped after the big storm last winter, so the present summer series should be a little better . . . The Waldorf, in the Corner, frequently deals in eggs only, during the evening hours—no meats . . . Ed. Powers, operator of last issue's Merry-Go-Round, is a veteran newspaperman. An old timer, with the city's history at his fingertips, he always turns out a swell column . . . The picture of this department in that issue, was taken just after a Bridgeport, Conn., poker dealer had flipped a fourth ten in our direction. The pious, worried expression was intended for the purpose of encouraging the optimists on the other side of the table to start bumping the pot . . . They did, to their sorrow, and paid our expenses for the trip. See you soon . . .

MRS. EDGAR P. HAY RECEIVES TREASURY CITATION

An afternoon tea was given by the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company on June 6 in honor of Mrs. Edgar P. Hay. Mrs. Hay is chairman of the Women's Division, Newton War Finance Committee. Attending the event were representatives of the War Finance Committee of the Newton villages and volunteer workers who regularly staff the War Bond Booth at the Newton Centre office of the Newton - Waltham Bank & Trust Co. Representing the bank were Seward W. Jones, president; Frank L. Richardson, executive vice president and Miss Ruth Burns, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, chairman of the 9dvisory Committee remarked briefly on the excellent work Mrs. Hay has been doing for the past 3 years. She introduced Mr. Seward Jones who expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Hay and to the Women's Division for the valuable assistance and cooperation they had given Mrs Hay.

Mr. Jones introduced F. W. Denio, State Chairman of the War Finance Committee.

Mr. Denio remarked on the outstanding job Newton has done in the seven war loans. He paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Hay's energy and ability. "One thing about Newton," said Mr. Denio, "it doesn't particularly concern itself with the credit due it, its only purpose is to see that the war ends quickly." He then presented Mrs. Hay with a Treasury Citation signed by Henry Morganthau, in recognition of her patriotic services in connection with the War Finance Committee. He also presented Mrs. Hay with a War Stamp Corsage on behalf of the State War Finance Committee.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR DEPARTED FIREMEN

The annual memorial services for departed members of the Newton Fire Department were held by the Newton Firemen's Relief Association on June 10th at Fire Department headquarters, Newton Centre. More than 50 members of the Fire Department who were off duty were present as well as many relatives and friends.

The address of welcome was given by Chief John L. Keating and Mayor Paul M. Goddard was the principal speaker. The invocation was given by Rev. Richard P. McClintock of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, and benediction was by Rev. Daniel Tallino of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, both chaplains of the Newton Fire Department.

"Taps" was sounded by Norman I. Patterson, Jr., followed by a recording of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Stage-Door Canteen

Newton. As a matter of fact, I doubt if any suburb of Boston furnishes as many regular workers as the Garden City. We have given the Canteen a Master of Ceremones, several floor managers, many junior hostesses, officers in charge of junior hostesses, bus-boys, and many workers behind the counters and in the kitchen.

Some months ago it was not uncommon to entertain as many as five or six hundred soldiers, sailors and marines each night. Of late the attendance has dropped off a bit, due, of course, to the end of hostilities in Europe. Also, we are not now getting the groups of English and French sailors whom it was always a pleasure to have with us. This canteen is for enlisted men only. Distinguished brass hats can only take a quick look-see at the entrance and then hurry down the fifty-one steps to the street.

Nearly every night there is some sort of entertainment, running all the way from an Amateur Night put on by the volunteers themselves to a replica of the Merry Widow show. That was indeed a gala occasion. Practically every leading actor, singer and dancer took part. Those present will never forget that night. Neither will we forget the night when Tallulah Bankhead made a personal appearance and signed her name on hundreds of red hearts worn by those attending our Valentine Party. Katherine Cornell was another notable to join us when she was playing in Boston. The RKO provides a great deal of the regular entertainment, including singers, dancers, musicians, comedians, jugglers and imitators of the renowned Charlie McCarthy. In fact, there is nothing you can think of which does not come our way.

Most of the servicemen dance when there is a lull in the entertainment. However, it is not unusual to see a sailor writing a letter to his girl or to see a junior hostess having her fortune told by a doughboy. The men do what they like best, even it is only sitting at the tables, munching a sandwich and smoking a cigarette while a Conga line weaves back and forth on the dance-floor.

Yes, it's a great place. Everybody has a good time, including the volunteers. Sometimes I think that we forget what a real privilege it is to do our small bit for all these fine young men in the service.

LOUIS G. LeBLANC ELECTED ASST. CASHIER

The directors of the Newton National Bank have announced the election of Louis G. LeBlanc as Assistant Cashier.

Mr. LeBlanc began his banking career in 1920, with the Provincial Bank of Canada. From 1924 to 1933 he was employed by the Waltham Trust Company. From 1933 until 1937 he was in the Closed Bank Division of the Bank Commissioners office. In 1937 he went to the Waltham National Bank and was elected Auditor in 1940. He has resigned from this position to accept his new assignment.

Mr. LeBlanc resides at 67 Summit street, Waltham with his wife and four children. He has been active in civic affairs having served as treasurer of the Waltham Chamber of Commerce, as director of the Waltham Chapter American Red Cross and as treasurer of the Waltham Lions Club.

Mr. LeBlanc's long experience in the banking field will be of great benefit to the Newton National Bank and to its customers, both in Newton Corner and in its branch at Newton Centre.

HAMILTON SCHOOL PRESENTS AMBULANCE TO ARMY

The Hamilton School in Newton Lower Falls is the first of the Newton schools to present a field Ambulance to the Army by their purchasing of $2,174.80 in War Savings Stamps and Bonds for the Mighty 7th War Loan drive.

At a special assembly called for on June 7, presentation exercises were held. James Riley presided. The assembly was opened by the late President Roosevelt's prayer and the singing of the national anthem. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Chairman of the Women's Division, Newton War Finance Committee presented the school with a Treasury Citation for having completed a successful campaign to supply the Army with a piece of equipment. The citation was accepted for the school by Bernice Moreau.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker in charge of the sale of stamps and bonds at the school and called the "Stamp Lady" by the children awarded Naval Citations to Brenda Bruce, Lawrence Morrison, Beverly Barton, Joan Morrison, Robert Thompson, Barbara Barton, Francis Barton, Roger Tappon, Charles A. Bradley and James Riley. The kindergarten orchestra played for the marching.

NEWTON CENTRE MISS ENTERS "MISS FIGHTING LADY" CONTEST

The members of the crew of the U.S.N. Aircraft Carrier known as "The Fighting Lady" has written to "LIFE" magazine asking the aid of Life's publishers in finding a typical American girl to be chosen as "Miss Fighting Lady."

As a result "Life has announced that it will receive entries in the contest through July 21. Contestants are requested to send photographs to the Publishing Co., at Rockefeller Center, N. Y.

from "The Sanctuary"

O Master, let me walk with thee
In lowly paths of service free;
Tell me thy secret; help me bear
The strain of toil, the fret of care.

In hope that send a shining ray
Far down the future's broadening way;
In peace that only thou canst give,
With thee, O Master, let me live.

Newton Merry-Go-Round

By Paul Considine

Summer, ladies and gentlemen, is now in the process of being enjoyed by your sweltering erstwhile friends and neighbors here. The trick of the moment is to find shelter from the sun in the daytime and a bit of the same from the regular nightly downpour of rain the weatherman's been sending our way since 'way back in April.

As you'll no doubt recall, "hi" and "hello" were the usual salutations of passersby in the Garden City in the old days, before you went abroad. If you wanted to go on from there and talk about that so and so of a C. O. or, maybe, that cute blonde trick in the drug store, it was all right, too. The point more or less being that you had a choice of subjects on which to gab and you used one or more—or all of 'em—depending on the time, the place and your companion's patience.

Now, however, what with the heat and the daily deluge, "hi" and "hello" have been stricken from the dripping natives' vocabularies. It's "Ain't It Awful!" you'd hear these days, if you were around in doorways and such, when Ol' Doc Pluvis lets go. In the doorways, that is, where males seek shelter . . .

Pretty Awful . . .

In those places exclusive to the fairer sex, it is said—and this is strictly hearsay—that the gals really declare themselves. The paint, according to alleged witnesses, actually blistered from the Hudson drug store doors, when three local belles, after blowing the bankroll on new hats, shoes and the rest of what goes to make 'em beautiful, raced a hundred yards through a downpour, reaching there wet, wilted and wild, one night last week.

It was pretty awful for awhile and subsided only when the bedraggled beauties, spying their soldier dates across the street, stealthily hugged the building as they sloshed their way homeward. The rain mingled with the mascara and their tears as they called it a night, thus saving three soldiers from a severe case of something or other—probably fatal.

Shortages . . .

Things here are going alright other than there's a shortage of just about everything. Everybody gets enough to eat and to wear. No one's suffering and, believe it

The Newton Archers

On Saturday, June sixteenth, the Newton Archers held their second quarterly tournament on the archery range of the Newton Centre Playground.

Twenty-seven archers lined up to shoot under the direction of Bedford J. Seaman. In spite of the humidity and the rumbling of the thunder, Manuel Sousa of Attleboro shot a perfect end at forty yards. It is the second time he has shot a perfect end this season. Archers came from Worcester, Attleboro, Framingham and Waltham. Robert Young, who has been in San Diego the past year, returned to shoot and to renew friendships. He will return to San Diego this summer where he has a pastorate.

The cup winners for this tournament were: Cummings Handicap Cup, Thelma Phillips; Visitors Handicap Cup, Joseph Sullivan; Mariner Junior Handicap Cup, David Briggs.

The men taking the first three places were Henry Schreiber, Waltham, 180-1284; Walter Walton, Framingham, 176-1165; Manuel Sousa, Attleboro, 180-1152.

The women taking the first three places were: Thelma Phillips, Newton, 171-961; Fannie Cheney, Worcester, 171-961; Greta Schrieber, Waltham, 150-836.

The winners among the juniors: David Briggs, 126-611; Raymond Buell, 106-446; Robert Malton, 42-152.

The next tournament will be Sunday afternoon, June 24th. This is a regular handicap tournament.

Newtonville War Fund Organization Holds "Cook-out"

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Mattson of Brookdale road, Newtonville, were hosts last Thursday evening to Assistant Chairmen, Majors and Captains of the Newtonville War Fund Group of which Mr. Mattson is chairman.

Hot dogs and hamburgers were barbecued on the massive stone outdoor fireplace by chef J. C. McCullough, assisted by Janet Mattson. Pie and ice cream completed a delightful supper after which the guests enjoyed games on the spacious lawns. Win Auryansen and Rod Eaton displayed great skill in tossing the horseshoes, while Fred Eastman took high honors on the pin ball machine. Alan Duff and Riley Hampton made high scores in bowling.

Later, the party adjourned to the Mattson's recreation room to discuss plans and strategy for a successful Community Chest Campaign which begins in September. The majors and captains made reports on the enrollment of workers on their teams.

Rotary Club Holds Ladies' Night

The annual "Ladies' Night" of the Newton Rotary Club was held at the Charles River Country Club, Newton Centre on Friday evening with about 100 Rotarians and Rotary Anns attending.

Dr. Homer Anderson introduced the speaker, Mr. Axel B. Graham, a former member of the U. S. Diplomatic Corps.

Speaking on "Current Affairs," Mr. Gravem stated that in this country the man elected to public office is often not the best man for the job, but the one who paid the most to leaders of the political party. He said there are only a few highly educated men in public life in the country, while in England, public servants spend their whole lives preparing to accept office. Mr. Gravem lauded Senator Leverett Saltonstall for supporting the Administration's reciprocal trade program in opposition to many Republican senators.

President Orville O. Clapper was formally presented his father's diamond Rotary pin by Past President Dr. Charles Ansley. The elder Mr. Clapper was president of his Rotary Club in Minnesota. Mrs. Charles Meeker, wife of the past District governor, was presented a cameo-pearl pendant from the district by President Clapper, who also presented an orchid to Miss Helen P. Morton, executive secretary. All the women present received corsages from Past President Mathew F. Ruane.

James L. Bryant was inducted into membership by Howard Selby.

The First Clothing Already Baled And Shipped

Chairmen everywhere will be glad to learn that already more than 1,000,000 pounds of clothing collected in the United Nations Clothing Collection is on its way to people in war-devastated countries. The "Gripsholm" sailed this week carrying clothing to Yugoslavia, Greece, and Italy. As fast as the clothing is baled and shipping space is scheduled, all the clothing contributed by the people of the United States in this greatest of all clothing collections will be shipped overseas.

Spyros P. Skouras, member of the National Committee for United National Clothing Collection and President of the Twentieth-Century Fox Film Corporation, cabled a description of the suffering in Greece that is due to the lack of clothes, shoes, and bedding. His message has just been made public by Mr. Henry J. Kaiser, National Chairman.

Mr. Skouras' cablegram from Athens reads:

"After touring Greece three weeks, I can find no words to describe the appalling condition here regarding the lack of clothes, shoes, and bedding. Especially in the rural districts, people are in tatters and barefooted. Fourteen hundred villages were burned. People are sleeping in caves in an unbelievable condition. A quarter-million refugees are homeless. Clothing alloted these unfortunate men, women, and children will alleviate terrible sufering."

Mr. Kaiser has pointed out that the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, in allocating the first 40,000,000 pounds of clothing contributed by the American people in the United National Clothing Collection, earmarked 3,000,000 pounds for free distribution in Greece. "UNRRA," he said, "is making arrangements to ship this allocation soon to Greece."

Charity Club Holds Luncheon

Mrs. Harry P. Holt, 981 Beacon street, Newton Centre, a member of the President's Council of the Women's Charity Club will be a guest at a luncheon given for the members of the Council by Mrs. Howard T. Spaulding, President of the Club. The luncheon will be held on June 21st at Mrs. Spaulding's house, 8 Palfrey street, Watertown, and other invited guests include:

Mrs. Arthur V. Getchell, Dorchester; Mrs. William D. Morton, Jr., Wellesley; Mrs. Edward Martin, Milton; Mrs. Arthur B. Flint, Winter Hill; Mrs. Arthur C. England, Dorchester; Mrs. George H. Hawley, Roxbury; and Mrs. Isaac T. Ripley, East Milton.

The Women's Charity Club owns and maintains the Massachusetts Women's Hospital, which is located on Parker Hill, Roxbury.

CAVALCADE VISITS NEWTON

The Mighty 7th Cavalcade, one of the greatest collections of heavy military equipment to be placed on display outside a military post in this state, will visit Newton on June 23rd under the auspices of the three Savings Banks of the city.

Preceded by a sound truck to announce its arrival in each of the communities, the Cavalcade will include a 25-ton German Mark H Tank armed with a gun comparable to the U. S. 75 mm. Howitzer and several lighter guns, and a PT Boat Engine, cut away to show its operating parts. In addition, there will be an Air Forces Jet Bomb, the newest weapon now being used against the Japanese, and many pieces of Naval ordnance. One of the most interesting exhibits will be a Booby Trap exhibit especially built by the famous Navy Seabees which will show many of the devices used by the enemy to delay the advance of our troops. These devices will be demonstrated by a crew of Seabees.

Major Alex Smith is in charge of the Cavalcade whose personnel will include a 1st Lieutenant, a Seabee Chief, seven soldiers and two Seabee Gunners. In addition, the group will be accompanied by two veteran heroes recently returned from the front, who will speak at the Bond Rally.

The Cavalcade is being sent through the state by the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts as a part of their contribution to the 7th War Loan Drive.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES 714

Diplomas were presented to 714 members of the senior class of the Newton High School at the graduation exercises held June 9 in the Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville. Included in this number were 13 members of the class who completed their courses in the U. S. Armed Forces Institute and Service training Courses.

Preceding the exercises a musical program was given by the Newton High School Band under the direction of James H. Remley, director of Music Education and Wm. L. Winston, band instructor.

The invocation was given by Dr. Kalman Friedman, of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre and the principal address was by Rev. J. Gordan Gilkey, D.D., pastor of the South Congregational Church, Springfield, who was introduced by Dr. Homer W. Anderson, superintendent of schools. The subject of Dr. Gilkey's address was "The World Young People Will Face."

Robert E. Garrity, Jr., president of the class announced the class gift to the school of a therapy machine and $200 to the Social Room.

Presentation of the Senior Cups and the announcement of the winner of awards and prizes was made by Raymond A. Green, principal of the high school. Mr. Green stated that 70 members of the graduating class are now in the armed services, that 4220 pupils and graduates of the school have joined the armed services, and 127 have given their lives.

The Senior Cups were awarded to Francis Hart and Janet Quigley and the Dickinson Memorial Athletic Cup to John Recco, Jr. David Pynchon received the Meserve Scholarship Award, the Harvard Prize Book was awarded to Robert Sheffield Brightman, and the American History Prizes to Rolf Otto Amann who received the Massachusetts Society, S. A. R. prize and Rhoda Mary Dorsey, the Sarah Hull Chapter, prize.

UNION SUMMER SERVICES

For the tenth year, six churches of Newtonville and West Newton unite for worship during the summer. The Rev. McIlyar Hamilton Lichliter, D.D., will be the summer minister for the third consecutive season.

Dr. Lichliter was minister of Central Church, Newtonville from 1919 to 1924 and then, for 18 years, served the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio. In 1942, after forty-two years of service, Dr. Lichliter retired from the parish ministry and came to Boston as one of the executives of the Supreme Council 33 degree or Scottish Rite Freemasonry, specializing in ritual research and editorial work. He is an affiliated member of the American Unitarian Association and a lecturer in Homiletics in Boston University School of Theology.

The cooperating churches and ministers are: Central Congregational Church of Newton, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill; The Church of the New Jerusalem, Rev. Horace W. Briggs; The Newtonville Methodist Church, Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford; The First Unitarian Society in Newton, Rev. Herbert Hitchen; Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Rev. William E. Blake; The Second Church in Newton, Rev. R. Clyde Yarbrough.

William P. Helms will direct the music with Eleanor Vaughn Smith as organist; soprano, Ssther J. Kendall, Marion Green; contralto, Ruth Perkins, Barbara Ziegler; tenor, William P. Helms, Thomas C. Cooper; bass, Paul C. Scarborough, Carl E. Erlanson.

JACOBS ELECTED TO MEDICAL SOCIETY

Harold G. Jacobs, son of Dr. and Mrs. Max Jacobs of Newton has been elected to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national honorary dental fraternity, Dean Basil G. Bibby of Tufts Dental School has announced.

Jacobs was graduated from the Tufts School of Liberal Arts and engaged in graduate work at MIT before entering the Tufts Dental School from which he graduated along with 80 other seniors, on June 17.

He was a leader in numerous Tufts Dental School activities being especially active in the George Bates and Robert R. Andrews Societies. He was also a student assistant in pathology before graduating.

MEN INDUCTED INTO ARMED SERVICES JUNE 21

Six registrants selected for induction into the armed forces June 21 by Local Board 113 and ordered to report at City Hall on that day are: Stephen Desmond Coine, Robert Edward Wood, Albert Louis Nardone, Murray Jackson Wentworth, John Recco, Jr., and Jay Edward Conde.

Seventeen registrants and one transfer from another board were sent out by Board 114. Included in the selectees were Edward H. Carson, now an employee of the Navy at Pearl Harbor.

The selectees of Board 114, which covers Ward 6 and 7, are as follows:

Frank Carboni, Jr., Sylvan S. Simon, Newport, R. I., Edward Henry Carson, Pearl Harbor, H., Irving Maurice Groper, Frank Kendall Perkins, Jr., Thomas Andrew Harris, Anthony Clement Sonsini, Thomas Hinckley Lanman, Jr., Richard Byron Wetmore David Shorey Brown, George Benton Libby, Kenneth Francis King, George Arthur Beckler, Herbert Martin Karol, Joseph Robert Fowler, Ralph Michael Scalia, Earl Greenidge Emily, Albert L. Thomas (transfer).

STUDENT COUNCIL CONDUCTS CLASSES WEEKS JR. H. S.

So that students of these times could prove that they are capable of self government, the Student School took complete charge of their school on Monday, June 11th. Teachers took a back seat and the students had full authority. Since there were not enough Council member to take the place of all the teachers, members of the Student Patrol assisted.

The experiment was a success in every way and most teachers were very enthusiastic about the results which may mean that students of Junior High Schools may be given more opportunity for self government.

Council Day was a perfect example of democracy in action.

NEW ASSISTANT FOR NEWTON CAMP AND HOSPITAL COUNCIL

Mrs. Edward J. Cannon, chairman of Camp and Hospital Council for the Newton Red Cross, has just announced the appointment of Mrs. Raymond Ladoo as her assistant. Mrs. Ladoo will have under her direction for the summer months many of the social functions sponsored by the Chapter at the Cushing General Hospital.

Among the special projects reported by Mrs. Cannon at a recent meeting of the Old Colony Camp and Hospital Council, were 164 books shipped overseas, 73 recreation chests, and two cartons of birthday gifts for hospital ships (with two additional cartons promised). This places the Newton Chapter well in the top group of the 35 Chapters of which the Old Colony Council is comprised.

ELKS HOLD FLAG DAY EXERCISES

Newton Lodge of Elks held their annual Flag Day exercises on June 10, at Elks Hall, Newton with nearly 200 persons present.

Exalted Ruler R. John Henderson led the lodge officers in the Elks' Flag Day ritual. Lt. James D. Hester, Naval chaplain, told of his experiences in the Pacific, Atlantic and Mediterranean areas. The color guard was made up of members of the Sgt. Daley Post, V.F.W., under the direction of Raymond Taffe. The Newton Post, American Legion, and Auxiliary, were also represented. Edward Morrissey represented Gov. Tobin.

The Medford Post, American Legion quartet, which has played in many veterans hospital and on the radio, presented the musical program. The arrangement committee was under the direction of Secretary Thomas F. Coppinger.

Sport in a Nutshell

By BILL SULLIVAN

BASEBALL

Here we are again fellers and if after reading this opening paragraph you think I've gone a trifle whacky attribute my condition to our rampaging Sox and hell bent for leather Braves. Last night I had a beautiful dream; I found myself riding the trolley to the opening game of the world series and where did I alight from my iron-clad bucking broncho but Kenmore Square. Yup, our own Hose and Tribe were emulating the Cards and Browns of last year and Yanks and Giants of a few falls back. This morning when I read the sport pages of the "Post" and "Globe", much to my surprise in both papers there appeared a paragraph of many thousands of other fans having the same dream I did. What's causing our minds to suddenly take such a bent, just this. In the past two weeks Bob Coleman's boys have won 10 out of 13 and are but 4 1-2 games of the pace setting Dodgers. They are in sixth place to be sure but with Cooper to strenghten the pitching and Joe "Muscles" Medwick, who was purchased from the Giants this week, along with Pyle a southpaw hurler in exchange for Klüttz, to add some power to our slugging department, it looks as though we have just as good a chance to walk off with the flag as have any of the others.

The Sox have won 10 out of 14 games and along with the Braves are murdering everything in sight. The league leading Tigers are only 3 games up on them and the second place Yanks but 1-2 game above. Last week Cronin added Dolph Camilli to the squad and if Dolph can have just a fair year at bat he will be quite an asset, especially so in the pinch hitting department as up to the present time that is one spot the Sox have looked bad in.

It may only be a dream fellers but it sure would be great if it actually did happen. If both clubs aren't able to do it, I think the fans would settle for one flag without any complaints at all.

Ferriss, in spite of losing his first game last Sunday to the Yanks 3-2, looks better and better. He has everything a great pitcher should have and unless I'm mistaken is going to add his name to the role of Feller, Grove, Gomez, Ruffing, Walters, Hubbell, etc. before he's done. It's difficult to single out any Sox man as a star as all are playing good ball and are getting some fine help from Ferriss, Wilson, O'Neil, Hausmann and the others of the pitching staff. Cronin has them clicking and who ever does beat them is going to have a though time of it.

Tommy Holmes is The National league's leading batter and this young man's game has improved so in the past couple of years that he has no peer in either league, as far as all round play goes. He is the Tribes outstanding star to date. Once Coleman is able to field his strongest team for a few weeks of consecutive play he's going to cause many a headache. As it is they're playing with the best in the league has to offer and challenging the leaders constantly.

The stars in both leagues to date have been hitting—Holmes, Braves 385, Kurowski, Cards 537, Ott, Giants 354, Rosen, Dodgers 354, Cuccinello, White Sox 347, Etten, Yankees, 328, Estalella, A's 321, — Pitching: Ferriss, Sox 9-1, Borowry, Yanks 9-1, Gromek, Cleveland 7-1, Cooper, Braves 6-1, Voiselle, Giants 9-3, Christopher, A's 9-3, Derringer, Cubs 9-4.

Both leagues are having tight races which at the present writing the Standing being — American League: Tigers, Win 29, Lost 20; Yanks , 28 - 22, Red Sox 27 - 24, White Sox 26 - 26, Browns 24 - 24, Nats. 22 -26, Indians 21 - 26, A's 20 - 29; National League: Dodgers Wins 30 Losses 21, Pirates 30 - 23, Giants 30 - 23, Cards 29 - 23, Cubs 26 - 22, Tribe 25 - 25, Reds 22 - 27, Phillies 14 - 42.

RACES

On the other sporting fronts in Boston there has been much activity. Racing has returned to Suffolk and the experts are saying that a million a day average handle is very probable. The big races are coming soon and we shall have more news for you then. Speaking of racing, Hoop Jr. won the Kentucky Derby and Polynesian, the Preakness, Devil Diver is running over everything in the New York Stake races. Along with interest in th Kentucky Derby is the fact that Eddie Arcaro rode his third Derby winner to equal the record formerly held jointly by Sande and Murphy. Arcaro is about as good as any jockey this country has ever seen and before retiring may prove the greatest of them all.

BOXING

Boxing in Boston is offering a good attraction the 25th of this month at Fenway Park with Lami Mauriello, leading New York heavyweight contender, meeting Lou Nova in the feature attraction. There are three other very good bouts under this and the entire card may prove to be a capacity drawing affair.

WRESTLING

Wrestling is active with the title swapping hands again, this time Steve Casey regaining the crown from Leo Sexton. All in all, these two fellows are having a merry time of it passing the laurels biweekly from one to the other.

That's the story for now fellers. Keep up the good work and good luck to you all.

OFFICER O'DONNELL RETURNS TO POLICE FORCE

Lawrence A. O'Donnell who recently received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Navy after nearly three years of service as a chief petty officer, has returned to duty on the Newton Police force, and has been assigned to duty as operator at the signal desk at police headquarters.

Before being granted military leave, he was for many years a motorcycle officer and also served as an inspector of the staff of the traffic bureau.

Following his enlistment in the Navy in 1942 he served at a base in Newfoundland, later being assigned to duty on a patrol ship in the Iceland area and more recently served in Cuba as an instructor in aerial gunnery.

Patrolman O'Donnell, who resides on California street, Newtonwille, is married and has one daughter. He was appointed a member of the police force April 19, 1924.

CHURCH OBSERVES 85TH ANNIVERSARY

The Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton observed its 85th anniversary on Sunday, June 10 with a "Home Coming Day" dinner following the morning service of worship.

The Rev. Clarence A. Wood minister, officiated at the morning service and was one of the speakers at the dinner. Other speakers were the Rev. Newton A. Merritt, D. D., and Rev Otis R. Heath, former ministers; Miss Elinor Merrill, a daughter of a former minister; Frank W. Chase, deacon for the past 44 years, and Miss Heloise Chase. Moderator George E. Rawson was toastmaster with music by Edmund M. MacCloskey, organist, and Daniel E. White, baritone. The program was entitled "Highlights of the Past 85 Years."

The arrangement committee comprised Mr. Wood, Miss Chase, Clarence V. Moore, Mrs. Charles Ohanian, Mrs. Ray Seamonds and George M. Willmarth.

The Mail Bag

By WALT HOOD

Perhaps the fact that many of our Newtonians are now on the move, some on leave and some to new areas, accounts for the small number of letters to answer. However, we are all set to be snowed under with address changes in the not too distant future when troop movements get under way in earnest.

Right at the moment New Englanders are not bragging about our early summer weather. Those of us who have Victory Gardens are wishing we had sown water cress or pond lilies as our main crops because old Jupe Pluvius has been dishing it out regularly and generously.

Well, to get down to business, thanks to Al Chamberlain who writes from an Army Hospital somewhere in Europe telling us how proud he is to be from Newton and how much he has appreciated W. C. while recovering from his wound. We hope you are well on the mend and will soon rejoin your wife.

We are glad that Pfc. Lee Burns, 559th Repl. Co. 113th Bn. likes our little paper and now that he has tranferred from the Air Force to the Infantry he has his feet on solid ground once more. You bet we'll keep W. C. going to you as long as we have paper and ink.

Pvt. Harold J. Barker writes from Germany that he would like to se a picture of Newton Corner. We did publish one not too long ago but we'll see if we can't dig up another and hope it won't be too long before you are back to see the good old Corner in actuality.

Cpl. John D. LaRhette from New Guinea writes htat he has substituted pictures of Newton from W. C. for pin up girls on his desk and also that he is anxious to learn the results of the Pics hockey playoffs. We published that information in our March 1st issue but we're glad to repeat that the Pics clinched the Eastern Amateur title by defeating the Baltimore Blades 3-2 in the final game of the series. We hope, John, that mention of ice hockey will help to alleviate somewhat the heat of New Guinea. Bill Sullivan, our Sports Editor will keep you posted on baseball.

Hugh J. McBarron of the U.S.S. Nantahala would like to see a picture of Newton Highlands and this we'll keep in mind. There's no cost to you fellows for W. C. and let us know if you don't receive it regularly, but don't forget to keep us posted on address changes.

Arnold G. Woodward in Burma would swap all the jungles he has seen for the green lawns of Newton and they really are green now, Arnold, what with all the rain we've been having.

George Thompson at an advance naval base in the Pacific tells us that while many of the boys sail the ships he help to fix 'em; and from all we hear you fellows are doing a great job and in record time.

Best regards from the Home-Towners to Colonel Frank T. McCabe, former Newton Alderman, now with Hq. U. S. Army, Pacific Ocean Areas. We should be pleased to hear from you and any other Newtonians who can find a moment to drop us a line.

complete worker enrollment before the vacation season starts in.

"Great credit goes to Nonantum as the first village in the Residential Division to report 100% of enrollment. Nonantum is closely followed by Oak Hill and Auburndale, who reported 100% of their workers shortly after Nonantum reached the goal. With a number of other villages ranging between 75% and 95%, it is my expectation that the majority of the villages will be 100% enrolled before the end of this week."

The Nonantum organization this year is under the leadership of Allen S. McLean as Village Chairman. He is assisted by James B. Dangelo, Assistant Chairman; Joseph DiPalma, Edmund P. LeBlanc, Angelo Acchione, Louis Fried, Majors; and Robert J. Gauvreau, Miss Catherine DiPalma, Miss Dorothy Sullivan, Thomas J. Frazier, U. Henry Baima, Miss Lillian Swartz, Miss Kathryn Powers, Stephen F. O'Connor, Jr., Henry J. White, Nicholas Zeolla, Mrs. Gerald Keegan, Captains.

Heading the Oak Hill Residential Village group is Henry S. C. Cummings, who has enlisted as his aids: Edward L. Bliss, Assistant Chairman; Ralph Nutter, J. Ralph Stuart, Mrs. Charles S. Trefrey, David B. Rost, Mrs. J. Murdock Blake, Mrs. Abner H. Bailey, William D. Moran, William E. McKim, Mrs. Harold F. Tracy, Mrs. Langdon Parsons, Doane Arnold, Ralph W. King, John W. Blakeney, Jr., Luzerne S. Cowles, Richard S. Willis, Paul B. Cavanaugh, Captains.

Henry D. Furniss is Village Chairman in Auburndale and is assisted by Ralph G. Hillman, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, Fred J. Cartier, Harry E. Thompson, Majors; Miss Helen Swaine, Mrs. Robert Bonner, Jr., Stewart G. Orr, Mrs. Donald Sleigh, Miss Alice Furbish, F. Russell Briggs, Mrs. William E. Biddle, Jr., Theodore Friedricks, William A. Smith, Allen R. Ensign, George G. Broadhead, William Mark, William J. McCarron, Captains.

Newton is leading the 52 cities and towns in the Metropolitan area in percentage of enrollment, and it is Mr. Damon's objective to continue to hold first place until complete enrollment is effected.

"Last year," states Chairman Damon, "when we reached 64% of our goal, we were third on the list and Newton was the fifth city or town to reach 100%. To continue to hold first place means extra effort for Chairmen, Majors, and Captains who have not reported complete enrollment. I am sure, however," continues Mr. Damon, "that I will have this extra effort from all of my assistants, that Newton will continue to hold the lead and will cross the "goal" line ahead of our many worthy competitors, some of whom may have started late but who now are beginning to roll."

Camping. During the past season, emphasis has been given to securing new and additional leadership, with the result that most of the Group's units are now staffed with at least two Assistant Scoutmasters, and in some cases, with three.

The president also announced the appointment of a recess committee to study the question of improved quarters for troop meetings, and bring a report to the Group Executive Committee this autumn. Robert D. Salinger was appointed Chairman of this Committee, and serving with him are Alan D. Duff, Carl J. Grip, J. Carleton McCullough, Warren W. Oliver, George B. Rowlings, and Clifford S. J. White.

Treasurer Robert D. Salinger's report, as well as the Auditor's report submitted by Martin P. Edman, showed the Group treasury to be in excellent condition.

The meeting was held under the new by-laws and Constitution adopted in place of the former rules, by the Board of Directors in May, 1945.

25-ton German Mark H Tank armed with a gun comparable to the U. S. 75 mm, a Howitzer and several lighter guns; a PT Boat Engine cut away to show its operating parts, an Air Forces Jet bomb, the newest weapon now being used against the Japanese, and many pieces of Naval ordnance. A booby trap exhibit especially built by the famous Navy Seabees will show many of the devices used by the enemy to delay the advance of our troops. These devices will be demonstrated by a crew of Seabees.

Major Alexander Smith is in charge of the Cavalcade. The personnel includes a 1st lieutenant, a Seabee Chief, seven soldiers, and two Seabee Gunners, and accompanying them will be two veteran heroes recently returned from the front who will speak at the Bond Rally.

George W. Sweet, chairman of the War Finance Committee, is assisting the Savings Banks of Newton, West Newton and Newton Centre in arranging the visit of the Cavalcade to this city.

The public is invited to attend the special Bond Rally and it is hoped they will come prepared to buy those extra War Bonds necessary for the success of the campaign.

Views at "Wonderland," the Salvation Army's Fresh Air Camp at Sharon.

Salvation Army's "Wonderland" Observes 20th Year

"Religious and civic leaders," says Coolonel Richard F. Stretton, Provincial Commander of the Salvation Army, "are worried about the youngsters in these war years—subjected to war excitements, the thrills of soldiering and killing enemies, relaxation of parental and other controls. The first and foremost remedy is right within the home; next to that, by far the best remedy is represented by any activity that gives a child a chance to work off his or her energies in the fields, woods, and lakes, under wholesome direction as is the case in fresh air camps."

This year the Salvation Army observes the 20th anniversary of its now famous "Wonderland" Fresh Air Camp, on Lake Massapoag at Sharon, Massachusetts. Starting 20 years ago with the blessing of Nature's most bountiful gifts in ideal surroundings for health restoration, rejuvenation and recreation—the hands and hearts of men and women have added modern ideas and equipment to make "Wonderland," in beauty and service, one of the country's best. As Colonel Stretton says, "It is known as a wonder land by thousands of boys and girls, social workers, leaders of numerous agencies and institutions, as well as service clubs, and as a constantly-being-improved fresh air camp for boys and girls, mothers and babies, especially for those who in many cases might not otherwise enjoy the comforts and helpfulness of a care-free vacation."

In countless fresh air camps, opening day this year will mark the unfolding of a new and beautiful world of excitement and pleasure, the thrills of out-door life and, as at "Wonderland," well-balanced food and sound sleep in the quiet country nights.

Indications that mind, spirit and body are well cared for at "Wonderland" are found in these figures from its official report for 1944: Vacationists, 1328 boys, 560 girls, 92 mothers, 136 babies. These were watched over by numerous supervisors, two doctors and a health unit staff of three. Clinical service was given to 1293. Class sessions included: Swimming 1098, nature study 903, special 122, craft work 368 with 1523 projects completed. Total meals served 88,766.

At "Wonderland" as in many other camps, children's dreams become realities, resulting in bodily health and spiritual uplift of lasting and immeasurable benefit.

Mrs. Colonel Richard F. Stretton, Camp Superintendent, announces that "Wonderland" will open its 1945 season, Thursday, June 28.

Tells of Escape From Burning Plane

In a letter written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Ellis of 34 Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, Lt. Roger C. Ellis, 20, fighter pilot with the 12th Army Air Force in Italy, tells of a remarkable escape from his burning plane and from the enemy.

Lt. Ellis was flying a Thunderbolt with his squadron in support of an attack by allied forces on April 20 when the gas line was hit by enemy fire and the plane burst into flames. Before he was able to emerge from the craft it had plunged to a low altitude and although he succeeded in parachutting to the ground he suffered a broken leg in landing. He lay on the ground for two hours while fellow fliers kept the enemy at bay until American ground forces who were forcing a spearhead into the enemy's position, reached him. Besides the fracture he suffered burns on both legs and his left arm.

Lt. Ellis entered the service nearly three years ago and went overseas last December. He was graduated from the Newton High School and was a student at the University of Maine when he entered the service. He has a brother, Ensign Ralph J. Ellis, 22, serving on a submarine chaser and a sister, Jane, a student at the Newton High School.

Awarded Bronze Star Medal

Pfc. Ferdinand P. Civetti, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Civetti of 47 Ashmont avenue, Newtonville, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action under fire which resulted in the capture of nearly 200 prisoners.

A graduate of the Newton High School, Pfc. Civetti entered the Army on September 26, 1944. He trained at Camp Croft, S. C., before going overseas, and has been in two major battles.

"Learn to Swim" Says Newton Red Cross

"The heat is on," says Mr. Frank Dowcett, chairman of Water Safety for the Newton Chapter of Red Cross, "and the City swimming pools will be open next week for your comfort in combating these hot summer days. But if you are wise, you will take this opportunity to 'waterproof' yourself. Learn to swim; learn to take care of yourself in the water; learn to take care of others in distress!"

Beginning July 2, Miss Claire McCarthy and Miss Carol Curley, Red Cross swimming instructors, will conduct classes for swimming and life saving at Crystal Lake and the Auburndale Playground. Anyone interested in beginners and intermediate swimming, and Junior and Senior life saving, should report at Crystal Lake on Thursday, June 28, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and 2 to 5 p.m.; and at Auburndale Playground on June 29, from 2 to 5 p.m. Registration can also be made at Crystal Lake on opening day, or by telephoning the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, Basell 6000.

Raymond G. Giles, watertender third class, son of John Giles, 22 Cliff road, Newton Upper Falls, Mass., was one of the heroes aboard "Big Ben," the now famous carrier USS FRANKLIN, whose miraculous survival of an aerial bombing in the Pacific has become one of the most dramatic sea stories of the war.

The ship which the Japanese boasted they had sunk is safely back in New York.

Wearing a gown of candlelight satin, a long veil from a coronet of pearls, and carrying white orchids, Miss Mary McCulloch Robertson became the bride of Lt. Allen Milton Herrmann, USA, on Saturday evening. The 8:30 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick Morris in the Trinity Church, Newton Centre. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson of 8 Littlefield road, Newton Centre.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Frances Robertson as maid of honor, who was gowned in white dotted Swiss and carried a cascade bouquet of sunset flowers. Miss Jean Marquardt and Miss Eleanor Stuart were the bridesmaids.

Cadet Hayden J. Mayer was the best man and the ushers were Dr. Edward P. Wallace, Aviation Cadet William B. Shriner, PFC Kevin Hughes and Captain Bushnell Welch.

Lavelle - Johnson

Miss Marjory L. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy E. Johnson of Natick became the bride of W. Dunbar Lavelle, son of Mrs. Adrienne Lavelle of 155 Aspen avenue, Auburndale on June 9, in Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

The bride wore a white marquisette gown trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her Juliet cap which held her long tulle veil in place, was of lace which also edged her bouquet of Victoria orchids, stephanotis, white roses and sweetpeas. Mrs. Sheldon Whittemore of Framingham, the matron of honor, wore a pale green gown of taffeta and net. Her matching hat was trimmed with yellow roses and orchid sweetpeas and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Chamberlain and Miss Ann Hapenny, both of Natick, wore hats similar to Mrs. Whittemore's and pale yellow gowns.

Robert DeLong of Newton was the best man and the ushers were Stanley Pope and Midshipman Douglas Pope, USNR.

The bride's sister, Lt. Ruth I. Johnson, ANC., of Fort Devens, was able to be present at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at their Natick home.

Sargent - Waldron

—o—

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Waldron of 21 Pierrepont road, Newton Lower Falls, followed the marriage of their daughter, Miss Brenda C. Waldron to Ensign Frederick H. Sargent, USMC, son of Captain and Mrs. Donald F. Sargent of Philadelphia and Dennisport. The 3:36 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard P. McClintock of the Church of the Messiah on Saturday, June 9.

With her blue wool suit, the bride carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas, and gardenias. Her sister, Miss Anne D. Waldron, as maid of honor, wore pink with a corsage of white gardenias and blue delphinium. C.P.O. Keith Smith, USMC, was the best man for Ensign Sargent.

Mrs. Sargent was graduated from the Newton High School and the Kathleen Dell Secretarial School. Ensign Sargent was graduated from the U. S. Maritime Academy. The couple left on a trip to New Hampshire and Cape Cod after which Ensign Sargent will report for further assignment on July 9 with the Maritime Service.

Raytheon Plans Five Harbor Radio Telephone Stations

The Raytheon Manufacturing Co. announced yesterday that it has filed applications with the Federal Communications Commission for construction permits to install five coastal harbor radiotelephone stations in New England at Eastport, Rockland, Portland, Maine; and Gloucester and New Bedford, Mass.

Included with Raytheon's application were statements from eighty-nine important potential users testifying as to the vital need for the proposed service. At present only one coastal harbor radiotelephone station is in operation in this part of the country. This is the Boston station operated by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

One of the most important users of the proposed service would be the fishing industry. New England represents 16.2% of the total yearly volume in pounds of the United States fishing industry, and 19.7% in dollar value. The New England proportion of the entire United States is 626 million pounds, or $20 million.

Raytheon proposes to introduce for the first time in the coastal harbor service frequencies in the newly allocated 152-162 mc band. The engineering report discloses that an average satisfactory service range of some 45 miles is estimated for the 160 mc operation at each of the five points.

In addition to the 160 mc frequencies Raytheon requests the assignment of 2, 4, 6 and 8 mc for servicing vessels in the area beyond the range of the 160 mc channels. The application pointed out that the most efficient operation would be obtained by the assignment of exclusive 2, 4, 6 and 8 mc frequencies for the five stations, but in the event the Commission found it impossible to make such assignments, the applications requested shared use of 2550, 4282.5, 6470, and 8585 kc now allocated by the Commission to Great Lakes Coastal Harbor stations.

Raytheon discloses that its survey indicates that fishing vessels require communications service at distances as great as 800 miles from New England.

The proposed coastal harbor radiotelephone rates employ a basis quite different from those offered by existing coastal harbor stations. A rate of $1.00 for three minutes is offered when the 160 mc frequencies are employed, and a rate of $1.50 for three minutes when the frequencies in the 2-8 mc brand are employed with an additional per minute charge of 35c and 50c respectively.

In its application Raytheon specified a power of 2,000 watts on the 2-8 mc operation and 50 watts on the 160 mc operation. Three frequencies are requested in the newly allocated 152-162 mc band with one channel for calling purposes and the other two channels for traffic operations. Two traffic frequencies are requested in order to meet traffic loads and to avoid interference between stations when a vessel is located in a position within the over-lapping service area of two stations.

The rates proposed by Raytheon are for the radio link of the circuit only, to which would be added the regular Bell System land-line rates for communications with telephone subscribers ashore.

Raytheon proposes to transmit on a scheduled basis free of charge, United States Weather and Hydrographic reports. Repetitions of these reports will be furnished upon request at a rate of 50c when 2-8 mc frequencies are employed and 35c when 160 mc facilities are employed. A similar differential is used for message forwarding and position reporting services.

The Raytheon application also stated that it would offer service to land mobile units, such as trucks and buses when wtihin the 160 mc service area range, if such service was requested.

The bride, recently on the teaching staff of Medford Junior High School, is a graduate of Lasell Junior College and Boston University where she was a member of Pi Theta Delta sorority. Lt. Meyers was graduated from Canisius College in Buffalo and served with the infantry and anti-aircraft unit in England, Africa and Italy, for 30 months.

Over 150 guests were received by the bridal couple, following a wedding breakfast in the Oval Room of the Beaconsfield Hotel. The landscaped lawns of the hotel were dotted with colorful umbrella-covered tables and benches, and the bridal couple and their parents received friends before an ivy covered lattice. Strolling musicians furnished appropriate selections during the reception, which was the first to be held outdoors this season in Boston.

Jenkins - Hubley

On June 7, at an eight o'clock ceremony in the Belmont Methodist Church, Miss Margaret Frances Hubley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle P. Hubley of 501 Dudley road, Newton Centre, became the bride of Earle Stanley Jenkins of Belmont.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a long fingertip veil and carried white callas. Her maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Jenkins, of Belmont, wore a pink taffeta gown with a matching hat and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Two bridesmaids in blue and the third in pink marquisette, all carrying Colonial bouquets, were Miss Jean Hubley, Miss Florence Hubley and Miss Joan Hubley, of Newton Centre.

Charles Manes, USA, of Cambridge was the best man for Mr. Jenkins. The ushers were John Bare, USA, of Belmont, Richard Hunt, USA, of Lexington, Samuel Wilkins of Wayland, and Arthur Hanke, USA.

Mr. Jenkins is the son of Mrs. Delsie Jenkins of Belmont. He has recently been discharged from the Army after having been wounded twice in Italy. He holds the Purple Heart, Oak Leaf Cluster and the Presidential Unit Citation.

Pratt - Stuart

—o—

Miss Elizabeth Stuart and L. Mortimer Pratt, Jr., of 331 Kingsbury road, Chestnut Hill, were married June 12, in the Christ Church. White flowers decorated the church for the four o'clock ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Cornelius P. Trowbridge. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Herbert Stuart, Jr., of Cambridge.

With her princess gown of white satin, the bride wore a long veil of tulle from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and white orchids. Her sister, Miss Peggy Stuart, as maid of honor, was gowned in pale blue organdy and she carried pink roses and blue delphinium.

Arthur W. Pope, of New York, was the best man and the ushers included Lt. Col. Willoughby I. Stuart of Fort Sill, Oklahoma; Lt. Hoyt Watson and Francis H. Cummings, both of New York; Charles B. Balch of Jamaica Plain and Fred B. Lund, Jr., of Newton.

The bride attended the Winsor School and Bryn Mawr. She made her debut in London, England, and was presented at the Court of St. James. Mr. Pratt attended Noble and Greenough School and Harvard University. He is a member of the Delphic Club, the Country Club and the Eastern Yacht Club and is commodore of the Prout's Neck Yacht Club. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt will live in Chestnut Hill.

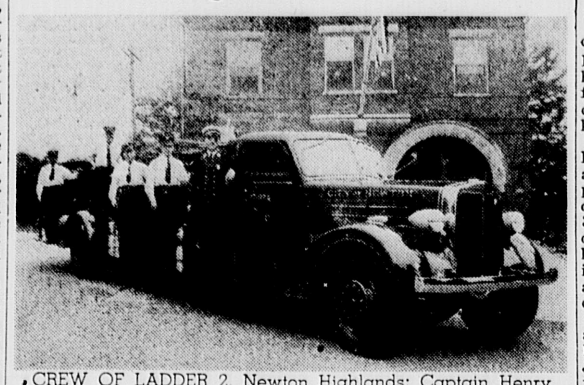
Intelligent Inspections Effective In Preventing Fires



CREW OF LADDER 2, Newton Highlands: Captain Henry Murphy, Private Fred Murphy, Private Rosario Cavallo, Private Amos Murphy, Private John Prescott.

By PAUL CONSIDINE

'Way back in the year 1910, when with a half dozen other juvenile delinquents, the writer 'hooked' from school, so's to watch a new contraption known as a flying machine soar through the air in Waltham, a big fire broke out in the Ross lumber mill on Crafts street, where automobiles propelled by steam and known as steamers, were also manufactured.

Bell alarms sounded from fire house towers n those days, and kid-like, we knew all the box numbers and their locations. So when two-four-two pealed through the air, we forgot our interest in aeronautics, immediately, rapidly retracing our steps in the direction of the old mill. The trick, of course, was to reach the scene before the arrival of fire apparatus and then, panting and exhausted, watch them come in.

It was the thrill of a lifetime!

Hose 8 was the first piece to appear, as galloping madly, foam flecked and manes flying, the two big black horses raced down Crafts street. We all envied the driver, as with feet braced against the dash rail and leaning far out over the backs of his straining steeds, he urged them to greater speed.

THEY'D RACE...

The big ladder from Newtonville and the engine from Newton Corner — the steamer, we called it — usually arrived at the corner of Crafts and Washington street at about the same time. Both were three horse hitches and everybody would brethlessly await their coming, thrilling to the never-to-beforgotten picture they made as racing abreast, the ladder rocking and smoke and sparks belching from the steamer's smokestack, the drivers and horses as well, strove to be first at the scene.

It was a thickly settled neighborhood up there, incidently, and more barefoot kids would be excitedly milling around than Heinz had pickles. Every kid had a dog and what, with distracted mothers calling and suffing their numerous progeny from under the wheels of fire apparatus, and the firemen shouting orders back and forth, not to mention the fruity tones of the cop on the beat, as the essence of authority, wearing the big helmet and size fourteen boots of that day, he kept order, a fire then was reminescent of a day in bedlam.

Everybody had a good time, but the owner of the burning property.

The firemen, even with apparatus jamming the district, had a difficult time, as we recall. Fire fighting equipment of that day being what it was and fire prevention regulations more or less unknown, the task of putting out fires was a difficult one.

Today, Ladder Two, known to firefighters as a 'Quad,' and housed on Boylston street Newton Highlands, carries more fire fighting equipment than all of the apparatus centered at the fire in the Ross mill that summer afternoon in the long ago. A ladder, it also carries hose, chemicals and is capable of pumping seven hundred and fifty gallons of water per minute.

Concerning fire prevention in Newton, the following information comes from Deputy Chief Francis Linnehan, and in this war year of

FRANCIS J. LINNEHAN

1945, when rebuilding materials are practically unobtainable, is worthwhile and timely...

"Fire Departments are maintained by municipalities for the purpose of giving the citizens protection against loss of life and property by fire. For many years putting out fires was considered the primary job of the fire department, but in recent years, fire fighters have been increasingly brought to realize that their full measure of service to citizens requires as much attention to preventing fires as to putting them out.

Intelligently made inspections are the backbone of effective fire prevention work. They can be made a powerful factor in the reduction of loss of life and property, both through the prevention of fires and the opportunity for more intelligent handling of fires. The average businessmen and property owner is not trained to recognize fire hazards and does not have a practical knowledge of fire fighting and the factors influencing the spread of fire. The fire department which has this training and knowledge can and does render a real service to the community.

Seven purposes of fire department inspection may be outlined as follows:

1. To obtain the correction of conditions creating an undue fire hazard.

2. To make sure that fire protection equipment is being properly maintained — such as fire extinguishers, standpipes and sprinkling systems.

3. To secure proper maintenance of features providing protection against the spread of fire. The general public has little appreciation to the great value which structual features such as stair and elevator enclousures, fire doors and fire partitions have in preventing the rapid spread of fire.

4. To secure proper maintenance of exit facilities for use in case of fire. As the first duty of a fireman on arriving at a fire is to assist people in their exit from the building if necessary, exit facilities are a vital concern to the fire department.

5. To check up on the compliance with the laws and ordinances and regulations dealing with the four above mentioned subjects.

6. To impress upon the owners and occupants of buildings that inasmuch as the fire department is being maintained by them at considerable expense for the prevention and control of fires, it is to their advantage that the fire department be called immediately in case of fire and that the advice of the fire department be sought in connection with problems of fire prevention.

7. To provide the members of the fire department with a working knowledge of the conditions bearing on the fighting of fires in their territory. Maximum efficiency requires a detail knowledge of the building in which the fire is being fought."

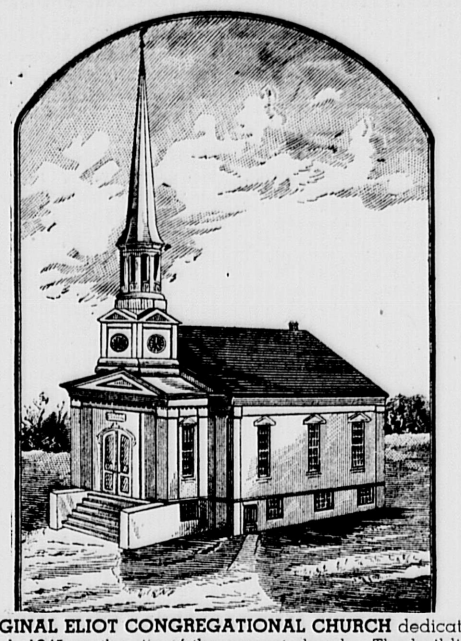
ELIOT CHURCH OF NEWTON 100 YEARS OLD ON JULY 1



ORIGINAL ELIOT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH dedicated July 1, 1845 on the site of the present church. The building was moved in 1859 to the present site of the Newton National Bank and became known as Eliot Hall. The second church, built on the same location in 1861 was destroyed by fire in 1887. The present edifice was built in 1889.

This year marks the 100th birthday of the Eliot Church. As a result of the vision and courage of eight men who felt keenly the need for a Meeting House in Newton so that its people might have a place of their own in which to unite for worship and fellowship, a "Society" was organized on September 7th, 1844, known as "Angier's Corner Religious Society" with 33 members. This Society was incorporated by the General Court on March 20th, 1845, as the "Eliot Religious Society," both Church and Society taking the name "Eliot" in memory of the pioneer missionary to the Indians, whose first sermon was preached in the native Indian tongue not far from the present site of the church in 1646.

The corner stone of the first Meeting House of the Eliot Church was laid on March 19th, 1845. The building was dedicated and the church was organized on July 1st, 1845 with 37 members. Of this number all but six came from the First Church (Congregational) in Newton Centre by letter. This edifice was sold and removed to the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets in 1859, where it was reconstructed as Eliot Hall and was destroyed by fire on the night of October 8th, 1873.

The corner stone of the second building was laid on Fast Day, April 5th, 1860, and the building was dedicated on Fast Day, April

Community Chest Benefits Under Will

A legacy of $1,203.31 in the will of Emily F. Wheeler to the Newton Community Chest, Inc., was announced by Thomas E. Shirley, President of the Chest, at the recent meeting of its Board of Directors.

Miss Wheeler was formerly a resident of West Newton and was a liberal contributor to the Community Chest during her lifetime.

The legacy was unrestricted and will be used to start an endowment fund for the Chest. Mr. Shirley states that it is hoped that as time goes on, other legacies will accrue to the Community Chest, the income from which can be used for year-round essential social service in the community.

Cadet Nurses Celebrate 2nd Birthday

More than seventy Cadet Nurses from the Newton-Wellesley Hospital took part in the celebration of the 2nd birthday party of the U. S. Nurse Cadet Corps at the Hatch Memorial Shell, Charles River Esplanade, in the evening on Wednesday, June 27th.

There was a presentation of the Avon "Women of Achievement" award to Cadet Nurse Beatrice Graham Whitney of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. There were famous bands, stars of stage and screen, distinguished speakers and a mammoth birthday cake.

Newton can be justly proud of the record it has made in respect to its Nurse Cadets as 100 per cent of our hospital student nurses are members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps numbering in all one hundred and seventy-four nurses. It is also a great credit to our community to know that 50 per cent of the Cadet Corps Nurses are spending the last six months of their three years in some one of the military services and will probably continue on in those services upon the completion of their course.

To those young ladies who are now looking into the future and trying to decide on a profession, nursing has much to offer in personal satisfactions as well as being lucrative, interesting, full of opportunities and very essential to our country's well-being.

Miss Mabel McVicker, director of the School of Nursing of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, will be very glad to interview anyone interested any Saturday morning.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN TO ENLARGE AND MODERNIZE HOSPITAL FACILITIES

Will Increase Capacity To 395 Patients

A campaign to raise $2,250,000 for the enlargement and modernization of Newton-Wellesley Hospital was launched Tuesday night at a dinner-meeting of more than 200 representative citizens of Newton and Wellesley held at the Newton Centre Women's Club.

Speakers, including hospital officials and prominent citizens stressed the fact that realization of the objective will permit the hospital to serve the people of Newton-Wellesley area more adequately and will provide increased facilities for which, they said, there is an urgent and recognized need.

Clifford H. Walker, president of the board of trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, said that the expansion program includes the enlargement of the Main Building by the addition of a seven-story Y-shaped structure which will replace obsolete pavilion units. This extension will increase the hospital's capacity to 395 patients.

Other features of the enlargement program, Mr. Walker said, are the addition of a floor to the Service Wing, remodeling of the present nurses' home, which will be heightened by two floors to gain needed space for laboratories and classrooms as well as for bed rooms and recreational facilities. Founders' Memorial will be rehabilitated as a modern out-patient department and private doctors' clinic.

The campaign to raise $2,250,-

THE MAIN BUILDING of the greater Newton-Wellesley Hospital in Newton, as it will look after the completion of the $2,250,000 expansion and modernization program which was launched Tuesday night, is shown in this architect's drawing. Addition of the seven-story, Y-shaped extension at left will increase the hospital's capacity to 395 patients. The new structure will incorporate a large, modern children's department, a psychiatric section, an enlarged maternity floor and also more space for laboratories and for specialized services. Additional examining and operating facilities for the emergency department, a central oxygen distributing system, a new clinic conference room and library are among other features. Architects are Coolidge, Shepley, Bulfinch and Abbott of Boston.

Marden Named Chairman of Veterans' Council

At a recent meeting of the Newton Veterans' Council, Charles H. Marden, veteran of World War I and World War II, was elected chairman.

During World War I Marden served in the Navy and enlisted again to serve in World War II. He served in the South Pacific and recently received his discharge. He has now returned to duty as a member of the Newton Police Department.

The Veterans' Council has approved the proposed erection of a city auditorium and a health centre as a war memorial, which plan, proposed by the Newton Chamber of Commerce, has been approved by the Newton Planning Board.

Board Approves Plan For Newton Corner Improvements

The Newton Planning Board has made public the following report in which it urges the city government to adopt the extensive plan adopted by a group of Newton Corner citizens to convert Nonantum Square from its present condition to a modern traffic junction and terminal.

"The plan calls for the widening of Washington street by the removal of the buildings occupied by the Newton Savings Bank and the Trust Company, and all structures in the triangular area lying between Centre street, Washington street, and the Boston & Albany Railroad; the relocation of the Boston Elevated Street Railway tracks; and the construction of a centrally located traffic-control island providing parking space for trolleys, busses and taxis and an ample area with shelters for waiting passengers, together with a convenient comfort-station building, and a flag pole located in an attractive grassed area," the board stated.

"Under the plan, roadways are laid out having widths from curb to curb of sixty feet or more and providing circular traffic routes with cross-traffic occurring at one point only, viz: at the intersection of Washington street and Charlesbank road. This width of roadway allows for the parking in the Square of perhaps 100 cars without interfering with the ever increasing flow of automobile traffic. The plan also provides for building restriction lines on Centre street from the Square northerly to Pearl street designed to preserve adequate space for future widening to eliminate the bottle-neck which exists there at the present time.

In the development of this design the question of grades is an interesting one. There is a difference of seven feet in elevation between the highest and lowest points in the Square, necessitating the establishment of slopes and grades, which, however, are safe, workable contours variable enough in character to add an interesting touch of variety to the landscape.

Applications for Fuel Oil Should Be Filed Promptly

The public is urgently requested by the Newton Rationing Board, to file their applications for fuel oil promptly. Every householder who was issued fuel oil coupons last season, will receive by mail a simple form to fill out. Thousands have already been mailed, and everyone will have received theirs in a few days.

Because of the enormous job of acting on every application, and in order to relieve storage facilities by filling individual tanks now, it is imperative that applications be returned promptly.

Hyde Grammar School Classes 1897 to 1901 Hold Reunion

On Saturday, June 16, the classes of 1897 to 1901 which graduated from the Hyde Grammar School in Newton Highlands held their long-anticipated reunion in the identical rooms which they occupied as boys and girls over 45 years ago.

Starting with a reception at four o'clock, staid matrons greeted one another, in many cases endeavoring to identify old classmates from recollections of slim, straight-haired girls with high collars and ankle length dresses. The men also had at times difficulty in recognizing old associates due to change in waist lines and thinning of the "fringe on top." With the interchange of anecdotes about school days and examination of old programs, group and individual photographs, and other mementos of years ago, the next two hours passed rapidly.

At promptly 6:30 over 60 former graduates and guests sat down to a delicious dinner of lobster newburg. The tables were arranged in the form of the letter H, and

Aldermen Adopt New Parking Regulations

Two new traffic regulations, one prohibiting parking on bridges and the other forbidding parking on the west side of Chapel street in front of the Raytheon Mfg. Co. and the Futurity Thread Company plants, went into effect last Friday, according to official notice received by the Newton police traffic bureau.

The measures were adopted by the Board of Aldermen and approved by the State Department of Public Works.

The new parking ordinance, with the addition of the prohibition of parking on bridges, follows:

SECTION 1. General prohibitions. No person shall allow, permit or suffer any vehicle registered in his name to stand or park in any street, way, highway, road or parkway under the control of the city of Newton in violation of any of the traffic rules or orders adopted by the board of aldermen, and in particular in any of the following places except when necessary to avoid conflict with the direction of a police officer or traffic sign or signal. Vehicles found violating any of the provisions of this section may be moved by or under the direction of an officer and

President's Successor

President Truman's special message to Congress last week centered attention on the need for a change in the 59-year-old law providing that the Secretary of State should succeed to the Presidency in the event of the death of both the President and the Vice President.

Mr. Truman has been in the somewhat strange position of not wanting to fire Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr., and still not desiring to leave him in a post where he would step into the White House if the President died.

The suggestion by President Truman that the Speaker of the House become a stop-gap President, in case of the death of both the President and Vice President, serving only until a special election could be called, would appear to be an intelligent solution of the problem.

If anything were to happen now to Mr. Truman, it would hardly seem reasonable for a man the majority of the people of the nation had never elected to anything to assume the job of running the country for three and a half years, whether he were a congressman, senator or Secretary of State.

As President Truman said, the Speaker of the House is more representative of the people than the Secretary of State, but the Speaker actually is elected to office by the voters in one section of one State, and he is placed in power by his fellow congressmen who are, of course, representatives of the people.

It's conceivable, too, that the Speaker of the House might be of a different political party than the President whose place he would assume. That was why the law-makers back in 1886 provided that the Secretary of State should succeed to the Presidency if both the President and Vice President died.

The right to designate a President, who is to serve for any appreciable period, however, should in the final analysis rest with the people of the United States themselves, not with the congressmen of any one party.

War Parents Install Officers

—o—

On Friday evening, June 15, 1945, the War Parents of America, Inc., Newton Chapter No. 14, held their Installation of officers in the Memorial Building of Newton City Hall, Newton Centre. The following officers were installed:

President, Mrs. Patrick Duncan; 1st vice president, Mrs. Alice Marcell; 2nd vice president, Mr. Alfred G. Kerr; treasurer, Mrs. John O. Brown, Sr.; Rec. secretary, Mrs. Abigail Van Wart; cor. secretary, Mrs. Mary E. Ellis; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Angus MacLain; chaplain, Mrs. Daniel P. Henley; Executive Board: John O. Brown, Sr., Daniel P. Henley, John Temperley, Mrs. Lewis Wood, Mrs. Patrick J. McGrath, Mrs. James Rooney.

Mr. William Bright of Waltham National Treasurer, was the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Spencer, also of Waltham. The guests of honor included, National President, Roy L. McQuillan, War Parents of America Inc., Com. J. Edward Theriault, American Legion Post 48; Fred Farrington, chairman Veterans Council; Com. Charles Pollack, Veterans Foreign Wars; Com. Ray D. Grieve, Disabled American Veterans; Com. Innocent Fiansi, Italian War Veterans and Roy S. Edwards, chairman of the Citizens' Committee. Delegations from Waltham chapter, Brookline chapter and Allston-Brighton chapter were present.

The retiring President, Mr. A. L. Moriarty was presented with a purse of money and a beautiful certificate of "Honor and Appreciation" by the Chapter. Mrs. Patrick J. Duncan was presented with a large basket of beautiful flowers. A large bouquet of flowers was presented to the wife of the retiring President, Mrs. A. L. Moriarty. Mr. Leon Mayer provided a very delightful entertainment. The members of Newton Chapter No. 14, are most grateful to Mr. Mayer and his group for their share in the installation entertainment. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stephen Belton, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Patrick J. Mc Grath, Mrs. James Rooney, Mrs. George Trumbull and Mrs. Florence Williams.

Newcomers' Club

—o—

The Newton Newcomers' Club met Friday at the Newton Centre Women's Club for its usual program of dessert and bridge.

Mrs. Joseph P. Maloney presided. Four new residents of the Newtons were welcomed into the club: Mrs. Charles H. Malone, Mrs. Vincent P. Madden, Mrs. R. S. Campbell, Mrs. B. H. Cotton.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at The Viking Framingham Centre Friday July 6, at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. C. Roy Rook will be in charge of the affair, assisted by her committee.

Rotary Club

The members of the Rotary Club and the 16 guests who were present at today's meeting were honored to have as their speaker Phil Feiner, introduced by Charlie Meeker. Mr. Feiner was former Governor of the 198th District and comes from Rhode Island, where he is well known as a public citizen. Mr. Feiner gave us a very fine and inspiring talk on the Ideals of Rotary and its Code of Ethics, and pointed out the influence which Rotary could and should have upon national and international affairs.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policy of this newspaper—Editor's Note).

Mayor Goddard

Most of us have discounted for some time the recent announcement by Mayor Paul M. Goddard that he would run for a fourth term. There was a time, a month or so ago, when a number of potential candidates were surveying the field, and one or two had assured their friends they would undoubtedly run for Mayor next fall. Whether any of these gentlemen will now make a statement remains to be seen. My guess is that there will be no very serious threat to the re-election of the Mayor. He has not only been a good Mayor, but he has learned a good deal about the fine art of politics. I doubt very much that he would have made his recent announcement unless a thorough investigation of the situation had satisfied him that he could be re-elected without too much effort.

Senator Saltonstall

It has been some little time since a new Massachusetts Senator has attracted so much attention throughout the country as our own Junior Senator Leverett Saltonstall. To be sure, former Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was not a reticent man and he became quite articulate without waiting to serve a long apprenticeship. However, even the colorful Col. Lodge did not receive one-half the publicity which our wartime Governor has been getting from all quarters. One reason for this is Senator Saltonstall's rather unexpected independence. Massachusetts voters have always thought of him as a strong party man with a tendency to be independent on occasion. Frankly, I am a bit startled to know how frequently Senator Saltonstall has been showing his independence of late. Only his tremendous popularity and the universal esteem in which he is held has prevented him from receiving severe criticism. For example, he voted to confirm Henry A. Wallace for a Cabinet position at a time when Wallace was extremely unpopular in regular Republican circles. More recently we find him in a small but impressive minority of Republican Senators voting with the administration on the bill empowering President Truman to cut tariffs another 50 per cent if it seems advisable. Curiously enough, our Democratic Senior Senator deserted the administration on this issue and voted with the minority. This is a very interesting situation. It is probably just as well that we now have an increasingly large number of Congressmen and Senators who refuse to vote blindly with the party leader.

Massachusets Boys' State

Speaking of bureaucrats in Washington, we now have a very excellent example of the methods which some of these gentlemen employ. My readers may recall a column I wrote some weeks ago in connection with the Boys' State movement, sponsored by the American Legion, which has been in operation in three-fourths of the states in the union and was expected to operate for the second year in Massachusetts at the very time this column is being written. The purpose of this movement is to instruct as many high school juniors as possible in the art of government. Last year, for example, American Legion Posts and a few outside organizations sponsored by 307 boys, all of them leaders in their classes, who were sent to Massachusetts State College at Amherst for a week's intensive program. They were taught by governmental experts how to conduct elections; how to run campaigns; how to set up town, city, county, and state governments; and how to establish the various courts. It was a splendid program and has brought nothing but praise from civic leaders all over the country.

Now to the point. Col. J. Monroe Johnson, chairman of the ODT, appears to have made a one-man decision which forbade the Massachusetts Boys' State from operating in the month of June. The reason given was, of course, the necessity for conserving transportation facilities for the movement of troops. For a time it appeared that Boys' State might be held in late August, but even that seems doubtful at this writing. What I particularly wish to call attention to is this. Col. Johnson made a one-man decision, and he made it on the basis of the fact that he designated Boys' State as a "youth conference" and as such not entitled to use transportation facilities. Boys' camps, on the other hand, have been given Col. Johnson's blessing because he rules that they are "educational and recreational programs." To make matters worse, the government is permitting race tracks and dog tracks to operate despite the necessity for conserving transportation facilities. Personally, I cannot understand why this decision has been allowed to stand without serious challenge. The Massachusetts Chairman of Boys' State asked Senator Saltonstall to intercede, but it does not appear that he has been able to change Col. Johnson's decision.

Shortage of B. & A. R.R. Cars Due to Vet Transportation

The Boston & Albany Railroad has issued an explanation for the greater than usual congestion on passenger cars serving Newton and other communities.

The railroad announced that about 40 passenger cars have been assigned in the last 10 days for use in transporting thousands of veterans who are returning to the Port of Boston from Europe.

Dr. Thompson Retires From College Of Pharmacy Staff

Wilfred Chagnon, 51 Vernon street, Newton, president of the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical Association, recently attended the annual Alumni banquet of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, held at the Hotel Sheraton. The banquet was complimentary to the seniors and the guest of honor was Dr. Leon A. Thompson, who is retiring from the staff of the college after having served thereon for thirty-six years.

The alumni, graduates and members of the college presented Dr. Thompson with a cabin cruiser and a large check to cover the expenses of the boat for several years.

Other guests at the head table with Mr. Chagnon included: the President of the American Pharmaceutical Association, George A. Molton, Peterborough, N. H.; Timothy S. Shea, of Worcester, President of the Massachusetts Board of Registration and Pharmacy, William T. Briry of Melrose, President of the College, and Howard C. Newton of Wellesley, Dean of the College.

Francis M. Putnam, retiring president of the Alumnae Association, president over the banquet and introduced all speakers.

H. J. Nargesian To Be Ordained

Haig J. Nargesian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Nargesian, 41 Central avenue, Newtonville, will be ordained to the Congregational Christian Ministry at the church in which he has been serving as Pastor since December 1944, the First Congregational Church of Sutton, on Sunday evening July 1st at seven o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Clarence R. Skinner, Dean of the Tufts College School of Religion will deliver the Ordination Sermon. The Rev. Dr. J. Gurford Parry of Wellesley will give the Charge to the People and the Rev. Frederick W. Alden of Natick will give the Charge to the Minister. The Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Timberlake, President of the Mass. Congregational Conference and Missionary Society will give the Vows of Ordination. Other participating clergymen will be the Reverend Aldred Cole of Woburn, Rev. Ernest Thorsell of Weymouth, the Rev. Walter Dobler of Millbury, the Rev. Roger Cleveland of Grafton, the Rev. Lyndon Beardslee of Westboro, the Rev. Horace G. Robson of Whitinsville, and the Rev. Kenneth E. Nye of Webster.

Mr. Nargesian received his education at Tufts College and Tufts College school of Religion. He was President two years of the Young People's Council of the Norumbega Council of Religious Education. Before assuming his duties as Pastor of the Sutton Church, he served as Associate-Minister of the First Congregational Church of Natick and the John Eliot Congregational Church, South Natick.

Swim Well—Swim Safely—Says Red Cross

"If you life depended on it, could you swim to safety?" asks Frank Dowcett, Sr., chairman of Water Safety and Life Saving for the Newton Red Cross. "Swim Well—Swim Safely! Don't let the beach be a hazard."

Beginning July 2, classes for swimming and life saving will be given at Crystal Lake and Auburndale Playground, and registration must be made this week. Anyone interested can report at Crystal Lake on Thursday, June 28, 9 to 12 in the morning, and 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and at Auburndale Playground on Friday, June 29, 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

Miss Claire McCarthy and Miss Carol Curley, who have just returned from two weeks of intensive study at the Red Cross Aquatic School, will be the instructors this year.

Newton Band in Stoneham Parade July 4

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion Band, Newton Post No. 48 American Legion Rifle Team and Newton Marine Corps League will participate in a huge parade in Stoneham at 9:00 o'clock on Wednesday, July 4, 1945. These units will assist in paying tribute to S-Sgt. George J. Hall of Stoneham, recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Two More Villages Announce Full Enrollment

Chestnut Hill and Waban are the fourth and fifth villages to announce complete enrollment of workers in the coming Newton Community Chest Campaign. These villages follow Nonantum, Oak Hill, and Auburndale to go over the top by reaching 100% of their enrollment goal.

The Chestnut Hill organization this year is under the leadership of John Perrin, who is assisted by Mrs. Henderson Inches, Franklin H. Nichols, Mrs. Harry S. Middendorf, Edward A. Winsor, and Benjamin Ulin, Captains.

As head of the Waban Residential Village, Edward J. McCarthy has as his assistants Marcel Durot, Clyde S. Casady, Frederick W. Atherton, Majors; Edward N. Chase, Mrs. Frank A. Mesmer, Lewis E. Day, T. N. Jenness, Mrs. Charles Hyde, T. E. Casselman, Jr., Douglas M. Gray, Dr. Leonard Spangenberg, Eugene Lynch, Geo. R. Hill, Captains.

Enrollment during the week has jumped to 1945, a gain of 334 since the report of June 21. Newtonville made the largest per cent of increase for the week of 39%, followd by Newton, whose gain was 29%. All villages are now more than fifty per cent enrolled. Chairman Hoyt is aiming at 100% enrollment in the Residential Division by July first.

The Newton Archers

The weather was perfect for archery on Sunday. The Newton Archers held the third of the handicap tournaments which are held the last Sunday in each summer month. The number was small because some of the members attended a tournament at Swampscott.

The handicap trophies were given to:

For the field; Judson Turner.
Men, Victor Lemay.
Women, Vera G. Andrews.

The trophies awarded for the highest American round scores were given to:

Men, Adrian Matthews, 89-637.
Women, Hazel Turner, 69-373.
Juniors, Raymond Buell, 55-237.

The trophies are held for a month and will be shot for again at the next handicap tournament held July 29th.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, June 27, 1890

A party of Newton people drove to Milton this week to visit the famous Russell stock farm.

While digging a hole for an electric light pole on the corner of the bank grounds (Newton) a piece of slate tombstone was unearthed, on which were the letters "tone" and "87," the rest being broken off. It was at first thought that the men had struck an ancient cemetery, but Mr. J. N. Bacon solved the mystery by saying that Mr. Joseph W. Goddard, whose house was near the locality, and who died some 40 years ago. His business was that of cutting names on tombstones, and he had a large business for those days. This fragment was probably from a stone that had been replaced, but there is some doubt whether the 87 stood for 1787 or for the age of the person whose grave it marked.

The police committee has accepted the police signal system and the keys have been turned over to the City Marshal.

The letter carriers will begin their vacations of two weeks each on July 7th, giving the substitute carriers a chance during that time.

50 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, June 28, 1895

The suggestion has been made that the city government make arrangements to have the chimes of Grace church, Newton, ring patriotic tunes on the Fourth instead of the usual senseless noise of bells rung without regard to each other. If such an arrangement could be made, the bell ringing would be made a pleasure instead of a nuisance.

Now that foot races are tabooed in Newtonville because of their unpopularity it has been suggested to open a "jack pot."

The historical home of Gen. Hull (Newtonville) is no more and over its ruins will be erected a modern apartment building with stores on the ground floor and suites above.

A craft on the Charles river that attracts no end of admiration is the finely appointed steam launch of which Louis Ross is the modest owner. It is an ideal boat of its type and is a sample, too, of Newton industry, having been built in this city.

A new hose wagon from the manufactory of P. A. McVicar arrived at fire department headquarters this week. It takes the place of the old reel and is a stylish looking piece of apparatus.

A class of 160 was graduated last Saturday afternoon at the sixtieth year of the Newton Classical High School.

Summer Schedule for Red Cross Workrooms

Two sewing workrooms will be closed for the summer months, it is announced by Mrs. Charles E. Spencer, Jr., chairman of Production for Newton Red Cross.

The Unit meting at the Eliot Church in Newton will meet for the last time on Monday, July 2, and will reopen on September 10. The workroom at St. John's Church, Newtonville, will close upon the completion of the sewing on hand, and will reopen on September 12.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPS

Camp Frank A. Day

—o—

Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Y.M.C.A. summer camp for boys, opened on Wednesday with a capacity enrollment of 150 boys and 50 counsellors and staff leaders. With the exception of a few places being reserved for Newton boys during the last three weeks the camp is filled to capacity.

President Frederick Sayford Bacon of the Y.M.C.A. and Henry T. Dunker, Chairman of the Camp Committee, and a small group of Directors and friends attended the opening banquet of the camp last Wednesday evening. Frank M. Simmons, Director, was the toastmaster.

The 50 counsellors and camp staff had been at camp a week early and had the property in excellent shape to receive the boys. The swimming facilities, boats and canoes, the athletic fields, and tennis courts were all in shape for the first day of camp.

Waterfront Director Reginald E. Smith and his crew of life savers put the whole camp through the swimming tests the first two days. Mr. H. G. Anderton, Athletic Director, started his baseball, softball, and basketball leagues. Ralph Fellersen, Business Manager, has been fortunate to have stored a good supply of food so that the campers will be amply taken care of. Craft Director George Larsson is starting an interesting program of varied handicrafts.

On the opening day about half the campers left by train from the Newtonville Station, with Harold B. Gores of the Camp Committee and Miss Marjorie W. Aldrich of the Y.M.C.A. staff in charge. In addition to President Bacon and Chairman Dunker the following were present at the opening dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, Mr. Harry W. Bascom, and Mr. Charles Sprague.

Camp Massasoit

—o—

Camp Massasoit, the Newton Y.M.C.A. camp for boys in the city during the summer, opened with a capacity enrollment last Monday morning. The Honorable Paul M. Goddard, Mayor of Newton, spoke to the boys at their Wednesday noon Assembly. Boys from every section of the city are enjoying camp life on the "Y" grounds. Their activities include swimming, archery, baseball, basketball, quoits, and tennis. Trips to nearby points of interest are also included in the program.

Richard B. Simmons, Camp Director, and a staff of competent associates are offering the same type of program as is offered at over-night camps with the exception that the boys go home every afternoon at four o'clock.

Charles Wade Abbot started the opening day with his "learn to swim" classes with a full enrollment. He is giving lessons to more than fifty non-swimmers. Advanced swimming activities are available for all boys who can pass their beginners' test. Alden Read, the Assistant Principal of the Frank A. Day Junior High School, is Program Director and Stephen A. Randall is in charge of registration and is helping in the athletic program. Mrs. Burton Howarth is in charge of Archery for the second year. A new feature of the program this year is an enlarged Craft program under the direction of Miss Eleanor Babbitt. The craft shop is a popular place for the campers during the afternoon periods. Arthur B. Clarke of the Y.M.C.A. staff is in charge of trips and movies.

Parents and friends of campers are invited to inspect the program at any time.

'My Sister Eileen' At Cambridge Summer Theatre

Loud laughter and chuckles are going to ring the rafters of the Cambridge Summer Theatre at Brattle Hall next week starting on the onday evening of July 2nd, when John Huntington presents Libby Holman in the smash hit comedy "My Sister Eileen" with Leila Ernst as the fourth production of the Cambridge Summer Theatre of this season.

The riotous comedy which tells the story of the misadventures of two sisters in a Greenwich Village basement apartment in New York will be one of the most popular comedies that any Summer theatre has presented if advance seat sales and interest are any indication. The production will be directed by Neil McFee Skinner and also announced for the large cast are Ruth Homond, Peggy Stuart, William Becker, Eliot Duvey, Neil Skinner, Roderich Winchell, Ray Hinklet, Edythe Ward and many others.

"My Sister Eileen" has chalked up an amazing success record, and is undoubtedly one of th efunniest comedies in the history of the American Theatre. The Cambridge Summer Theatre production will only run for one week with a matinee on Saturday afternoon on July 7th.

Mario Mantini, New Musical Director, At Station WCOP

Mario Mantini of 897 Chestnut street, Waban, well known in Boston musical circles, has been appointed musical director of radio station WCOP. A graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Musie in Naples, Italy, where he majored in violin and piano, Mr. Mantini played under such conductors as Bernardino Molinare and Tullio Serafin at the San Carlos Royal Opera in Naples.

He came to this country in 1924 for recital work, and was later concert master for the San Carlo Opera of New York. Since, he has been associated with hotel and theatre musical groups, playing under such noted conductors as Guy Fraser Harrison, Fabien Sevitzky, Paul Whiteman and Rubinoff while at the Met in Boston.

When radio came into its own, Mr. Mantini moved into that field and was associate conductor at Yankee network; was a member of a Singing Strings Ensemble heard over Mutual; and has been connected with both CBS and Mutual, conducting many network shows. Among programs of his own, best known was his CBS sustainer, "Casa Continentale", an ensemble of eight musicians.

Wounded, Hospitalized On Okinawa

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Dolan of 49 Pembroke Street, Newton, from their son-in-law, Sgt. Albert G. Breault, 38, who was wounded in action on Okinawa and is now in a hospital there.

Sgt. Breault has been in the service for two years and before entering the Army had ben employed by the Standard Oil Company.

His wife, the former, Olive Dolan, died three years ago. He has two sons, Dermott, 10, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Dolan, and Paul 8, who is living with relatives in Detroit.

Fatally Injured By Auto

Michael Joseph Sullivan, 59, a gardener, of 360 Dedham street, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile on Beacon street, near Hammond street, Chestnut Hill on Monday night.

The accident occurred about 10:13 p.m. The automobile was operated by D. Leighton Ordway, 111 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, who reported to the police that he did not see the man until the car struck him.

Pilgrim Fellowship Summer Conference

About a hundred young people and their leaders from nearby Congregational churches are meeting this week at Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, Mass., for one week under the auspices of the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society.

The Rev. Stanley E. Anderson of Newburyport is Dean of the Conference. Rev. James W. Lenhart of Lexington is Chaplain. Rev. Lester G. Myers of Brockton is Conference lecturer, Mrs. Kenneth Burk of Brighton is serving as Nurse and Rev. Baldwin W. Callahan of Gardner is Music leader.

Other leaders are: Mrs. Franklin G. Field, Brighton, head counselor for girls; Miss Frances Maeda, Boston, Miss Jean Ashley, Waban, Miss Mariam Nelson, Quincy, Rev. Arthur J. Snow, Stoneham, head counselor for boys, Rev. Lionel A. Whiston, Newbury, Rev. Perry M. Blankenship, Peabody, Rev. Robert W. Little, Cohasset.

Dr. Frederick Scott, Prof. of Philosophy at Fukien University, Foochow, China, is special lecturer. Courses being given cover the following subjects: "Our Christian Beliefs," "The Pilgrim Fellowship and Young People's Work," "Missions and World Friendship," "Social Issues," "Church History."

The Conference is being held in strict accordance with the regulations of the O.D.T. which allows for a very limited attendance outside the immediate area. It is one of four similar Pilgrim Fellowship conferences being held this summer under the auspices of the Mass. Congregational Conference and Missionary Society.

Lieut. Bevis, Navy Flier, Wins DFC

For heroism in aerial action against the Japanese, Lt. (jg) Edgar A. Bevis, 24, USNR, son of Mrs. Mary Bevis of Newton, was awarded the Disinguished Flying Cross, the Navy announced last week.

Lt. Bevis is pilot of a Navy dive bomber, and also holds the Air Medal. He attended Northeastern University, and was sent to the Pacific war theatre in April 1943.

Medieval Key Exhibit Being Shown at Library

Miss Doris Carley has a loan exhibit of hand-forged medieval and Colonial Keys on display at the Newtonville branch of the Newtonville Public Library on Walnut street.

The exhibit is divided into two portions. One series shows specimens from France, Italy, and Spain, patiently and cunningly hand-wrought by the master craftsmen of bygone centuries.

Dominating this group is a Cathedral Key of most intricate design, which is a work of art in itself, and most of the lesser keys are patterned along similar lines.

The second group consists of specimens of pioneer New England blacksmiths' handicraft. These men worked without the fine hand tools and equipment of their European predecessors, but they have produced strong and sturdy keys which, no doubt, functioned as well as the best European ones.

It is particularly interesting to notice that the Yankee products did not slavishly copy any set design, and worked according to the ingenuity of the individual smith.

This is another in the series of displays which Mrs. McMullen, the Librarian, maintains, appeals to many diverse interests.

Whitnam Named Comptroller

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a unanimous vote of the 17 members present, four being absent, elected Archie R. Whitman as Comptroller of Accounts, and at the same time set the salary of comptroller at $4500.

Mr. Whitman has been serving for some time as assistant to Comptroller Daniel A. White, who retired on June 1, at which time Mr. Whitman was appointed acting comptroller by Mayor Paul M. Goddard. Before entering the Accounting Department he had been employed in the office of the City Treasurer and Collector.

The board also voted to confirm the appointments of John W. Kellar of 300 Linwood avenue, Newtonville and George W. Sweet of 194 Hobart road, Newton Centre as members of the Planning Board and of Major William J. McCarthy of 61 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville as a member of the Recreation Commission.

Mayor Goddard's appointment of Ernest G. Angevine as associate member of the Board of Appeal, Building Laws, was laid on the table until the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

President Joseph B. Jamieson appointed a committee to study a long range program of public works for the post-war period. Members of this committee are Fred A. Alexander, Theodore R. Lockwood, Carrol J. Hoffman, Warener Eustis and President Joseph B. Jamieson.

MIGHTY SEVENTH
OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!
At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars.
The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.
This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

West Newton Community Center Ends Year of Work

—o—

The West Newton Community Center, a member agency of Newton Community Chest, has finished another busy year.

A delightful demonstration of group dancing, held in the Davis School, recently convinced pleased parents and friends that the classes in that art had been extremely successful. Girls who had faithfully attended cooking class gave a charming tea at the Center's home, the "Portable," in the rear of the Davis school. Pretty girls, with great poise, served tea and cakes to their guests.

More utilitarian achievements were very much in evidence in the exhibits held in the Portable's large room early in June. Especially striking was the collection of knitted garments. Dresses, aprons and other useful wearable were there, as well as lovely things made by the woodworking group.

Throughout July and August the boys and girls of the Center will have fun at the day camp in Cochituate. They leave in the station wagon every morning, returning after happy hours of outdoor activities in the early evening.

The West Newton Community Center is fortunate in having for its director Miss Gertrude McCallum. She is a native of Newton, educated in its schools, with special training in the Recreation Training School, of Chicago, Illinois. Miss McCallum has been in her present position since 1927, under her direction the outreach and influence of the Center has steadily increased. Her friendliness and helpful service exemplify the aims and purpose of the Community Center.

This summer Miss McCallum will have an extended vacation and rest, urgently needed after an unusually busy year. The place as co-director of the Cochituate camp, with Miss Helen Sandstrom of Pomroy House, will be filled by Miss Sheila Walsh. Miss Walsh, an experienced teacher, in recreation and a skilled swimmer, will have charge of the Center's summer camp program.

West Newton Community Center, aging in years, young in spirit and strong in purpose, looks forward to a new year, beginning in September—a year of continued education for citizenship—citizenship reaching from our own community into a growing, changing world.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Bill—How do you manage to have our red points last through the month, Jane? Mac was saying that his wife does fine the first two weeks but that she has a bad time of it after that.

Jane—Oh, it's easy! I just add what we all have together and divide by 4 and 1/3.

Junior—How many red points do I have?

Bill—Every one has the same—50 a month, Son. That makes 150 for the three of us. But what do you divide by 4 and 1/3 for, Jane?

Jane—Because I figure there are 4 1/3 weeks in a month. That tells me how many points I can use each week; 150 divided by 4 1/3 equals 35. I try to keep within that amount each week. If I spend 3 or 4 points over one week, I plan to spend less the next.

Junior—We had ration points in our 'rithmetic lesson.

Bill—Well, that sure is easy. Just order 35 points worth of meat and there you are. Fish for the rest of the week.

Jane—Better not tell Mac that. Those red points have to go for all kinds of fat and cheese and evaporated milk.

Bill—Well, what should I say? Thought this was going to be simple.

Jane—It is. But the best way is to plan for your fats first, almost everyone needs about half pound a week. That is 1 1/2 pounds for us.

Junior—Do I eat as much fat as Daddy?

Jane—Just about, dear. But listen to this, Bill. Tell Mac that part of his fat should be oleo or butter for its vitamin A—we use oleo because it is now enriched with vitamin A and takes less points. Since he has three in his family, he would need 1 pound of oleo, and the other half pound could be any other fat such as lard or salad oil.

Bill—Whoa!

Jane—That is one pound of oleo—14 points; and 1/2 pound of other fat—6 red points which makes 20 red points.

Bill—All right, since we had 35 points a week, that makes 15 left for meat or cheese.

Jane—Yes, dear. And really it doesn't make any difference what the size of one's family. About half of one's red points go for fat and the other half for meat.

tration in Pharmacy by Governor Saltonstall in 1940. At present he is secretary of the Board. He is a past president of the Boston Retail Druggists Association, a director of the Boston Druggists Association and a member of the Corporation of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

Fulton Oursler, nationally known editor, novelist, playwright and lecturer, was guest speaker at the convention banquet. He brought an important message entitled "America Looks to the Future." Lurelle Guild, store designer and industrial engineer addressed the business session. His topic was "The Shape of Things to Come." Other speakers during the convention were: Timothy S. Shea, president, Board of Registration in Pharmacy; Howard C. Newton, dean, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy; I. H. Bander, vice president, McKesson Robbins, Inc.; Lewis Rush, of the Advertisers Exchange; and Samuel Silverman, general counsel for the Association.

Of special interest to the ladies was a lecture by Mildred Buchanan Flagg, of Newton. Her subject was "Celebrity Chatalogs," brilliant personality sketches of people in the news. She was presented by and under the personal direction of Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon, co-chairman of the Ladies Reception Committee.

Upon installation of Chagnon as president, he presented a handsome black walnut gavel on a hand carved mounting board to Henry J. Duffy, of Fall River, the out-going president.

In accepting the office of president, Commissioner Chagnon said, "The past is behind us, it has treated us well. Our task now is to go forward into the future with a firm determination to attack the problems which will confront us. Alone, this task would be difficult, united we can and will overcome any obstacles which bar our way onward in the interest of Public Health."

Offers Courses in Radar Prep Training

A university extension course, Preparation for Radar Training, will be given on eight Mondays, 6 to 9 p.m., beginning July 9, 1945 at the Massachusetts School of Art, 370 Brookline avenue, Boston, according to an announcement by E. Everett Clark Director of the Division of University Extension, State Department of Education. There will be two sessions each evening: 6 to 7:30 p.m., Mathematics Review, under Charles J. Keelon of the Boston English High School; 7:30 to 9 p.m., Physics, Electricity, and Radio Review, instructor, Lawrence A. Howard, E. Boston High School. This course is offered because of need of the U. S. Navy for men for radar training. Pre-inductees who qualify for this training prior to actual induction are assured of assignment to the Navy for such training. A technical training is not necessary for qualification, but a knowledge of high school mathematics and physics is essential. The instruction in this course will provide an intensive review of essential mathematics and will give some training in the fundamental principles of physics, electricity, and radio. Additional information may be obtained at the office of University Extension, 200 Newbury street, Boston.

"The proposed new thoroughfare out of the Square running easterly along the northerly side of the B. & A. R. R. location, provides a direct route to the Charles River Basin Parkway leading to Allston, Brighton, Cambridge and Boston, and is designed to relieve the present difficult one-way traffic problem by diverting traffic from Charlesbank road and St. James street. The grades along this proposed route are not level grades, but there are no excessively steep grades contemplated.

"West-bound traffic from Boston enters Newton at four points: Boylston street, Chesnut Hill, Lake street and Nonantum Square. The most heavily travelled is probably Nonantum Square, where there is great need for a radical change from the present conditions (reminiscent of the days of horse-drawn vehicles), to the more modern treatment proposed in the plan.

"From the economic point of view, the proposed plan is highly desirable. It will greatly improve the appearance and accessability of the Square as a trading center and an increase in the value of the outlying residential section will inevitably follow. It is obvious that failure to improve conditions in the Square, and lack of adequate parking space with resulting loss of patronage, have deterred the development of store properties and caused them to run down. In consequence, there has been a large shrinkage in taxable valuations with considerable loss of income to the City. If the Square is improved as suggested, the public will be attracted by better traffic conditions, adequate facilities for trolley cars and buses, and shelters for passengers using the same. The parking of buses in the center of the Square, instead of in front of stores as at present, will undoubtedly improve business. A broad outlet from the Square to the Riverway has long been needed to accommodate eastbound traffic. The net result will be a prosperous mercantile district in a section comprising 18 per cent of the City's population which, in 1943, paid a large portion of the City's personal property tax, in spite of the fact that in recent years much less money has been expended therein for improvements than has been paid in taxes. Moreover, Newton Corner will become less of a fire hazard than it is at present.

"In view of the anticipated post-war increase in automobile traffic, relief of congestion at this point should be undertaken at this time rather than deferred until a later date. The initial steps should be taken by the City with the expectation that property owners will promptly avail themselves of the opportunity to develop the district commercially. The Planning Board has been informed that a number of well known distributors of food and merchandise have already signified their intention to establish modern, attractive stores in the Square if the improvements are made."

Garden Party

A delightful "Garden Party" was held at the Lucy Jackson Chapter D.A.R. Chapter House on June 12 with the following ladies in charge: Mrs. Harry D. Cabot, Mrs. Charles W. Blood, Mrs. Arthur S. Lightning Strikes Two Newton Homes

Although no fire resulted, two homes in Newton were struck by bolts of lightning during the severe electrical storm early Tuesday morning.

The home of Carmella Nicolazza at 29 Smith Court, West Newton was struck and although the fire department responded to a call at 3:25 a.m. no fire damage could be found.

At Newton Centre the house at 21 Philbrick road was struck. The occupants felt the shock but no serious damage resulted.

Dr. Ferre Writes Article for "The Pastor"

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 20—Dr. F. S. Ferre, who holds the Abbot professorship of Christian theology at Andover Theological School, Newton Centre, is featured in the June issue of "The Pastor," as writer of "Preaching the Christian Faith." His article, as announced by the editor, is the first of a series of four in which the requirements of powerful preaching will be stressed.

"The Pastor" is a religious magazine catering especially to the practical problems of ministers. It is published at Nashville, Tenn., under the editorship of Woodrow Geier.

Waltham News Tribune Man Wins Bronze Star

—o—

Tech. Sgt. Morris M. Karlin, former Newton reporter for the News-Tribune, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, according to word received from Germany.

The award was made for "meritorious service" as personnel sergeant-major of the 212th Armored Field Artillery Battalion of the Sixth Armored Division in Normandy, Central France, Luxembourg and Germany.

Sgt. Karlin entered the Army in March, 1941, and served with the 212th Battalion from the time it was activated in the summer of 1942. In addition to the Bronze Star, he has a Unit Citation and five battle stars.

Newton Girls In Radcliffe Commencement

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Among the students participating in the Commencement activities this week at Radcliffe College were Miss Esther E. Jalonen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Jalonen of 181 California street, and Miss Jane Moyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moyer of 382 Kenrick street of Newton; Virginia Jablonski Odell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jablonski of 51 Hyde street, and Miss Elinor R. Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harris of 121 Allerton road of Newton Highlands; and Bernice Shoul Belfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob W. Shoul of 33 Nobscot road, Newton Center. Miss Jalonen and Miss Moyer received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Mrs. Odell the degree of Bachelor of Arts cum laude in the field of General Studies, while Miss Harris and Mrs. Belfer received the degree of Master of Arts, both in the field of Economics. The degrees were awarded at the Radcliffe Commencement exercises on Wednesday morning, June 27. David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, spoke to the students on "Machines and the Human Spirit."

This will be the last commencement under the accelerated wartime schedule, since Radcliffe will hold no summer session in 1945 and will revert in the fall to a calendar of two normal academic terms.

said. They include novelty races, such as sack, tonic and peanut races; regular field events, baseball throwing and ten swimming events at Crystal Lake.

"Every child participating has an excellent chance of winning a prize," Mr. Baker continued. "There are 97 prizes for field events, ranging from $2 to 50 cents in War Stamps, including a first, second or third prize ribbon commemorating the day. In addition, the winner of the championship twilight baseball game between the Newton Centre Cardinals and the Newton Centre Giants will receive a $15 cash award to purchase equipment for the team."

The Improvement Association secretary said that Recreation Commissioner Ewing Wilson and many of his staff were giving splendid cooperation in helping to make the day a huge success.

"Mr. Wilson has given us every possible assistance," Mr. Baker said, "not only in making the Newton Centre Playground and Crystal Lake available to us, but also in preparing the fields and the lake, furnishing equipment and man and woman power and much-needed advice. John P. Donahue, who manages the 35 Newton Twilight teams, is responsible for bringing together the two Newton Centre teams for the baseball game. Also, credit must go to the police department for its assistance. Chief of Police Nicholas Veduccio is furnishing policemen to assist in handling the crowds and Walter Hartford of the department, is furnishing the amplifying equipment.

The morning program at the playground will be devoted to children 10 years of age or under. They will participate in a doll carriage parade and pet show. The latter includes pets of all varieties and prizes will be awarded for the most original pet, prettiest and ugliest. These three events alone carry 24 war stamp prizes. In addition there will be special children's races. Ice cream and cookies will be served to all children.

All swimming events are scheduled so that there are duplicate races and duplicate prizes for boys and girls. These events will take place from 12:30 p.m. until 2:30 p.m., at Crystal Lake, under the guidance of Parker Pond, of Crystal street.

The afternoon events at the playground start at 3 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. There are twelve events for boys and girls from 10 to 16 years of age.

At 5 p.m., the Newton Centre Cardinals and the Newton Centre Giants will play a seven-inning game. This will be over by 7 p.m.

All prizes will be awarded from the bandstand at the evening ceremonies on the playground, beginning at 7:45 p.m. A recently returned Newton Centre World War II veteran will then give a short patriotic address. This will be followed by community singing, accompanied by the Newton American Band, led by Irwin W. Beal. Patriotic and old-fashioned songs will be the order of the evening.

At dark, a two-hour, professional motion picture show will be flashed on a large silver screen on the bandstand. This will include a full-length, up-to-the-minute Western, with newsreels, colored cartoons and singing movies. The day-long festivities will be closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the onlookers.

All activities will be in charge of Mr. Baker, Recreation Committee chairman, and co-chairman Owen D. Murphy, Jr., and Edmund T. Flanagan. They will be assisted by officers, directors and members of the Association and by Mr. Wilson and his staff.

Petition for Change in Zoning Filed By Oak Hill Residents

A petition has been filed with the Board of Aldermen to change the area zoned as a Business District in Oak Hill Village to a "Single Residence B District" and a hearing will be held at City Hall, Newton Centre, July 2nd, 1945, at 7:45 P. M.

The Petitioners state in their petition their reasons for asking for this change are

1. "No buildings have been erected in the Business District and your petitioners believe that no business buildings will ever be needed there as residents of Oak Hill can and do shop in Newton Highlands, Newton Centre and Thompsonville . . ." (each at least 2 miles from Oak Hill Village.)

2. "Indeed, your petitioners believe that the use of this Business District in Oak Hill for business purposes would be detrimental to actual and assessed values of nearby land, to the development of the neighborhood as a residential area, and to the public good."

Arnold Hartmann, owner of most of the land affected by the proposed change in Zoning, stated that this change is not in the public interest and would adversely affect the value of land and homes in the district.

Mr. Hartman has issued the following statement:

"This Business Area is part of a planned Community Center comprising about 48 acres of land (about the size of Boston Common) and consists of a Playground of about 37 acres, a school and school grounds of 8 acres, a Public Parking area of 2.43 acres, an area zoned for Business of about 2.54 acres and Wheeler road and part of Meadowbrook road. The land for these purposes was zoned or acquired by the City in 1935. The City has already spent a total of $558,000.

"When it was proposed it was understood that the plan would be developed gradually as the community grew and by making provision for the location of the Business District, Public Parking, School and Park Playground, we would ultimately have a fine planned residential area protected against adverse influences.

"In common with others who build homes in this or any suburban area I know that the public demand a Neighborhood Shopping Center within reasonable distance of their home and district without one is handicapped, and each owner of a home or land in it is adversely affected.

"The land near the Business District was largely owned by me and has been developed and sold since this zoning went into effect and it has not been adversely affected by being near a zoned Business Area.

"The development of all the land in the Oak Hill School District would definitely be retarded if this change in zoning is made, because:

"1st, The public demand Shopping Centers within a reasonable distance from where they live.

"2nd, Where there is no Business Center provided, the whole residence district is unprotected and stores may be located anywhere as the need for stores must be satisfied and the zoning can be changed and a business area allowed where needed.

"3rd, By having a location zoned for business in advance of its need, the rest of the residential district will be protected against "Spot Zoning" which means having any vacant land zoned for business by pursuading the Board of Aldermen that there is a need for it at that place.

"Under the Newton Zoning Ordinance, apartments may be built in any business district and in fact there are apartments in practically every one of them,—Newton Centre, Newtonville, Waban, Newton Highlands, West Newton, Auburndale, Chestnut Hill, etc., etc. Can you fairly rule that Oak Hill Village is the one Business District where apartments cannot be built?

"There should be a place in every planned community for people who have always lived in the city but who no longer need a single family house. When the children marry and leave, the parents should be able to find shelter in the community where they have always lived.

"A son or daughter should not be forced from a community when they marry because the only types of living accommodations available are similar to those of their parents.

"The apartments in the other villages in Newton meet these needs in their communities. Is there any logical reason for denying them to residents of Oak Hill who want them?

"I believe the Zoning now in effect in Oak Hill Village was in the best interests of all the residents and property owners and the City when it was passed in 1935. There have been no changes in the district up to the present time which make a change in the zoning of the Business District necessary or desirable.

"The Change in Zoning asked for by the Petitioners is not in your interest as a resident and property owner nor is it beneficial to the district or to the City."

Junior Achievement Program Expected To Start in Sept.

A meeting of the Newton Junior Achievement Committee was held at the office of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday, attended by the following committee members: Douglas Sloane, chairman, Philip O. Ahlin, Dr. Homer W. Anderson Samuel L. Berger, Roger Congdon, Merritt A. Clegg, executive director, Roy S. Edwards, V. R. Grammont, E. W. Schaub, Rupert C. Thompson, H. E. Wainwright, and Harold T. Pillsbury.

Several of the Newton firms who have agreed to sponsor a Junior Achievement Company, submitted names of advisors, who will instruct and supervise each company.

A committee was appointed by Chairman Sloane to procure suitable locations for J. A. Companies, and to make arrangements for alterations of premises if necessary.

"Learn by doing" is the keynote of the Junior Achievement program. It is designed to meet the needs of youth for the practical training and experience which will help them to take their places in the economic life of America.

The program, briefly, is as follows:

Groups of boys and girls, 14 to 21 years old, are set up in small "companies" which are run and operated by the young people themselves.

Each company has a sponsor, obtained by a local committee of business leaders.

Junior Achievement also arranges for the supervision and guidance of each company by adult Advisers, who are experts in the fields of production, business and sales.

Each company raises its own capital by selling stock at 50c a share —and produces a product or performs a service.

A regular meeting place for workshop purposes is maintained by each company or group of companies which pays a nominal sum for rent, light, heat and wages.

In short, each company finances itself, manages itself, produces a product or service, and sells that product or service through its own efforts.

Junior Achievement is a non-profit organization supported by individuals and business organizations. There are no dues or fees charged for membership in the organizations.

It is essentially a leisure time program, and is planned not to interfere with school studies, or recreation or social activities. Generally, members devote not more than two or three hours once or twice a week to their companies.

The types of "business" operated by J. A. companies are too numerous to mention here. Generally, members learn to produce and make simple products in the following media: wood, plastics, cork, leather, needlework, silk screen, printing and clay modeling.

In the process of running their own companies, the members learn to keep various business and production records, map sales campaigns, conduct advertising and publicity programs, prepare financial statements, and other business operations.

Newton Women Guest Speakers on Nursing Libraries

Two members of the staff of the Newton-Wellesley hospital will be guest speakers at a two-week workshop on school of nursing libraries which opened at Simmons College Monday. They are Miss Florence Flores, assistant principal of the school of nursing, and Mrs. Muriel Depopolo, librarian of the hospital library.

The workshop was established in an effort to improve library service to students in the nursing field. It will be conducted by the schools of nursing and library science at Simmons, with Miss Ruth S. Leonard, assistant professor of library science, as director.

Enrollment in the workshop is limited to thirty members from schools of nursing in the New England states who are charged with responsibility of the schools' libraries. Federal funds provide tuition and maintenance for students during the two-week period.

Coppinger Elected Sec.-Treas. of Mass. Elks Association

At the annual convention and war conference of the Massachusetts Elks' Association held at the Hawthorne Inn Hotel, Gloucester on Sunday, Thomas F. Coppinger of Newton was elected secretary-treasurer of the Association. For many years he served as secretary of Newton Lodge of Elks.

Other officers chosen were Mason McEvan of Brookline, President; Edward A. Spry of Boston, first vice-president; Irving W. Shaw of Springfield, second vice-president; Warren Cox of Woburn, third vice-president and John A. O'Brien of Cambridge, third vice-president.

Plan Fund Raising Program for Disabled Vets

State Commander Laurence Curtis of the Department of Massachusetts, Disabled American Veterans today named a five-man committee to plan a sponsored sports program to raise funds for the organization.

Commander John W. McAuliffe of Boston Chapter No. 10 is Chairman of the committee which will hold its first meeting at the Parker House in Boston, Thursday evening, June 28.

The committee, Commander Curtis explained, will ask organized sports to sponsor games for the benefit of the organization.

Union Services of Newton Centre Churches

The union summer services in the Newton Center churches begin Sunday, July 1, at 11 o'clock, and will continue through the 15th in the Methodist church with Rev. H. D. Hawver, D.D., preaching. "Preparing the Way" will be the sermon subject for next Sunday. Miss Marion C. Greene will preside at the organ with Miss Marjorie M. Dow, soprano, soloist. On July 8 and 15 Mr. Alan Booth will be the organist, with Mr. John Tulloch, tenor, and Mrs. Angus Ross, soprano, soloists. The kindergarten and nursery will be open for the care of small children during these services.

Marriages

Kitchen - Stone

Attorney and Mrs. William D. Stone, of West Newton, announce the marriage of their daughter Doris Florence to Staff Sergeant William J. Kitchen, son of Mrs. William D. Picard of Winchester on Thursday afternoon, June 21 at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton.

Mrs. Kitchen attended Northeastern University and the New England Baptist Hospital Training School for Nurses. Staff Sergeant Kitchen is home on furlough after three and one half years in the South Pacific."

Strang - Howland

Miss Muriel Howland, daughter of Mrs. George Frank Howland og Auburndale, was married to Lt. Peter M. Strang, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Strang, also of Auburndale, on Monday afternoon, June 25th. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother by Dr. Ralph H. Rogers, minister of the Auburndale Congregational Church.

The bride is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and the bridegroom is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Lt. Strang is now stationed at the U. S. Naval Mine Depot in Yorktown, Virginia.

Berry - Smith

At a candlelight service performed in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, by the Rev. R. Clyde Yarbrough, D.D., on last Saturday evening, Miss Carol Dawson Smith became the bride of Donald Kjerstead Berry. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Lefferts Smith of 65 Eliot avenue, West Newton and the groom is the son of Mrs. Clarence T. Berry of 957 Washington street, Newtonville.

Carrying orchids, the bride wore a gown of white cotton lace and a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace which held her full length veil. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Taylor Smith, as matron of honor, was gowned in blue organdie with a fuchsia sash, and carried fuchsia sweet peas and white larkspur.

Robert Hayden, of Brookline, was the best man for Mr. Berry and the ushers were Boyd Hayden, Lawrence G. Drury, Norman P. Hall and Orrin J. Petrie.

Mrs. Berry graduated from Wheaton College and Mr. Berry attended Cambridge Junior College. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Berry will live in New York City.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Hanlon of 7 Freeman street, Auburndale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth A. Hanlon to Sgt. John A. Zilinskis, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Zilinskis of 22, Whitlowe road, West Newton.

Sgt. Zilinskis attended Boston College and is now with the Army Air Forces Medical Corps in England.

The house was beautifully decorated with red roses, coreopsis, larkspur and peonies, and the outdoor garden was enjoyed by many of the guests. Mrs. Beamish received many lovely gifts and is returning to her home in California June 30th.

First Aid Units Figure in Newton Disaster Plan

Disaster First Aid Units have been organized by the Newton Chapter of Red Cross, and will be called into service by the City Police and Fire Departments in time of disaster, during parades and large gatherings, and anywhere that their assistance might be required. This plan was carried out at a recent meeting of First Aid Instructors when they were called together by the chairman of the Newton Red Cross First Aid Committee, Mrs. C. O. Mooney.

Present at this meeting were Ralph Emery, Walter Tower, Earl Brockett, Miss Dorothy Foster, Dr. George Abbott, Miss Barbara Bullen, Lester Moriarity, Philip Miller, Miss Rosamond Tenney, Mrs. Constance Trott, Mrs. Elsie Dusossoit, Edward Hingston, Dr. Everett Pierce, Kenneth Hastings, Mrs. Augusta Chamberlain, Miss Mary MacDonald, Charles Peterson, Miss Marilaura Whitney, Henry Whitmore and James Blockall.

It was also decided at this meeting that Newton would form a temporary Disaster Unit this summer headed by Mrs. Mooney and Messrs. Emery and Frank Dowcett, Sr.

$260 Million Savings Bank Life Insurance Now in Force

Clyde S. Casady, formerly executive secretary, has been elected as executive vice president of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, it is announced today. G. Churchill Francis, treasurer of the North Adams Savings Bank was reelected as president, and William B. Snow, Jr., president of the Suffolk Savings Bank, Boston, was reelected as vice president, of the Council. Stanley L. Brown, treasurer of the Cambridgeport Savings Bank, was elected treasurer of the Council.

Elected to the organization's executive committee this year were: Granville H. Beever, treasurer of the Cambridge Savings Bank, Edward P. Clark, treasurer of the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank and Joseph Earl Perry, president of the Newton Savings Bank.

It was reported at the annual meeting that more than $260,000,000 of Savings Bank Life Insurance is now in force, a new high total and an increase of approximately $12,000,000 since the close of the last fiscal year on October 31, 1944. It was also announced that a study is being made to determine the advisability of raising the limit of $10,000 of new life insurance on any one person, which was adopted at the beginning of the war.

Child, 2½, Drowns In Charles River

James Conant McDowell, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McDowell of 57 Evergreen avenue, Auburndale, was accidentally drowned in the Charles River on Thursday when he evidently fell from the float of the unoccupied Terminal Boathouse at the foot of Charles street, Riverside.

The child with a little two-year-old playmate had wandered away from home. When they were missed the police were notified and a search for them began. On the boathouse float they discovered the little boy's tricycle and the girl's shoes. The little girl was found nearby and when the boy was not found a search was made of the river.

Hubert F. Hatch of Evergreen avenue, a neighbor of the children, joined in the search diving several times into the river. About an hour later the body of the child was recovered by Patrolman John I. Boudrot of the Metropolitan Police and Patrolman Howard Carley of the Newton Police who used a rowboat of the Metropolitan District Commission in the search.

The child was taken to the Metropolitan Police Station where an effort was made to revive him. An inhalator crew of the Newton Fire Department was sent to the scene and members of the police force also lent assistance, but the child had been in the water too long for their efforts at resuscitation to help. He was pronounced dead at 3 p.m. by Medical Examiner Dr. T. Morton Gallagher who gave the cause of death as accidental drowning.

Reunion—

were most attractively decorated with flowers arranged under the direction of Mrs. Donald D. McKay, 1900 (Mabel Jones). Prominently displayed were the numerals of the the various classes as well as excellent large size reproductions of the original class pins. These suspended from standards made it easy to group the graduates by classes, and added further color to the setting.

While there was no head table, the center bar of the H was graced by the guest of honor, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall of 10 Hartford street, Newton Highlands, (the former Miss Teresa Glasheen), the beloved teacher who years ago struggled with the various graduates present in her endeavor to instill knowledge into them.

Mason H. Stone '99 of Newton acted as toastmaster and in humorous vein introduced the various class chairmen who in turn gave short sketches of their classmates who were present and who sent in historical notes. Husband and wives of classmates took bows and when the complete roll of those present had been read, it was evident that many had come great distances to join in this reunion ad to honor their former teacher.

Guy Spooner '99, from Joplin, Missouri, the winner of the long distance prize, regaled the group with incidents about his experiences coming to the reunion. Other out-of-town classamtes were Roy I. Atwood '98 from Albany, Fred Bryant '00 from New York, Mrs. Arthur Nash '97 (Karleen Forbes) from Boothbay Harbor, Mrs. Ruth Benton '00 (Ruth Peckham) from Moosup, Connecticut, and Dr. George C. King '01 from Fall River. Miss Marion H. Dorr '00 one of the hardest workers for the reunion came up from her summer gift shop in Chatham.

At this point Clarence E. Churchill, present principal of the Hyde School, who with his wife was a guest of the reunion, gave an interesting talk about the history of the school prior to and subsequent to the sojourn of these classes in it.

Herbert E. Gleason '98 of Quincy who was the originator of the idea of this reunion and who worked diligently for months to bring it to its successful completion, greeted Mrs. Marshall on behalf of the group and presented her with a hansome bag filled with some excellent steel engravings of past presidents of the United States, in the form of crisp new bills. The beloved teacher of these reunion classes, who was slender, white haired and as young looking as any of her former pupils responded to this token of their esteem in her characteristically sincere and modest manner. Her gracious, heartfelt remarks touched everyone present and more than ever endeared her to them.

The group was then entertained by a showing of old class pictures. These in groups and also as individual tintypes were thrown on a screen by Harold F. Kellogg '98, Boston, through the use of the unique radiopticon. Exclamations of surprise and frank astonishment were frequent as one after another of these pictures was recognized by someone in the group. Kenneth S. May '01 then showed some Kodachrome sildes of the exterior of the school and of his class reproduced from an original photograph. The naming of the individuals with their married names and whereabouts brought back old memories of good times in and out of school. Other slides shown gave glimpses of Newton views during various seasons of the year as well as pictures taken in and around Boston.

With Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy '00 (Mildred Levi) at the piano, the group joined in singing several of the old familiar songs, closing with Auld Lang Syne.

At eleven o'clock, even though many were far from talked out, this unique grammar school reunion broke up with the firm conviction of everyone that this had been a perfectly glorious day from beginning to end and all all too short. Before formally adjourning it was unanimously decided to take steps to form an organization to perpetuate this alumni association.

In addition to those previously mentioned, the following Newton residents were actively identified with planning for this reunion and greatly contributed to its success: Mrs. Fred G. Sandford '97 (Millie Bargdon), Harrison W. Mellen '00, Miss Miriam F. Bates '98, Henry E. Warren '97 and Mrs. Truman MacLean '98 (Mabel Sherman).

Quinobequin Society C.A.R.

Owing to the fact that Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, president general, N.S.D.A.R., was detained in Washington by business connected with her office, the reception in her honor, which was to have been given by Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D.A.R. on June 21, was cancelled.

Quinobequin Society, C.A.R., sponsored by Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D.A.R., was organized at the home of the Junior president, "Jack" Mease, 16 Fountain street, West Newton, by the State president, C.A.R., Mrs. Alvah N. Fisher, on Thursday, June 21, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Ernest F. Dow, organizing president, introduced Mrs. Fisher, who spoke of the work done by the Children of the American Revolution, and installed the officers of the newly organized society. Mrs. Fisher then appointed Mrs. Dow senior president and administered to her the oath of office.

Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Church of the Messiah and father of two of the new officers, opened the meeting with prayer. "Jack" Mease, newly elected Junior president, presented the society with the money for the charter, and called a meeting of the officers to discuss the raising of money for a flag.

SUNDAY, JULY 1

9 a.m. Communion service.

10.45 a.m. Union services, Sermon by Rev. H. Newton Clay.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, July 1, will be "Christian Science."

The Golden Text, "Lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees; and make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed" is from Hebrews 12:12,13. Other Bible citations include, "Verily, verily, I I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Our Master healed the sick, practised Christian healing, and taught the generalities of its divine Principle to his students; but he left no definite rule for demonstrating this Principle of healing and preventing disease. This rule remained to be discovered in Christian Science" (p. 147).

Eliot Church

4th, 1861. On Sunday morning, January 16th, 1887, it was destroyed by fire.

The corner stone of the third and present edifice to be built on the same site was laid on Fast Day, April 5th, 1888, and the building was dedicated on Memorial Day, May 30th, 1889.

During the week of October 14th - 21st this fall the church will celebrate Eliot's one hundred years of service in building a better world. Frank A. Day Jr., and Arthur H. Lord, co-chairman of the Anniversary, together with members of 12 committees have scheduled the following program:

Sunday, October 14th, at 10:30 o'clock anniversary service with Historical sermon by Dr. Eusden, dedication of memorials and gifts, and special music by the choir and quartet augmented by musicians of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Sunday, October 14th, at 7:45 o'clock, evening service with Dr. George A. Buttrick, former president of the Federal Council of Churches, author of many books, and minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, as guest preacher.

Tuesday, October 16th, at 7:45 o'clock, historical evening, highlighted by an address by Hon. Edwin O. Childs. The contents of a box held in the custody of Mr. Charles O. Billings since the dedication of the present edifice, 1889, which box was owned by Mr. Billings on April 5th, 1945 on the 57th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the present structure, will be displayed. A letter written by Mr. William A. Jackson in 1845 addressed to "The Christians on the Stage of Action in 1945" will be read. Greetings from the city and various churches will be extended. The evening will close with a reception in the chapel.

Friday, October 19th, at 7:45 o'clock, an historical pageant written and directed by Miss Bessie M. Stratton, will be presented.

Sunday, October 21st, at 10:30 o'clock, worship services with Dean Emeritus Charles R. Brown of Yale Divinity School as guest preacher. This service is in recognition of the 25th anniversary of Dr. Eusden's ordination to the ministry.

Sunday, October 21st, at 7:45 o'clock, the 100th anniversary Communion Service with reception of new members.

Observes 80th Birthday

Miss Annie Sanford Head, founder and first Regent of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., celebrated her eightieth birthday very quietly at her present residence, 30 Osborne road, Brookline, on June 23.

Miss Head is the great-great-granddaughter of the Lydia for whom she named the Chapter, twenty-five years ago.

Although a shut-in, Miss Head is not inactive. She is an expert knitter, averaging one hundred hours a month of work for the British War Relief; she reads many books and magazines and carries on a voluminous correspondence.

She was so generously remembered by her many friends that she reported it the best birthday she has ever had.

Joseph P. Kennedy Speaks On Proposed State Dept. of Commerce

Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the special commission studying Gov. Maurice J. Tobin's proposal for a State Department of Commerce today expressed amazement at the extent to which some states have gone in holding their industries and the "raids" they are making on other states.

"When I got into this thing I was amazed to find out just how far states like New York and Pennsylvania have gone to try to hold business in their states," he said. "They have no qualms, at all, about raiding other states trying to get others in, and Pennsylvania started the formation of a committee to try to keep their manufacturers there."

Mr. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain and internationally-known business man, spoke briefly in opening a State House conference with Massachusetts publishers and editors, invited to discuss the proposed department and express their views, in general, on industrial and business problems.

Gov. Tobin also appeared before the group and pledged that the approach to setting up the proposed Department of Commerce would be "absolutely non-political" and that any appointments which he may make "will be of men and, possibly women, of the finest mental attainments, who can make the best contribution to the future prosperity of Massachusetts."

"On any figures we have looked into, we have found there are about 220,000 war jobs in this state, and there are about 450,000 boys coming home who are going to be looking for work.

"About 65 percent of the industrial plants in this state are working on war jobs," Mr. Kennedy said. "In the transition period there will be a lot of people looking for work, and we do not need to tell any of you the problem that will cause in this state.

"One of two things will happen. Either the boys cannot get jobs here, if the industries decide to go elsewhere, which will cause great discontent, and a great deal of trouble, or we can do something to meet the problem."

Mr. Kennedy spoke of the constitutional limitation on the number of departments, and expressed the opinion that placing a commerce agency into some other department would not be satisfactory.

Gov. Tobin told the group he was confident that the commission would make recommendations to the Legislature that would help the state solve a problem 'that has been bothering us for quite some time.'

"I don't need to tell the gentlemen here of the importance to a community of the exodus of industry. Our textiles suffered in the depression period, and you all know what the loss of a single industry means. I think you know about the attempt being made to attract industries from Massachusetts and the other New England states . .

"When you consider the number of employees in war industries in Massachusetts today, and the number of men in the uniform of our country who will be released from the armed services, and the number who have already been released, you can see the tremendous problem we will have in the post-war period.

"Some of the plants will disappear, never to be heard of again. That will apply to many shipbuilding yards along our coast. It will apply to many ammunition manufacturing plants. It is a tremendous job. That will be the real problem in the post-war period."

Public Relations Office

Lake Placid Club, N. Y. (For Immediate Release): Increasing numbers of overseas veterans who were liberated from German prisoner of war camps started to flow into the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station at Lake Placid Club this past week for processing. Among them was 1st Sgt. Leroy O. Coleman of Newton, whose dramatic story typifies the experences that so many of our captured solders underwent.

Sgt. Coleman landed in France on D-day with the 29th Division. His patrol spent the first day chasing snipers, and they were about two miles inland when the Germans cut them off during the night. Captured on June 7, the soldiers were marched for four days without food except for what bits of bread the French threw them along the way.

They arrived at a collecting point which they called Starvation Hill, for all they got there each day during a two weeks' stay was a small cup of milk at 11 a.m. and a bowl of soup at 12 noon, only the soup was water with a few leaves in it. They got so weak that they could hardly climb stairs.

After staying in six different prison camps Coleman was liberated by a Russian task force. They were caught between German and Russian fire and had to dig tunnels under the floor for protection. There were over 2,000 prisoners at that camp, and they broke up into small groups of 10 to 15 men and made their way back through Russian lines in any manner they could manage.

Hospital—

000 will be conducted in two phases, it was said. The first phase, which began Tuesday night with the announcement of the complete plan to members of a large sponsoring committee, is to consist of a presentation of the community need for more adequate hospital facilities to individuals and corporations.

The second phase is to consist of a general public campaign for subscriptions several months from now.

Neil Leonard, a member of the board of Trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital and chairman of its building fund program, presided at the dinner which was featured by remarks by Mayor Paul M. Goddard of Newton and Moderator Marshall G. Bolster of Wellesley and speeches by Mr. Leonard, Mr. Walker, Dr. Frank R. Clark, chairman of the executive committee of the medical staff of the hospital, Frank L. Richardson, chairman of the committee on corporation subscriptions, and Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, chairman of the memorial gifts committee.

The invocation was given by Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough of Second Church, West Newton.

All speakers emphasized the postwar need for a larger hospital and for expanded equipment. They called attention to the growing tendency of industry and commerce to contribute the support of community hospitals, and told of the benefits which would accrue to the Newton-Wellesley area from an expanded hospital.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Leonard said that the trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital have long realized the necessity for the enlargement of the hospital's facilities. "The purpose of this meeting," he said, "is to place before you, as representative citizens of the communities served by the hospital, the problems which confront those of us who are responsible for the operation of Newton-Wellesley Hospital and to offer a solution.

"We look to this group for leadership," he added, "and we are sure we will find it."

Mr. Walker spoke in detail of specific needs for greater accommodations and more modern equipment. "The compelling need at the moment," he said, "is more room for private and semi-private patients. We have been turning away patients again and again and again. If we were to encounter a serious epidemic or a major catastrophe, we would have no accommodations in which to care for those who were afflicted."

Mr. Walker then paid tribute to the efforts of volunteer workers at the hospital. "More than 1,200 men and women," he said, "have been giving their time and energy to help us run the hospital. One of our needs is more adequate quarters for these workers."

Stating that the trustees did not base their decisions entirely on their own judgment, Mr. Walker explained that a nationally known advisor to hospitals was invited to come to Newton and made a thorough study of the hospital situation. "The report which resulted confirmed our opinions in every way," Mr. Walker said, "and made our decision inescapable if we were to give the people of these communities the health protection which is vital to their safety and well-being."

Mr. Walker outlined briefly the many features of the building program and explained the benefits which would be derived by all citizens from the successful completion of the expansion project. "We are sure the need exists," he concluded, "and we are sure that with the help of such a splendid group of men and women as are here tonight the need can and will be met."

Dr Clark voiced the doctors' endorsement of the movement to enlarge and modernize the hospital and predicted that the present need of Newton and Wellesley for additional hospital facilities would be even greater after the war.

"The private and semi-private accommodations within our hospital had an average occupancy last year of 95 percent. We consider the maximum occupancy which will afford a margin for unexpected demands to be 80 percent. Thus it can be seen that our record last year insofar as these accommodations for private and semi-private patients were concerned was 15 percentage points higher than the generally accepted maximum."

Newton-Wellesley Hospital, according to Dr. Clark, has been called upon to serve far beyond its rated capacity. "Because of lack of accommodations the hospital and its medical staff have been forced to choose, as between one patient and another, which shall have the protection, the treatment and the care which only a hospital can supply."

Pointing out that the cost of constructing a hospital is necessarily high, Dr. Clark explained that only a small proportion of the space in a hospital is devoted to beds for patients. "A high percentage of space," he said, "is alocated to operating rooms, laboratories, service rooms, waiting rooms, nurses' quarters and all other indispensable adjuncts of a modern hospital."

Dr. Clark praised the attitude of the hospital's board of trustees which he characterized as "alert and responsive to the public's needs." In conclusion he pledged the support of the doctors to a building fund campaign which might "enable the hospital to care for all who may, at any time, need its services."

Speaking on the subject, "Newton's Responsibility," Mayor Goddard paid tribute to the board of trustees who, he said, "give generously of their time and abilities in order that our hospital may offer a service which is complete and is comparable to that obtainable in communities far larger than Newton."

Describing the building program as one worthy of the best efforts of Newton citizens, Mayor Goddard said he was confident that the project would be carried to a successful conclusion because "the people of Newton never fail."

Marshall G. Bolster, moderator of the Town of Wellesley, said that the people of that town "accept with pride their partnership in the hospital. The citizens of Wellesley," he added, "will be able and valiant partners in this movement to fulfill what is clearly a community obligation."

Frank L. Richardson, a former president of the Board of Trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, said that every man, woman and child in Newton and Wellesley is entitled to the benefits of hospital service.

"Newton-Wellesley Hospital is a voluntary, democratic enterprise," he said. "As such, it faces a challenge, for unless the public demand is met, a weakness will be admitted in our democratic form of life, and we shall emphasize the need of centralized government control.

"This building fund campaign," Mr. Richardson concluded, "is not only a challenge to meet a community need, but it is a challenge to prove that our American way of life is the successful one."

Mrs. Saltonstall reviewed the early history of the hospital, and said that she had been a member of its Board of Trustees for over forty years.

"It is up to all of us," Mrs. Saltonstall said, "to make this campaign a success, and when we do, I am sure we shall have one of our finest hospitals in New England."

Mrs. Saltonstall urged all members of the Citizens' Committee to take an active part in organizing the groups which will carry on the work of the building fund movement.

"Every man, woman and child in this area," Mrs. Saltonstall added, "should feel it a privilege to make their contribution to this vital undertaking."

Mr. Leonard announced that associate chairmen who will serve with Mrs. Saltonstall on the Memorial Gifts Committee are: Albert P. Everts, Maynard Hutchinson, Joseph B. Jamieson and Hon. Sinclair Weeks.
